"Berai Canal Project.—The repeated failure of seasonable rains and the recurrence of famine or scarcity of food, bring the question of Irrigation into prominence; and I submit that it is the paramount duty of the Government to come to the protection of the people, by providing Irrigation Canals, wherever practicable. In this connection, I desire to draw Your Honour's attention to the disappointment with which the reply of the Government was received by the inhabitants of fifty-five villages in the Bankura district, who prayed for the construction of a Canal from the river Berai, offering to pay water rates for the supply of water to their fields. It has been said in reply that the Canal cannot be remunerative, but surely the water-rate can be so fixed as to make the Canal pay its way, and, as the matter has not yet been finally disposed of, I earnestly hope that Your Honour's Government will see its way to comply with the prayer of the people.

"Health Resort.—Large sums of money have been spent for providing a Health Resort at Frasergunge. Last year, I ventured to appeal to Your Honour to provide a Health Resort for the Indians at Diamond Harbour. This station is within easy reach of Calcutta and is a healthy place, where my wearied and jaded countrymen may easily repair at week's end, for relaxation and invigoration. The place is full of pits or hollows and rank vegetation, and it is the khasmahal property of Government. What is necessary is, to fill up those hollows where water stagnates and to remove the weeds. The place, being on the river side, affords special facilities for drainage. The money spent on the improvement of the place will bring good return to Government, as I am sure the land will be largely availed of by my countrymen for building sites. This is a matter which I have been urged by my countrymen to lay before Your Honour. The Hon'ble Mr. Collins responded sympathetically to my appeal last year, but nothing has yet been done to improve the place. Knowing well how great an interest Your Honour takes, in the matter of the establishment of health resorts for the people, I once more appeal to Your Honour to make a suitable grant for the improvement of Diamond Harbour, and the construction of a commodious rest house, for which my countrymen will always remember your name with gratitude.

"I cannot conclude my remarks on this subject without offering the warmest thanks of my community to my hon'ble friend, the Maharaja-Dhiraj of Burdwan, for the spirited appeal he has made to Your Honour for the establishment of a Sanitarium at Pareshnath for the enfeebled and sickly poor middle class, and the munificent offer of one lackh of rupees for that purpose.

"Calcutta Municipality.—As regards the Municipality, the time has come to amend the Act. The constitution is unworkable and experience has shown that it should be re-cast on a more popular basis, so as to give adequate representation to the people and wider scope to the usefulness of their representatives. The functions of the three Co-ordinate Authorities overlap, and the functions of the Corporation are encroached upon by the other Authorities. The work is so enormous that it is impossible for even a hard-working Chairman, like Sir Charles Allen, to discharge his duties without the help and co-operation of the Commissioners; and, in this connection, I cannot but refer to the valuable services of some of the European Commissioners, and conspicuous amongst them are the Members of the Trade and the Chamber. The Municipality is the only place where the European and the Indian work hand in hand from year's end to year's end; and the relations between them, in spite of occasional and some times marked differences of opinion, are on the whole of a cordial character. The Chairman, when he is not in agreement with his Colleagues, asserts his power as a Co ordinate Authority and this results in friction, as has been recently the case.

"It has also been found by experience and suggested in the Corporation that the President of the Corporation and of the General Committee should be, as in Bombay, a member of the Corporation and not the head of the Executive.

"It has been likewise found that the constitution of the General Committee, with four elected and eight nominated Commissioners, with an official Chairman, renders the voice of the rate-payers ineffectual in its deliberations.

"The Decentralization Scheme, introduced by the Hon'ble Mr. Greer whom his numerous friends are glad to welcome back to Calcutta and to this Council, resulted in the division of Calcutta into four districts. District Officers, with separate staff, with miniature reproduction of executive heads and with a miniature Corporation in the District Committees, were established. Unfortunately, full scope has not yet been given to their usefulness. What Mr. Greer wanted was to relieve the Corporation of the enormous mass of local works and local details, by referring them to District Committees, and to leave the major operation in the hands of the Corporation. But that is not done. Local matters are decided by the General Committee or other Committees, either without reference to the District Committee to which these appertain or without a proper consideration of its recommendations. In fact, the District Committee is now more a nominal than a really useful body. Your Honour was pleased to state, three years ago, that you had appointed a representative Committee to advise you on the subject of Decentralization, and that you were awaiting their report. May I inquire whether the report of the Committee has been received, and, if so, whether Your Honour has dealt with the matter?

"Quite recently, Your Honour has expressed your satisfaction with the completion of continuous Water-supply in the town proper. I am afraid Your Honour had no full information on the subject; and, as a matter of fact, in several parts of the town, there is no water available in house-taps during mid-day, while there is a profusion of water at night. The law, regulating the supply of water at Re. 1 per 4,000 gallons, causes great hardship to small house-owners with large families, and on this point it requires amendment. This restriction, in the use of filtered water, leads the people to have recourse to unfiltered water for domestic consumption, which conduces to the outbreak of disease. By all means, stringent measures should be taken to prevent waste; but liberal provision should be made for supply of water per head of population. Waste, however, should not be confounded with legitimate use of water in a tropical climate.

"The revision of assessment of Residential Houses has raised quite a storm of opposition in the City. I need hardly recapitulate the old arguments that the distinction in the method of taxation, between residential and rented houses, is wrong in principle, and which does not prevail anywhere else and has been condemned by eminent economists. Residential houses, unlike rented houses, are unproductive holdings, and enhancement of the assessment every six years has produced profound discontent in the City. When the present law, fixing 5 per cent. as the basis of valuation on the sum obtained by adding together the cost of construction of the building and the value of the land was introduced, the interest on Government securities was 4 per cent. and of the securities of the local authorities 5 per cent. The interest has now been reduced to 4 and 3½ per cent., and even to 3 per cent. I submit the 5 per cent. ought to be reduced to 3½ per cent.; and that the necessary sanitary improvement of the house must not be taxed, as it hinders the execution of sanitary works for fear of additional taxation. In the same way, the open spaces attached to boná fide dwelling houses, which serve as the lungs of the City, should be immune from taxation, as an encouragement to keep such open spaces. A good healthy house is not only needed for healthful existence of the occupants thereof, but is also a boon to the neighbours. May I express a hope that Your Honour will kindly consider this question in a sympathetic spirit. The rate-payers recently made a representation to the Chairman in connection with the revision of assessment of the City, and I am glad to state that they are grateful to Sir Charles Allen for the patient and sympathetic hearing he gave to them; and it is earnestly hoped, by the vast mass of the rate-payers, that the sympathy of Sir Charles Allen will be a practical turn.

"Calcutta Police Court.—I find that two lakhs is entered in the budget for the acquisition of Duff College, for the accommodation of the local Police. I think, having regard to the present condition of our finances, this expenditure might have been avoided and the money so saved might have been spent in sanitary improvements of the villages in the Mufassal. While so thoughtful and liberal a provision has been made for the local Police, who are not without a house, no provision has been made for the improvement and extension of the Calcutta Police Court. A more insanitary and incommodious public building does not exist in Calcutta. The Honorary Benches are located in dark and dingy cells, where, even in blazing noonday, the Courts are inaccessible to light. The Stipendiary Court rooms are, no doubt, much better than the Honorary Court rooms, but the building is a disgrace to the City, and it was never intended when built to accommodate so many Courts. I wonder the Municipal Executive, who are so keen in closing or demolishing over-crowded, ill-ventilated and insanitary poor men's dwellings, have shut their eyes to this over-crowded, insanitary and ill-ventilated structure. I hear that the Hon'ble the Chief Secretary has visited the building, and the public should be glad to know what he thinks of the building and the accommodation therein.

"I have described the condition of the Honorary Magistrates' rooms. I now turn to the treatment accorded to them. By degrees, their position has been reduced to a nullity. Formerly, there were two Stipendiary Magistrates; now these are five, including the Municipal Magistrate. In the days of Messrs. Marsden and Pearson, the Honorary Benches were treated on the same footing as the Stipendiary Benches. They were freely given cases to try. Now, the cases have been largely withheld from them and placed in the hands of the Stipendiary Magistrates. They are invited to attend. They call in response to the invitation, but not unoften they have to dance attendance in the Chamber till a mandate comes: 'No case, you may go.' The Honorary Magistrate, who is only consoled while getting into his carriage by a Military salam from a solitary parawalla at the gate, has then to wend his way homeward or officeward.

"Formerly, there was a Library of references consisting of Law Reports and law books and volumes of the Calcutta Gazette, for the use of the Honorary Magistrates. I understand they have been disposed of. When required for reference on the Bench, a tattered copy of an old edition of the Criminal Procedure Code or the Indian Penal Code, with stray pages of the text, is obtained with some difficulty. Having regard to this state of things, the question naturally arises whether the object of all this is to keep up the semblance, of a show, which may flatter one's self-complacency but which will never serve any useful purpose. I have ventured to lay before Your Honour the facts, with perfect frankness, in the firm confidence that they may be set right by Your Honour. I would strongly urge that the post of Fourth Magistrate be not made permanent. It is wholly unnecessary if the services of the Honorary Magistrates, some of whom are not called at all or called at long intervals, are utilized. The money so saved can be well spent in other directions. I am glad to observe that the Government has been pleased to provide in the budget for payment of the establishment charges of the Municipal Magistrate's Court, which had hitherto been realized from the Corporation of Calcutta. I thank Your Honour for this just decision, and trust the back amounts realized under misapprehension will be remitted to the Corporation.

"Police.—I find the charges, for maintaining the Police Force in Benga, are steadily increasing every year. Since 1904-05, they have risen from Rs. 51,57,000 to Rs. 77,63,000, being the amount entered in the budget of the present year. This includes a lump sum provision of Rs. 40,000 for the Presidency Police, and Rs. 3,60,000 for the District Police. I do not grudge this large expenditure, but, at the same time, I must say that there has not been any thing like a corresponding measure of improvement in the administration of the Police, which was hoped for when the recommendations of the Police Commission were made. My observation is chiefly with reference to the Presidency Police of Calcutta, and I believe I give expression to a consensus of public opinion, both European and Indian, when I say that the Police of Calcutta, generally speaking, has not improved in efficiency and behaviour. At the same time, I readily acknowledge that there are individual members of the force, both high and low, who would do credit to any service. The reform of the Calcutta Police is one of the most important subjects, in connection with the question of the general reform of the Police Administration in Bengal. More than three years have passed away since the Resolution on the report of the Police Commission was issued. Your Honour, as President of the Commission, advocated some reforms of the Calcutta Police. Our expectation that, as Head of the Provincial Government, Your Honour would speedily introduce those reforms, has unfortunately not yet been realized.

"The Police Commission recommended that the present class of Superintendents of the Calcutta Police should be abolished, their place being taken by a small number of officers of the rank of the District Superintendent, who should be deputed for duty in the City. As yet, only one Superintendent has been replaced by a member of the Provincial Police Force.

"The Police Commission condemned the practice of Head constables investigating cases. From my own experience as a citizen, I find head-constables, whose salary varies from Rs. 17 to Rs. 25 a month, are sent out to investigate cases. As a matter of fact, the investigation by the head-constable generally passes as the investigation of the Inspector, and is acted upon by the Commissioner in the disposal of cases. The higher officers, such as the Inspector and Superintendent, merely act as post-offices between the head-constable and the Police Commissioner. In the interest of the public, the investigation must not be left to those low-paid and unqualified officers. The Inspector or the Sub-Inspector of a thana ought to do this work himself, specially when he is granted conveyance allowance by the Government. In days gone by, when the Chairman of the Corporation was the head of the City Police there was close and intimate association with the Head of the Police and the leaders of the community, which not a little helped him in the discharge of his duties. The people knew him and he knew the people, and there was then that great forbearance, mildness, courtesy and perfect civility with which the Police treated the people of all classes and sects, and any deviation from which was severely dealt with by the Head of the Police. Under the present system, a Commissioner of Police, even with an earnest desire to ascertain public opinion or feeling, has not the same opportunity of doing so as when he was in touch with representatives of the people in his capacity as Chairman of the Corporation.

"Sir, I wish the Police had maintained the same reputation which it had in those days. The regrettable incidents of the 3rd and 4th October last have sunk into the hearts of the people; nothing tends more to alienate the people from their Rulers than their ill-treatment by the Police. It is the most effective instrument to destroy all good feelings between the rulers and the ruled. The people, the vast majority of whom are non-political, suffered because of their nationality. The Police betrayed an animus against the Bengali populace, mercilessly and indiscriminately assaulting them, inflicting grievous wounds and even causing death to a poor handicraftsman while proceeding to the market. The people approached Your Honour for redress, and nothing would have secured greater public confidence in the proceedings of the Government than an inquiry by a mixed Commission, consisting of Officials and Non-officials, according to the established procedure; but, unfortunately, the prayer of the whole nation was not acceded to. The people unfortunately felt that there was that marked lack of sympathy with the Bengali nation, which was the root of all their trouble. On this point, Mr. Weston also spoke of a possible want of sympathy with the Bengali race. Whatever may be the differences between the Government and some of our political writers and speakers, I submit that such differences ought not to create a temper of mind in the responsible authorities, which might be construed as a rising from want of sympathy with the Bengali nation. Such an impression defeats the very object which the Government has at heart, viz., to secure the loyalty and willing allegiance of the people. Loyalty proceeds from the heart. It is not generated by force and ill-treatment. The greater the sympathy—genuine and practical sympathy—the greater will be the love and affection of the people.

"Whatever may be said by certain thoughtless persons the people recognize the manifold blessings of British rule. Britain may justly be proud of the aspirations of my countrymen, which are the logical outcome of the progressive policy of that rule. No Indian at heart wishes for a change of British rule, whatever may be the language of certain irresponsible individuals which we all condemn, and which proceeds more from exasperated feelings than from inmost conviction. The foolish and insensate writings of irate scribblers cause amusement rather than mischief; but the lawless and oppressive acts of the Police are calculated to sap the foundations of that contentment and confidence in the Government which constitute its strength and bulwark. As an humble citizen, I can assure Your Honour that, from the highest to the lowest, the feeling brought about by the conduct of the Police and their exoneration by the Government have been one of bitter disappointment and dissatisfaction. Your Honour has been addressed by the Head of the Provincial Police as the 'Friend of the Police,' for the benefits the Department has received at Your Honour's hands. But I am sure Your Honour will appreciate more the title of 'Friend and Protector' of the people, which a grateful community, like ours, will gladly bestow upon their Ruler. It is a high title of which a Ruler may justly be proud, and if I have ventured to give expression to the feelings of the mass of my countrymen I have done so because I think a true friend of the people cannot disregard them. I recognize the embarassment which has been caused to Government, by the surging wave of discontent in the land. I regret to observe that, during the last few years, the estrangement between the rulers and the ruled has become great. But while it is the duty of every loyal subject to try to smooth the friction between the people and the Government, it is, at the same time, the duty of the Government to strengthen his hands by a sympathetic dealing with the people and by reposing great trust and confidence in them. The times are so changed that true statesmanship enjoins a sympathetic treatment of the people with a scrupulous regard for their sentiment.

"No doubt force and repression may wipe out the manifestation of discontent on the surface for a time, but the disease will never be eradicated. It will sink deeper and deeper like a cankerous sore. Such a state of things can never be contemplated with equanimity. Fortunately, the vast majority of people believe that, whatever may be the views and idiosyncracies of some of the official representatives of the great British nation, the heart of that great nation is sound to the core; and that there is no nation, on the face of the earth, more freedom-loving and justice-loving than the British. By the gracious dispensation of Providence, our lot has been placed in their hands and may it continue in their hands.

"I cannot forbear alluding to the admirable result which ensue from the trust reposed in the people and non-interference with them. The Ardhodoy Joga is an instance in point. Under the inspiration of Your Honour, the Police refrained from interfering with the people on that occasion. How admirably the volunteers, most of whom belong to high caste families, managed the vast concourse of the people, helping the poor, the aged, the decrepit and the forlorn, ministering to the sick and even carrying the corpses to the funeral pyre, is well-known to Your Honour. There has arisen, during recent years, a keen desire on the part of the people to serve their fellow-countrymen and their motherland, and to undergo all privations to attain that object. The Ardhodoy Joga has shown that non-interference with this legitimate and laudable ambition of the people serves not only to dissipate much misunderstanding and discord, but invokes reciprocal appreciation of kindly feelings between the Government and the people. There may be now and then occasional indiscretions, which none deplore more than I do; but that occurs in every clime and every country in the world, in the East or in the West. Unfortunately, there is a tendency in India to magnify such cases into political crimes. But, in the interest of good Government, they ought to be prevented, and I know it is the endeavour of the leaders of the people to prevent them. I pray Your Honour will also inculcate a spirit of forbearance and sympathy towards the Bengalis into your Officers, so that the irritation, ill-feeling and friction engendered by misunderstanding on both sides may pass away."

The Hon'ble SIR CHARLES ALLEN said:—"Your Honour—The first matter with reference to the Corporation, which calls for notice, arises from the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour's remarks with reference to the Improvement Trust; and especially his observation that, during the last ten years, practically nothing has been done for the sanitation and improvement of the City. I do not know what precise significance the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour attaches to this statement. If he means that nothing has been done to open up congested areas, by the construction of broad roads and open spaces, I am with him; for these are operations demanding a heavy expenditure, which it is not within the power of the Corporation, to meet without neglecting the other duties devolving upon it. But the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour appears to go very much further than this, when he says that nothing has been done during the past ten years, for the improvement and sanitation of the City; and it is the more necessary for me to notice this observation, as it is a repetition of a somewhat similar statement recently made in the Imperial Legislative Council.

"I think it probable that some confusion may exist owing to a misconception of the scope of the Improvement Trust, which, as Your Honour pointed out in Council, will not in any way relieve the Corporation of any of its ordinary duties, in connection with the improvement and sanitation of the City. What the Improvement Trust will do, will be to raise the large sums of money which are required for the purchase of land in the congested wards of the City, for the construction of wide thoroughfares and open spaces; but all the ordinary municipal duties, in connection with water-supply, drainage, road repairs, conservancy and lighting will continue to devolve as heretofore upon the Corporation.

"I now proceed to examine the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour's statement that nothing, or practically nothing, has been done during the past ten years for the improvement and sanitation of the City; and I shall endeavour to controvert this assertion in the only way open to me, by summarizing briefly what has actually been done. In doing so, I shall confine my remarks to the eight years which have elapsed since April, 1900, when the present Municipal Act came into force. The field covered by the improvements, carried out during even these eight years, is an extensive one, as the Council will gather when I inform them that the capital expenditure upon works of sanitation and improvement during that period, amounts to one crore and 44 lakhs, a figure which does not include the cost of the new municipal offices, which would swell it to considerably over a million sterling. I do not propose to weary my hon'ble colleagues by a lengthy recital of the voluminous details comprised in this list, but shall merely draw attention to a few salient items.

"Take drainage for example. At a cost of 41 lakhs, we have completed the drainage of the suburbs east and south of the city, extending from Sealdah on the north to the limits of Calcutta on the south, and west as far as Tolly's Nullah; the area comprising Belliaghatta, Entally, Ballygunge and Bhowanipore. The improvement which has taken place in the area drained has been most marked, many miles of roadside drains, which were formerly merely elongated cess-pools, having been relieved into the sewers. Another feature of this work has been the improvement of the city storm-water outfall, by the construction of huge reservoirs which prevent the outlets from becoming tide-locked, and by the installation of additional pumping power at Palmer's Bridge, to deal with the sewage and flush water.

"After drainage, the most important sanitary requirement is pure drinking water, and here, although the most prominent features of the new water scheme have still to be carried out, a great deal has been done to prepare the way for it, by a systematic examination of all mains and connections throughout the city, with a view to check leakage and waste. Large arterial mains have also been substituted for the smaller pipes, which formerly choked the supply to the suburbs. Additional filters have been constructed and new pumps installed where needed, while the reservoir accommodation has been increased. Last, but not least, the supply of filtered water to the city has been increased by about 30 per cent. The effect of all these measures has been to improve the supply, in spite of the rapidity with which the population has increased; and the capital expenditure involved has been no less than 45 lakhs.

"I have said that the cost of constructing wide thoroughfares through the congested parts of the city involves so heavy an expenditure that it cannot be undertaken on a large scale from ordinary municipal funds; but the Corporation has not meanwhile been neglectful of its duty in this respect, as is shown by the fact that the expenditure, during the period, upon new roads in the suburbs and for opening up bustees, has been 19 lakhs. Nor has the improvement of the city thoroughfares been overlooked, for we have spent 3¾ lakhs on kerb and channelling, and 3½ lakhs on the paving of footpaths; while Indian patent stone hackney-carriage stands have been constructed on an extensive scale.

"Much useful work has been done in improving the conservancy, which was formerly sadly neglected. Four fine ranges of stabling, one in each of the districts, have replaced the old inadequate accommodation; while the equipment of animals and carts has been greatly strengthened. The result is that an afternoon service has been organized throughout the city, and the streets are kept much cleaner than they ever were before; while the animals are no longer overworked. The expenditure involved, in these improvements and in the construction of an incinerator, has been nearly ten lakhs.

"Great attention has been paid to the improvement of the public markets, slaughter-houses and dhobikhanas, and these have now been put into first-rate condition at a cost of 8 lakhs; and, among other improvements, I may mention the provision of new burial-grounds, the construction of a crematorium, and the improvement of burning-ghâts at a cost of 3½ lakhs; while 5¾ lakhs has been spent on the provision and improvement of squares, Rs. 54,000 upon an up-to-date vaccine depôt, which turns out admirable lymph, and nearly a lakh upon public conveniences.

"This list takes no account of the conspicuous improvement which has resulted from the pressure put upon owners to improve filthy and insanitary bustees, a large number of which have been mended or ended within the last few years.

"At the risk of wearying the Council, I have thought it desirable to place on record a statement, which, while it cannot pretend to be exhaustive, has, I hope, nevertheless convinced my colleagues that the new Corporation has not been idle during the past eight years; and I claim that the record of improvements, which I have sketched in barest outline, is one of which any city might well be proud.

"In the face of all these improvements it is surprising that my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal, should come here and tell us that the Act is unworkable. I fear this is an instance of the wish being father to the thought, and that my hon'ble friend condemns the present constitution, because it does not give him, and the class he represents, all the power they would like to exercise. He informs us that when the Chairman is not in agreement with the Commissioners, he asserts his power as a co-ordinate authority, and this results in friction as has been the case recently. My colleague is referring to a case, which arose out of an inquiry into the conduct of some municipal subordinates, the question being whether the charges made should be investigated by the Corporation, or by myself. My hon'ble friend is not correct when he suggests that, in that matter, I was not in agreement with the Commissioners; for I was in full accord with them in the determination to punish any persons who might be proved guilty of corrupt practice. Moreover, so far from this case proving that the Act is unworkable, it points to a diametrically opposite conclusion; for nothing could be more workable than the provision in the Act, that differences of opinion on the question of jurisdiction should be referred, as this one is to be, to the Local Government for final decision.

"I do not propose to follow the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal and the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari in their proposals for the amendment of the Act, as the Corporation has recently appointed a Committee to consider this very question; and the matters which they bring forward can, at the present time, be more suitably discussed in that Committee.

"I am glad to find my hon'ble colleague anxious that District Committees should enjoy larger scope, as I am in sympathy with this desire. The Corporation has, however, gone as far as the law permits in the direction of delegating authority to these District Committees; and no further devolution can take place under the existing Act. This limitation does not, however, prevent the District Committees from doing most useful work.

"I do not, however, find myself in agreement with him in what he says about the water-supply. It is certainly a matter for satisfaction that the heavy work of repairing leaky mains, of laying larger mains where necessary, of fixing waste water-meters and stop-cocks, of bringing waste under control and of repairing leaky fittings and connections, has been completed in the town proper; for these operations form a necessary preliminary to the introduction of the constant supply. Their completion has rendered it possible to maintain a continuous pressure in the mains, which, while it is insufficient to yield a supply to the houses throughout the 24 hours, yet plays a most valuable part in preventing the ingress of foul sub-soil water into the pipes. All this work has for years been described under the phrase of 'conversion of the intermittent to the constant supply,' a phrase which has been respeatedly defined, and with which all who are acquainted with the subject are perfectly familiar. As a matter of fact, the Government letter referred to by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal merely quoted this phrase from my Annual Report, where its use elicited no comment from the Commissioners, for the reason that they perfectly well understood it. It has never been claimed that a constant supply has in fact been introduced into the houses, and I do not understand that Your Honour's Government has been under any misapprehension in this matter; indeed, Your Honour has recently sanctioned the scheme which is necessary to make the constant supply a reality.

"As regards the charges for excess consumption of water, there are no doubt cases where a poor family of many members consumes more than the maximum allowed free without wasting it, and such cases are met in practice by cancelling bills for excess consumption, when it does not exceed a reasonable quantity per head per day. It is useless to shut out eyes to the fact that an immense quantity of wilful waste of water doe take place; nevertheless, I have no doubt that any practical proposal which, while not interfering with the prevention of wilful waste, would secure a gratuitous supply of sufficient filtered water to all classes of the population, would receive careful consideration.

"I now turn to the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal's remarks about the revision of assessment of Residential Houses. The method of assessing residential houses, which was introduced in 1889, has always been unpopular, and recent assessments in two of the northern wards have given rise to much discussion. I have upon two occasions received deputations on the subject, and have endeavoured to meet the wishes of the rate-payers as far as possible. The appeals against the assessments are heard by the Vice-Chairman, an officer of great experience in these matters; and the assessees, if dissatisfied with his decisions, have a right of appeal to the Small Cause Court. I have recently given the assessees an opportunity of selecting specific cases at their pleasure, in which they believe that the assessments have been too high; and I have promised to make an independent inquiry into them if they do so, but they have not yet availed themselves of my offer.

"In this connection, I must observe that my hon'ble friend's argument that because the rate of interest on Government securities has fallen, therefore the rate of 5 per cent. on the valuation at which the annual value is calculated should be correspondingly reduced, is not a sound contention.

"As Mr. Baker pointed out in Council on the 18th September, 1899: 'the rate of interest on Government Securities has nothing to do with the matter. The true principle is that capital invested in house property always, in the long run, expects to receive the same return, whether it be invested in rented houses or in residential houses; and if, for any reason, it does not get that return, it will not be invested at all.' Now, it is a matter of common knowledge, that house rents are rising, and theoretically, therefore, the rate of 5 per cent. ought to be increased rather than reduced. So far then from being correct is my hon'ble friend's contention that owners of residential houses are unfairly penalized by the percentage not having been reduced, that they have actually derived a benefit in comparison with the owners of rented houses, from the fact that the rate has remained unchanged. As evidence of this, as well as of the leniency with which residential houses are treated in comparison with rented houses, I may observe that, in Ward VI, the recent assessment yielded an increase of only 19 per cent. in the case of residential houses, as compared with 35 per cent. for rented premises.

"With regard to what the hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has said upon the subject of the enforcement, at the instance of the Corporation, of the provisions of the amended Calcutta Police Act, I venture to suggest that the Corporation is more likely to take action in this matter if it receives a reasonable recommendation from a public association, or from responsible private individuals interested in the matter. If any such representation reaches me, I will undertake that it shall receive the fullest consideration at the hands of the Corporation."

The Hon'ble MR. COLLIN said:—"Your Honour—On behalf of the Commission appointed under the Smoke Nuisances Act, I desire to refer to the remarks of the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal, that Calcutta has not yet derived any tangible benefit from the operation of that Act. The Act has now been in force for two years, though the rules, which make it effective, did not come into force until last August. During the two years, Inspectors have been at work. Thanks largely to the co-operation of the Mill-Owners and the improvements which they have introduced into their furnaces, the amount of black smoke emitted from factory chimneys has been greatly reduced. In 1906, the observations of the Inspectors showed that dense black smoke was emitted for about 13 minutes per hour during the day. It is now emitted for only 2½ minutes per hour. The legal limit of smoke emission is now seldom exceeded, except in the mornings when furnaces are being lighted up; and in the evenings when additional power is required for electric lighting in factories. Since 1906, mechanical stokers and smoke preventive appliances have been fitted to 91 furnaces and 74 chimneys have been lengthened. Since August, 1907, when the rules came into force, notices or warnings, which must precede prosecutions, have been issued in 74 cases, with successful results. There have been three prosecutions ending in convictions.

"The Hon'ble Member complains that since the beginning of the cold weather the City, especially the northern part of it, has been enveloped in dense smoke. I would point out to him that this arises largely from the domestic fires, which the Commission is not able to deal with under the Act. There are other causes, such as the smoke from small workshops, blacksmiths' forges and potteries; and the Commission has recently ordered the potters, who now have no chimneys at all, to put up chimneys according to the provisions of the Act. As for the smoke from blacksmiths' forges and small workshops, the Commission has not yet been able to deal with it, without causing great interference with trade. Complaints from individuals are received and action is taken on them, where possible. The Commission, however, is not able to deal with the smoke from bustees and domestic fireplaces, which, owing to the increased use of coal, are becoming more offensive. So far, however, as factory chimneys are concerned, the results of the two years' working have been satisfactory, and they have been obtained without causing any unnecessary interference with the owners.

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal has also referred to his appeal made last year for a Health Resort at Diamond Harbour. The matter has not been overlooked, and the District Board of the 24-Parganas, at my suggestion, have prepared a scheme for the construction of a dâk bungalow, where, as proposed by the Hon'ble Member, he and his countrymen may repair to restore their energies after the labours of the week. The District Board, however, thought that those labours affected a wider area than the single district of the 24-Parganas, and they therefore applied to the Local Government for a portion of the cost of the scheme. This application is now under consideration, and it is to be hoped that the scheme will be shortly carried out.

"The Hon'ble Member has referred to the large sums of money spent for providing a Health Resort at Frasergunge. I would point out that most of the money spent there has been for the reclamation of the island, for purposes of colonization; and it is hoped to attract cultivators who will till the lands to their own profit and that of Government. A small amount has been spent on the improvement of the Sea front which, with its fine sea breezes and open sands, provides a far finer sanitarium than is possible at Diamond Harbour. Building sites are now available for Europeans and Indians, and I am sure that, if the Hon'ble Member will set the example and build himself a bungalow there, Frasergunge will soon become a popular sea-side health resort."

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS said:—"I will not detain the Council for long; but I wish to notice a few suggestions and to meet some criticisms which have fallen from Hon'ble Members in the course of this debate, in respect to Canals, Irrigation and Drainage. The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad has suggested that Government should take in hand Irrigation from wells and from small streams on commercial lines, that is, as remunerative projects. Now, while I am entirely in sympathy with the Hon'ble Member in his desire for the extension of Irrigation, I do not think that Government Agency is required or is suitable for the class of works indicated. There is already an extensive use of wells in South Bihar, and there is also a large use of water stored in ahars or taken by means of pynes from the smaller rivers. Such works are well within the competence of the land-owners and the cultivators, and it seems to me much better that they should develop them for themselves and without the intervention of the Executive Government.

"I am the last to deny that there are certain defects or dangers inherent to Canal Irrigation. When, however, the Hon'ble Member says that in some localities lands irrigated by canal water are being irrigated by the deposit of silt, I must enter a protest, so far at all events as this Province is concerned. If there is one thing more than another that we take credit from in respect to the Bengal Canals, it is that they carry, during the rains, a silt that is finely divided alluvial matter of a very good quality. The deposit of this silt is of great value to the lands, and so far as my experience extends, this is fully appreciated by the cultivators.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose and the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal desire, or at least I understand that they desire, that a more active policy may be pursued in respect to Drainage in the districts of the Presidency Division.

"I am not quite sure myself, and I have some doubts whether the Hon'ble Members themselves are quite sure, what it is that they ask for. Sub-soil drainage I may, I thinks safely say, is under the condition of this tract of country, altogether out of the question. By an effective system of surface drainage, parts of the country might, as I said at this, time last year, be brought to the state in which we find the Calcutta Maidan. To do this, means giving up the cultivation of rice, and this, I take it, is not seriously contemplated by the Hon'ble Members.

"There are no doubt a good may places where the drainage of swamp lands, for the benefit of agriculture, could be carried out as has been done in the past in the Howrah District at Damcooni near Howrah itself, and at Rajaporo. For schemes, such as these, the Bengal Drainage Act provides, and the decision rests with the landholders. The schemes are for the economic benefit of particular tracts, and there does not appear to be any reason for the cost being met by the general tax-payer.

"For another class of works where it can be shown that the drainage will be beneficial to health, action can be taken under the Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act. In this case, the initiative rests with the District Board. The scheme, if accepted by the Board, is carried out at the cost of the owners and occupiers of lands, which are held to be beneficially effected; but, as the ecomonic benefit is more remote, grant-in-aid is permissible from general revenues, and the Act contemplates such assistance being given. The only scheme which has actually been accepted, so far under this Act, is that in the southern part of the 24-Parganas District, known as the Magra Hat Scheme, which is now in full progress, and which deals with a tract of 290 square miles.

"Two other schemes of this nature are at present in the initial stage, that is, they are being considered by Drainage Commissioners and the District Boards. These schemes are for the country near Barasat in the district of the 24-Parganas, and for the tract of country near the head-quarters of the Jessore District.

"Yet another class of scheme is, that where Municipal areas are mainly affected. One scheme of this nature, now under consideration, is that known as the Bag-Jolal Drainage. This will provide for the surface drainage of a number of the small municipalities along the bank of the river to the north of Calcutta. The arrangement which has been come to, and which is I think an eminently fair one, is that Government will from Provincial Revenues construct the main outfall channel, which will include a regulator admitting the water to the navigable canal now being constructed from Ulta-Danga to Bhamanghatti, and thence by means of a large sluice to the Salt-lake tidal Channel; while the municipalities will construct the small drains leading to the outfall.

"A somewhat similar scheme is being worked out at Berhampur, in the Murshidabad District, where it is proposed that Government should construct an outfall channel, which will lower the level of the water in the large depressions near the town; and, in doing so, will to some extent have the water in the sub-soil of the inhabited area.

"In schemes of the latter class, there is no difficulty about apportionment of cost. Government gives from Provincial Revenues a grant-in-aid to a municipality, and the Municipal area benefits all over and is assessed under the Municipal Act for its share of the cost.

"In respect to schemes for Agricultural Drainage, it is comparatively simple to determine the lands benefited; though even here there is apt to be considerable divergence of opinion as to the extent of the benefit. When, however, the question of improvement of health comes in it is to my mind an extremely difficult problem to say what the limits of the tract benefited are to be, or in what way the benefit can be established.

"As I said last year in this Council, it would appear that the general medical opinion is that the small holes and pits about the village-sites and the undergrowth, are of more importance in the matter of malarial fever than the obstructions in the water-courses, and the remedy to the former must originate within the village.

"I am afraid I have occupied too much of the time of the Council, but I have thought it right to show that this very difficult question of Drainage continues to receive the attention of Government; and to point out that it is very much easier to suggest drainage as a remedy, than it is to show exactly how the remedy is to be applied or how the expense is to be met.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari does not approve of the provision for an expenditure of Rs. 45,000 in altering one of the bridges on the Circular Canal, to allow of an extension of the tramway to the north of the Canal. This extension has been asked for by the residents of the Cossipur-Chitpore Municipality and by others in that neighbourhood. The Tramway Company was not prepared to take up the extension, if more than a small share of the cost of altering the bridge had to be met by it; and as the extension will, if carried out, be of much service to the public generally a grant from Provincial Revenues has been provided to meet what is a public want.

"The case of the proposed additional bridge at Chetla, over Tolly's Nullah alluded to by the Hon'ble Member is, as I showed quite recently in answer to a question in Council, of a difficult character; since Government was advised by responsible officers that there was very little public need for the additional bridge."

The Hon'ble MR. STREATFEILD said:—"In dealing with the subjects belonging to the General and Judicial Departments, I propose to begin with the most important of all—Education. This is a subject on which almost all the Hon'ble Members, who have spoken, have had something, some a very great deal, to say; and I trust, therefore, that I shall be pardoned if I do not follow them into the details of every point that has been raised.

"The total amount of the budget allotment for Education has been severely criticized in several quarters. The Government is perfectly ready to admit, as the Resolution on the recent Quinquennial report shows, that much more might advantageously be spent on Education, than is at present possible. At the same time, as the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham has shown in his speech on the Financial Statement, expenditure on Education has risen from 26 lakhs to 42½ lakhs, between the years 1902-03 and 1906-07. Provincial expenditure must necessarily depend on the amounts allotted by the Imperial Government, and I think it may be said, with some show of reason, that Bengal was not formerly treated with proper literality, as regards grants for Educational purposes. Of late years, however, various large grants have been made from Imperial Funds; it is hoped that still larger grants are impending, and I do not think it can be said now that Government is unmindful of its duties in this behalf. It seems to me vain and unprofitable to compare the expenditure on Education in India, where taxation is kept as low as the absolute exigencies of the administration will permit, with that in countries where conditions are absolutely and fundamentally different.

"To come to the various heads of expenditure. The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose complains that too much is being spent on Colleges; while the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari considers that the sum allotted for Colleges is hopelessly inadequate. The former gentleman can hardly, I take it, intend to argue that Government should now repudiate the Universities Act and the University; and either leave Colleges to be disaffiliated wholesale or the University Regulations to be stultified and ignored. What the Government proposes to do is, to improve its own Colleges up to the standard that will reasonably meet the requirements of the University, and to assist by liberal grants-in-aid such private Colleges as show a bonâ fide desire, combined with practical efforts, to reach the same standard. It is possible that we may not be able to do all we could wish and all at once; but a practical standard is before us, and we shall do our best to secure its attainment.

"Before leaving this subject, I should like to say a word about the Presidency College. The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has practically accused the Government of breach of faith, in respect of the extension scheme, and talks of the Government being inviolably pledged and committed, by the proceedings of the Conference held at Belvedere on the 3rd of July last. Sir, I deprecate language of this nature; it is obvious that any decision of the Local Government must be subject to such approval of the higher authorities as the rules may require, and must also be subject to financial exigencies. I am, however, glad to be able to inform the Hon'ble Member that the Government of India have sanctioned the expenditure, during the current year, of three lakhs of rupees, independently of budget provision, for the acquisition of land and for the commencement of the construction of a Physical Laboratory, in connection with the Presidency College. The land to be acquired has been practically settled, and once this has been done, the notification of which the Hon'ble Member complains will be withdrawn, as regards the rest of the area; and what the Hon'ble Member describes as disturbance of ordinary and inalienable rights, but what has really only amounted to the curbing for a few months of possible desire on the part of proprietors for the improvement of their property, will be put an end to.

"To pass to Secondary Schools. I have little to say on this subject, beyond admitting that both, as regards the maintenance of Government schools and the grants-in-aid to private schools, enough has not been done in the past. It is in the schools that the character of boys is formed; and the improvement of colleges can be of little practical value, until the standards and teaching in the schools have been correspondingly raised. A comprehensive scheme for the improvement of all schools, of this class, has recently been elaborated after the most careful deliberation. Its carrying out will be a matter of very heavy expense, but there is every reason to hope that means will be found for bringing very great reforms into effect.

"As regards Primary Education, I may point out that this branch of education has, ever since the introduction of the Local Self-Government Act, been in the hands of District Boards, where these bodies exist. No portion of the expenditure, incurred by these bodies on Education, comes from the District Fund, that is, from the Road Cess. The whole is met either by direct grants from Government or by the transfer to the Boards of revenue which were formerly provincial, such as Pounds and Ferries. I admit that I am unable to follow the facts and figures adduced by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose, which have so startled him and which show Rs. 2,19,000 spent on 50 million of people.

"As far as I have been able to ascertain, the total expenditure on Primary Education, according to the Budget, will not be very far short of 20 lakhs of rupees; since, in addition to the direct expenditure from Provincial Funds by far the greater part of Rs. 11,59,000 spent on Educations by District Boards comes under this head. The Rs. 1,89,000, over which the Hon'ble Member waxes indignant, is the grant for non-board areas—only a very small fraction of the Province as a whole. I may also mention that the latest available figures show that 244 boys are receiving Primary Education, out of every one thousand males of a school-going age. These figures prove, I think, that the Hon'ble Member speaks unadvisedly, when he talks of fifty millions of people practically untouched by Education.

"One point, in particular, calls for remark. The argument that expenditure on guru-training schools is not, properly speaking, expenditure on Primary Education. I may say that I cannot understand this argument coming from any one with a real acquaintance with the subject. The incompetence of the gurus has notoriously been the one great obstacle to the progress of Primary Education in the past. The guru is, to all intents and purposes, the proprietor of the village-school; if he is competent, he draws pupils to him and gives them an education worth having; if he is incompetent, he reduces education in his village to a farce and by-word: and yet the Hon'ble Member argues that if you give him a cash grant-in-aid, you are helping the cause of Primary Education; but if, instead, you give him training and make him a competent teacher at the expense of Government, you are not.

"With regard to Female Education, there is little to be said. Progress is undoubtedly slow; but I must strenuously contest the assumption, that this is due to any unwillingness on the part of Government to provide funds. The Government is, and always has been, ready to assist any scheme, by which Female Education seems likely to be forwarded. Model primary schools for girls have been and are being started, and schemes for training female teachers are being carefully considered; but the problem yet to be solved is how to induce women of the class required to come forward as teachers, and, above all things, how to persuade parents to send their girls to school.

"As regards Muhammadan Education, I have only to notice that the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad has overlooked the fact that, besides Rs. 1,080 for inspecting Maulvis and Rs. 3,420 for model muktabs, a provision of Rs. 16,250 has been made in the Budget for grants-in-aid to muktabs. He has also over-looked the fact that, besides Rs. 1,200 for Muhammadan Female Education in Patna, a school for Muhammadan girls at Bhagalpur has been provided for in the Budget; the initial cost being Rs. 1,000 and the annual recurring cost Rs. 2,256.

"And now I come to the very difficult and very important question of Technical and Industrial Education. We are all fully alive to the immense importance of assisting the commercial development of the country; but there is no branch of education in which there is greater scope for the fads and fetishes that the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari deprecates, or in which it is more difficult to arrive at the business footing to which he aspires. The proposals of this Government, for the appointment of a Special Technical Adviser to Government and for the opening of classes in Technological Chemistry have both been sent back by the higher authorities—the first, because the class of men we want is almost impossible to find; the second, because of doubts whether there is any real demand for the services of such students as the classes would turn out. I trust that these objections may be overcome; but they afford illustrations of the difficulty of evolving practical schemes and of persuading the higher authorities that such schemes are practical, and not likely to end in an extravagant fiasco.

"While on this subject, I hope that the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari will forgive me if I suggest that his proposals. for the opening of schools under the District Boards for weaving, carpentry and half-a-dozen other petty crafts, point rather to a laudable enthusiasm than to a profound knowledge of the subject. It is precisely schools of this kind with which experiments have been tried for many years past, and which have almost, without exception, proved abject failures. The difficulty of inducing those not accustomed to manual labour to take to it, or those accustomed to it to adopt new methods has hitherto proved an insuperable obstacle to success. The tendency noticed by the Hon'ble Mr. Larmour, of members of the Artisan class to bring their sons up to other employments, is also a melancholy fact which no training, unaccompanied by a change in the prevailing motives and spirit, can alter. And, after all, excellent as the encouragement of Artisans is, it can do practically nothing towards the commercial regeneration of the country. What is primarily required is, such an expansion of the business instinct, leading to joint stock industry, as will afford remunerative careers for the educated members of the community, apart from Government service and clerkships. This can only come with the growth of a spirit of enterprise and of mutual trust; and this again must be the outcome of a new spirit throughout the ordinary, or, to use the budget term which has puzzled the Hon'ble Member, 'General', schools, such as we hope will in due time result from the improvements now in contemplation. Technical or special schools may complete the good business man; but the ordinary schools must form him.

"Meanwhile, the Government will always consider with the greatest sympathy and will help, as far as circumstances permit, any scheme for the promotion of Technical and Industrial Education, which gives reasonable hope of practical success. Mr. J. G. Cumming is on special duty to bring the industrial survey of the Province up to date; and there is reason to hope that his suggestions will prove of great value. I have already alluded to the delay in the schemes for the appointment of a Technical Adviser to the Director of Public Instruction and for the opening of Technological Chemistry classes at Sibpur. The Weaving School at Serampore also remains unopened; the Principal appointed in England having, at the last moment, thrown up the appointment. The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose has made a serious grievance of the delay, in opening the graduate classes in Engineering at Sibpur. I find, however, that the University is not prepared to examine for these degrees till 1911; and as a two years' course is involved, it is useless and impracticable to start these classes till 1909. The first intermediate examination in Engineering will be held in 1909. This course was opened in 1907, and those who are now reading the course and who succeed in passing the examination in 1909 will then be eligible to read the graduate course and not before.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad once more urges that the Bihar School of Engineering should be raised to the status of a College. I regret that I can only repeat, what has been said before, that Government is not prepared to consider the question, until the transfer of the Sibpur College to Ranchi has been completed and experience has shown how far the College on its new site will meet the requirements of Bihari students.

"The details of the six lakhs, provided in the budget, for Technical Education, for which Hon'ble Members have asked, are as follows:—

	Rs.
Sibpur College	3,27,700
Equipment for Sibpur College	40,600
B and C classes in High Schools	10,000
Calcutta School of Art	34,000
Government Art Gallery	9,000
Engineering and Survey Schools	43,000
Industrial Schools	12,000
Scholarships in Professional Colleges	50,480
Ditto in the School of Art	900
Ditto in Engineering and Survey Schools ...	4,632
Total ...	5,32,312

Adding Rs. 35,000, for the Serampore Weaving School, the total comes to Rs. 5,65,312, or 6 lakhs in round numbers.

"On the subject of Educational Establishments, there is not much that I need say. More than one Hon'ble Member has remarked unfavourably on the increase in the cost of the Directing and Inspecting Staff, as compared with the Teaching Staff. I must say I am surprised to find among the objectors the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, who describes the condition of our aided schools as a lie, a falsehood, an immorality and a demoralizing scandal. I do not quarrel with his description: the condition of our schools in the Mufassal is a scandal—and to put an end to the scandal a strong, competent and independent Inspecting Staff is an absolute necessity. The Hon'ble Member complains of insufficient grants-in-aid, and appears to think that such grants-in-aid should be made independently of the condition and the methods of work of the school. This, of course, is out of the question—the grants in-aid to Secondary Schools have, in the past, certainly been small, and it is hoped to increase them very largely in the future; but such increased help must be accompanied by closer inspection and strict insistence on a proper level of efficiency.

"At the same time, I can assure the Hon'ble Member that the claims of the Teaching Staff have not been overlooked. A general scheme for the improvement of Secondary Education has recently been elaborated which will, if brought into effect, cause an immense improvement in the position of the Teaching Staff, both in Government and in private schools. Moreover, the whole question of position of members, both of the Indian Educational Service and of the Provincial Educational Service, is under consideration. It is impossible to say, at the present time, what the precise result will be; but it is not improbable that, as regards the Provincial Educational Service, the improvement will take something of the form suggested, viz., assimilation with the other Provincial Services. I can assure the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh, among other suggestions, that it is certain that the question of the promotion of selected members of the Provincial Educational Service, to the higher service, will receive the most careful and sympathetic consideration.

"As regards the inclusion of the cost of the Reformatory Schools in the Education Budget, I may inform the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari that these schools are now Educational Institutions, pure and simple; the object of which is not the punishment of youthful criminals, but their reform by an intelligent system of training. They are entirely under the control of the Director of Public Instruction and have nothing to do with the Jails or the Police.

"As to Text-Books, I can only say that the matter has been settled after most careful consideration by experts, and cannot now be re-opened.

"The frequent transfers between the Inspecting and the Teaching Staff, to which the Hon'ble Member alludes, is admittedly undesirable; but has been inevitable, owing to the shortness of staff. There is reason to hope that, when the sanctioned staff is complete, these transfers will be reduced to a minimum.

"The purchase of the additional ground for a hostel and play-ground for the Darjeeling Zilla School was completed last year, and the expenditure does not, therefore, appear in this year's budget.

"I have nothing more to say, Sir, on the subject of Education, and must apologize for having detained the Council so long.

"The only other question, connected with the General Department with which I have to deal, is that of the inspection of the Septic Tanks connected with the riparian factories, raised by the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami, Bahadur. This matter is receiving the attention of Government, and it is hoped that the regular inspection of these tanks, under the control of the Sanitary Commissioner, will very shortly be arranged for.

"As regards Judicial questions; the question of the reduction of Court-fees, in the Calcutta Small Cause Court, is receiving consideration; and it is hoped that some relief will soon be granted. The question of Honorary Benches, in this Court, is one on which Government is not prepared to express an opinion at present. I am unable to follow the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari into all the details of his championship of the Judicial branch of the Provincial Civil Service. I can only say that the Government is fully aware that the Officers of this Service have genuine grievances; that their case is receiving consideration, and that any reasonable proposals for the removal of hardships will always receive sympathetic attention. I must remind the Hon'ble Member, however, that several of the matters he alludes to fall within the province of the High Court, and that their discussion in this Council is altogether out of place.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose complains of the additional provision, for the remuneration of the Government Solicitor. It is only necessary to explain that the whole of the increase is met by a grant from Imperial Funds; the only additional expense, imposed on the Local Government, being for the stationery and establishment of the Public Prosecutor, who is now separated from the Government Solicitor's office. The Assistant Secretary in the Legislative Council has become necessary, owing to the transfer to the Legislative Department of the work formerly done by the Government Solicitor.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has alluded to the expenditure incurred on account of the new Presidency Jail, and has suggested, with regard to the removal of the old Ja l, that the Government of Bengal was committed to this expenditure when the Victoria Memorial Scheme was inaugurated; and that, therefore, the Memorial Funds ought to bear some portion of the cost. I may point out that the Hon'ble Member's conclusions are based on a misapprehension of facts. The removal of the Presidency Jail, from its present site, was anyhow necessary, and, though the foundation of the Victoria Memorial Hall may have led to its removal a year or two earlier than would otherwise have been the case, there is no justification for his suggestion that, but for the existence of the Victoria Memorial Hall, the removal need not have taken place.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad once more complains of the inconvenience caused to parties by the late sittings of certain Judicial Officers. In this connection, I may say that, as long ago as 1873, it was laid down by Government that all officers were to take their seats at 11 A.M. The Government consider it most important and desirable that this rule should be strictly complied with, and there is no reason to doubt that habitual unpunctuality, on the part of any officer, would be promptly corrected, if brought to the notice of his immediate superior. At the same time, the work in some Courts, especially in Sub-divisions, is so heavy that it is impossible for the officer, even if he attends office at the prescribed hour, to dispose of the day's work without sitting late; and, in cases such as these, it is impossible for the Government to interfere with the full discretion of the officers concerned, to make such arrangements as may be necessary to prevent their work from falling into arrears"

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT said:—"Your Honour—The bulk of the comments made by Hon'ble Members, regarding the branches of the Administration dealt with by the Chief Secretary, refer to the Police Department, and especially to the great increase in expenditure on that department which has taken place during the last three or four years. The comments which have been made are somewhat conflicting. One Hon'ble Member frankly congratulates Government on having done so much to improve the Police Force. Others, while admitting the necessity for increased expenditure, express dissatisfaction with the results; or complain that the money has been spent without the public being taken into the confidence of Government; or that the present time, when famine is threatening, is not a suitable one for such expenditure. Others, again, appear to regard the increased expenditure as wholly uncalled-for. One Hon'ble Member asks us if we consider the Police more valuable than Sanitation; and another suggests that it would have been far better if we had devoted the money thus spent to Education. The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose seems to think that the expenditure has grown on account of what he describes as 'rows by boys and boyish men who are taken too seriously by the Government and by the newspapers.' These comments, if I may venture to say so, indicate an imperfect appreciation of the facts and a curiously short memory.

"The additional expenditure on Police is not being incurred haphazard, nor on account of the supposed exigencies of the moment; but in accordance with a settled scheme, based on the recommendations of the Police Commission and approved by the Government of India. In the Report of the Police Commission, it was shown that the state of the Police was by no means satisfactory; that their standard of morality was low, and that bribery and corruption were common. The introduction of sweeping reforms was held to be a matter of urgent administrative necessity. It was pointed out by the Police Commission that the remedy lay partly in obtaining a better class of men to investigate offences and in giving constables a living wage, which they had not got before; and partly in the strengthening of the supervising staff. In accordance with these recommendations, it was decided to re-organize the cadre of Superintendents and Assistant Superintendents, and to create a new class of Deputy Superintendents, at a total annual cost of four and a half lakhs. The number and pay of the Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors was to be increased at a cost of nine lakhs, and that of Head Constables and Constables at a cost of ten lakhs. The intention of Government to carry out these reforms was made public at the time and met with general approval. There has been no secrecy about the matter. The increased expenditure, which has since been incurred, has been increased simply in pursuance of the policy then laid down, and I can only conclude from the criticisms which we have heard to-day, either that the above facts have been forgotten, or that the necessity for reforming the Police is no longer so clearly recognized as it was a few years ago. I may mention here that considerably more than two-thirds of the additional expenditure has been provided by special assignments made for the purpose by the Government of India.

"With reference to the complaint of some Hon'ble Members, that the results of the expenditure are disappointing, I may point out that the improvement must necessarily be gradual. New men can be introduced only as the old ones retire, and it will be many years before the personnel of the entire force has been changed. The old class of Superintendents of the Calcutta Police, for instance, cannot be replaced by officers of the Provincial Police Service, until they are, one by one, superannuated. Not only is the number of new men still comparatively small, but they are most of them holding junior appointments. I am glad to notice that the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh admits that some, at least, of the new Sub-Inspectors are of a class very much superior to that from which these officers were formerly recruited. The Hon'ble Member is certainly right on this point. The Inspector-General of Police reports that a noticeably better standard of work is already being obtained from the officers appointed under the new system. I may add that much good is hoped from the creation of the new class of Deputy Superintendents, who will correspond in the Police Department to the Provincial Executive and Judicial Services. The men who have already been selected for these appointments are, on the whole, doing excellent work.

"Several Hon'ble Members have objected to the expenditure of two lakhs of rupees on the purchase of the Duff College in Calcutta, for the accommodation of certain police offices. The accommodation thus secured was urgently required. It has become increasingly difficult in Calcutta to obtain leases of houses for thanas. As the existing leases fall in, the owners enhance the rent. It was, therefore, proposed some time ago to acquire land for all the thanas in Calcutta. The idea was abandoned on account of the expense; but the desirablity was recognized of taking any opportunity that might from time to time arise of purchasing suitable accommodation.

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal has provided for our delectation various dishes which have, if at all, a very faint financial flavour; and I am not altogether surprised to find that amongst them he has served up King Charles' Head—I mean the Calcutta Riots—and garnished it with the sauce of the 'Unofficial Commission,' of which he was a member. I hope I may be pardoned by the Hon'ble Member, if I decline to enter into a fresh discussion of this matter. The inquiry made by Mr. Weston showed clearly that the riots commenced with deliberate and organized attacks on the Police by comparatively respectable persons; that superior officers of the force, both European and Indian, conducted themselves with propriety and did their utmost to cope with the situation, and that the great bulk of the rank and file were always under control. The only matter of controversy is as to the extent to which individual subordinate members of the force took advantage of the confusion caused by the rioters to commit, or abet the commission of, offences against the person and against property. This, as I say, is a matter of controversy. The number of definite charges which stood the test of cross-examination was exceedingly small. Most of those that were made broke down altogether, so far as the alleged complicity of the Police was concerned. The circumstances were such as to render it difficult alike to prove and to disprove such allegations; and the extent to which they were well-founded must always remain a matter of opinion. The fact remains that this is a comparatively minor issue. No one pretends that every Constable is an angel; there are black sheep in every fold, and the natural result of the disorder, darkness and confusion, for which the Police were not responsible, was to give the black sheep in the lower ranks of the Calcutta Police their opportunity. The number of these black sheep was probably small; but disputes as to the exact number do not affect the main outstanding fact that the Police, as a body, behaved well under trying circumstances.

"The Hon'ble Member complains that, in Calcutta, Head Constables are still being sent out to investigate cases. I think there must be some misapprehension. Under standing orders, the investigation of all cases must be in the hands of an Inspector or Sub-Inspector. The Commissioner of Police assures me that this rule is duly observed. It was, however, never intended that the service of subordinate Police Officers should not be utilized to collect information which has a bearing on a case under investigation. They are constantly and necessarily deputed to collect information on subsidiary points. Head Constables have still to be used in this way more freely than is desirable, as the full staff of Sub-Inspectors recommended by the Police Commission, has not yet been recruited and fully trained; but the Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors are in all cases held directly responsible for the investigation of cases. Before a case goes to Court, the persons concerned in it, with the witnesses and exhibits, are taken before the Commissioner of Police and the facts are threshed out by him personally. Any serious dereliction of duty, on the part of the officer in charge of the case, would thus usually be detected. No doubt, it occasionally happens that a subordinate officer is given work to do which his superior ought to do himself, but the Commissioner of Police is always on the alert to put a stop to abuses of this kind.

"The same Hon'ble Member refers with regret to the halcyon days when the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation was the head of the City Police. In those days, there was, he says, close and intimate association between the Head of the Police and the leaders of the Community; and 'the Police treated people of all classes and sects with great forbearance, mildness courtesy and perfect civility.' While duly grateful to the Hon'ble Member for attributing such an utopian state of affairs to any period of British Rule, I cannot help feeling that his glowing tribute to the past perfections of the Police is due to his having had but little personal acquaintance with the old state of things. I may remind the Hon'ble Member that, originally, the office of Chairman was separate, as it is now, from that of Commissioner of Police. The functions were united in 1864, with the object of strengthening the hands of the Chairman and giving him greater executive authority than he had previously possessed. Experience, however, showed that the Chairman had not sufficient time to devote to his police duties. The direct control of the Police soon passed into the hands of the Deputy Commissioner. The nominal responsibility was with one officer; while the power was with another. The arrangement proved most unsatisfactory; and it was, therefore, after full consideration, abandoned and the old system was reverted to. I do not think any one has ever had reason to complain of the change, or of inaccessibility, or want of courtesy, on the part of the officers who have held the post of Commissioner of Police, since the office was separated from that of Chairman.

"The next complaint of the Hon'ble Member is, regarding the unsuitable character of some of the rooms in the Calcutta Police Court. Here, I am fain to admit, he is on firmer ground. The necessity for providing better accommodation, for certain Courts, has long been recognized. A scheme was prepared three years ago for the extension and improvement of the Central Police Station and Police Court, but the estimated cost was 45 lakhs of rupees. It was impossible to provide this large sum; and the project was, therefore, dropped. The Chief Presidency Magistrate has recently been informed that, if he can suggest improvements on a more reasonable scale, the matter will be sympathetically considered.

"I do not propose to reply at length to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Member, regarding the distribution of work between Stipendiary and Honorary Magistrates, as I dealt with this matter fully last year. It will suffice to say that while it is admitted that Honorary Magistrates have rendered, and still render, valuable services to Government and to the Public, there is no doubt that they are not the best agency for the trial of intricate cases, which cannot be disposed of at a single sitting. It is, for this reason, that they have been relieved of the necessity of trying such cases. The result is, that they are disposed of with greater despatch than was ever attained under the old system.

"I note, with much satisfaction, that the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari approves of the action which is being taken by this Government, in order to develop the Sea Fisheries of the Bay of Bengal. We hear a great deal of what are supposed to be our mistakes, but it is seldom that any one refers to the other side of the shield. The inquiries regarding the Fisheries of the Province, which are now being made, cannot fail to have the most beneficial results. Of this, there is not the slightest doubt. The admirable reports, recently submitted by Mr. Gupta, show that there are immense possibilities in the way of increasing and developing our existing fish supply. This is a matter of the greatest importance in a country like Bengal, where such a large proportion of the population are dependent on a fish diet. Unfortunately for our fisheries Mr. Gupta is no longer available to continue the investigation; but it is to be hoped that his successor will bring to a satisfactory conclusion the work which he so ably began. Mr. Gupta has shown what is needed in the way of definite action and further investigation; and it remains for Mr. Ahmad to work earnestly and persistently along the lines thus indicated.

"I am glad also to notice the Hon'ble Member's commendation of the action which Government has already taken in the recent amendment of the Calcutta Police Act. The Committee appointed, by Your Honour, to consider another aspect of the same difficult question has recently submitted its report; and I hope that the necessary action will not be long delayed.

"The Hon'ble Member points out that the partition of the Provincial Judicial Service in Bengal and the new Province would be injurious to the interests of those Members of the Service who are posted to Eastern Bengal and Assam, unless special consideration is shown them. I can assure him that this point has not been overlooked.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose, in his remarks regarding the abolition of the Statutory Civil Service, is referring to very ancient history. The decision to abolish that Service was arrived at nearly twenty years ago, in consequence of the recommendations made by the Public Service Commission. The appointments of Magistrate and Collector and District and Sesssions Judge, formerly held by Members of the Statutory Service are now held by Officers promoted from the Provincial Executive and Judicial Services. The Hon'ble Member's remarks, on the subject of Police expenditure, have already been dealt with.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland asks whether it is necessary, in the present state of our finances, to spend money on an Agricultural College at Sabaur, in view of the fact that Pusa is situated within the limits of this Province? I may explain that the work contemplated at the two Colleges is of a very different character. Pusa is an Imperial Research Station, where higher post-graduate training in Agricultural Science will be undertaken for the whole of India. The institution does not provide for elementary training in Agriculture. Each Province is expected to supply its own elementary teaching, and to arrange for the training, of its own subordinate Agricultural Staff. This Agricultural Staff is needed in order to bring home to the agriculturists the improvements and developments which our experiments and inquiries may show o be practicable, and to impart to them the knowledge which they will gain at the College.

"The Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Goswami, Bahadur, refers to the importance of disseminating agricultural information amongst the masses of the people, and makes several suggestions of a practical nature. The Agricultural Department in Bengal is still in its infancy; but I may inform the Hon'ble Member that the scheme, for its organization, includes provision for a demonstration farm in each district and a large experimental station in each Division. There is already an Inspector of Agriculture, attached to each Divisional Agricultural Association. His services are at the disposal of the District Associations, and can be made use of by the gentlemen belonging to these Associations, who are interested in agriculture and wish to obtain his assistance or advice. The great difficulty at present felt is the want of suitable men for appointments of this kind. A scheme has been prepared for the organization of a trained Agricultural Service, but it has not yet been sanctioned; and, in any case, it can only be introduced gradually, as suitable men are trained up. It is no use appointing men who do not possess the necessary qualifications. The Government sympathises most fully with all that the Hon'ble Member has said regarding the immense importance of doing everything possible to foster agriculture. The progress is certainly slow, but I claim that it is steady. The suggestions which the Hon'ble Member has made will be communicated to the Director of Agriculture, by whom they will be fully and carefully considered.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad asks Government to provide big wells, with water-lifting machines, for irrigation purposes. The Hon'ble Mr. Inglis has explained how impossible it is for the Irrigation Department to attempt to provide well-irrigation. The matter is essentially one for the people themselves. I may remind the Hon'ble Member that Government does all in its power to encourage this form of irrigation, by making liberal takavi advances. I think, I may safely say, that no raiyat who wishes to make a well, and can give the necessary security, is ever refused a loan for the purpose. As a further encouragement to the people, steps are being taken to provide an expert Well-borer. An Overseer of the Public Works Department has been selected for this post and is now being trained in the United Provinces. He is expected to join at Bankipur some time this month. He will be given twelve assistants. His services will be available to make trial borings wherever desired, and to give expert advice to the people concerning the sinking and construction of wells.

"The Hon'ble Maharaja of Burdwan asks Government to legislate with a view to the protection of Pasture Lands. This is a very thorny question. The greater part of Bengal is permanently-settled, and it would be difficult to interfere with the discretion of the zamindars in such a matter. The feasibility of taking action of some kind has been considered on various occasions; but the idea has always been dropped. In the temporarily-settled parts of Orissa, however, lands have been set apart for grazing purposes in each village; and orders have been passed that these lands are not to be appropriated for other purposes. Similar measures have been taken in the principal Government Estates, e g, those of Palamau and the Kolhan.

"The Hon'ble the Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad complains that a provision of only Rs. 1,56,000 has been made for expenditure on Famine Relief in the year 1908-1909, and expresses the opinion that this amount is not sufficient. A similar opinion is expressed by the Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad. I may explain that the figure quoted, by the Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur, represents only the share which this Government will have to bear. The total expenditure on Famine Relief next year, is estimated at ten lakhs of rupees. Under the arrangements recently made by the Government of India, the bulk of it will be debited to Imperial Funds. I may add that the ten lakhs above mentioned have been allotted for actual Famine Relief. In addition, provision has been made for Agricultural and Land Improvement Loans, up to a total of 22 lakhs. Provision has also been made for suspensions of land-revenue in Government Estates, aggregating Rs. 2,75,000. It is hoped that the provision thus made will be adequate.

"Our latest information goes to show that there has been a general improvement in the Agricultural situation, since the estimates were last revised. Hazaribagh is the only district in which the situation seems to have changed for the worse. The forecast of the rabi crops, which is prepared after local inquiry in each district and thana in the Province, shows that the total area under rabi is about three quarters of the average, and that about 70 per cent. of the normal outturn may be expected. The outturn is estimated at less than half the average only in three districts of the Presidency Division.

"The mango crop, which is of much importance in a year of scarcity, is promising well; and so also is the mahua on which the aboriginal tribes in and around Chota Nagpur so greatly depend, even in ordinary years. Gratuitous relief or test works, or both, have been started in seven districts and the operations may extend to one or two other districts later on. A peculiar feature of the present situation is, the way in which the ordinary demand for labour is being maintained. Difficulty is being experienced, in some parts, in getting the labour required for ordinary road-repairs at the usual rates. This is due largely to the great industrial development which has taken place in Calcutta and the neighbourhood, and in the coal-mines of Jheria and Raniganj. The result is, that in many parts the test works which have been opened have been very poorly attended. The able-bodied have gone elsewhere, leaving their dependants more or less unprovided for. The number of persons attending test-works does not afford the same index to the distress which exists, as it did on former occasions; and we find ourselves obliged to given gratuitous relief on a scale quite out of proportion to that indicated by the attendance of labourers on test-works. Government aid, however, is unable to touch many of those who are suffering most from the present high prices—I mean the respectable poor who will not accept State relief; and who, if they are to be helped at all, must be helped by non-official agency. It is to be hoped, for their sakes, that the charitable public will contribute freely to the Famine Fund, which has recently been opened by His Excellency the Viceroy."

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON said:—"Several Hon'ble Members have drawn attention to the increase in receipts from Income-tax. Two Hon'ble Members say that assessing officers in their zeal to show improvements of collections, over those of preceding years, cause hardship to assessees.

"In reply, I would say that the increase in receipts last year and estimated for the new year is due to extended facilities of communication and rapid growth of trade and commercial prosperity, chiefly in the City of Calcutta, where two-thirds of the tax realized in the Province are collected; and especially to the prosperity of the jute and coal businesses and the banking business. It is conceded that assessors are sometimes over-zealous in assessment; but, as far as the Board of Revenue can judge, there is improvement in this matter and diminishing cause for objections.

"With regard to the suggestion made by an Hon'ble Member to the effect that Residential Houses should be exempted from Income-tax, I can only at present say that this question was much discussed in the Imperial Council, when the present law was enacted. Section 24 of the Act of 1886 declares that, a building occupied by its owners shall be deemed a source of income; and assessment of such a house is required at $\frac{5}{6}$ths of the gross annual rent at which it may be reasonably expected to let. I take it that a dwelling-house is held to be a source of income, because it saves the person dwelling therein from payment of house-rent.

"The Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose draws attention to the fines imposed for illicit manufacture of Salt, and asks that such fines may be separately shown in the Budget. He says that the Salt Laws are oppressively enforced on the sea-coasts of Bengal and Orissa, and that people would be glad to pay an additional Cess, if they might be allowed to manufacture salt for their own consumption from the sea-water at their doors. The fines, for illicit manufacture, are shown in the Annual Administration Reports on Salt. In 1905-1906, the fines and forfeitures imposed under the Salt Laws in the Sea-coast districts amounted to Rs. 1,191, and in 1906-1907 to Rs. 1,391, levied from 198 convicted persons. These were not heavy punishments.

"With regard to the question of permitting manufacture for home consumption, the Hon'ble Member put a question in this Council last year and he has put another question today. I have nothing to add to the two answers which have been given on this subject, except to say that I have had no information and no complaint that the Salt Laws are harshly administered on our coasts.

"Under the head of 'Excise' the Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad deplores the fact that Government is under the necessity of accepting revenue from the liquor traffic. To this it must be answered that, short of prohibition, the most effective check of consumption of drink and drugs is the levy of a large duty, such as will increase the cost of the drink, or the drug, to the consumer. It is in this view, that all civilized nations impose a tax on liquors. The increase of excise revenue in Bengal, to which several speakers have drawn attention, is due not only to increasing population, opening up of the country by communications, greater employment of labour in the jute, coal, lac and mica businesses and higher wages, but also to more efficient excise establishments, the repression of illicit practices and consequent increase of illicit consumption and enhanced taxation by duty and license fees. The still-head duty on liquor has been increased in many districts of the Province, and will be raised this year in Calcutta to Rs. 5-10 for a London-proof gallon, the highest rate yet imposed. The duty on excise opium has been enhanced in the Orissa districts, and a uniform rate of duty is now levied on all kinds of ganja.

"Next, as to the action taken in removal of liquor shops from objectionable sites. An Hon'ble Member has said that there has been lamentable disregard of the avowed policy of Government in this respect. Much, however, has been recently done in the direction indicated, and it has been laid down that when a liquor shop has been removed, on account of objections and afterwards a market or public institution is established near the new site, the liquor shop must again be removed, if necessary.

"The Hon'ble Member, who represents the Municipalities in Chota Nagpur and Orissa, asked whether any outstills had been removed from objectionable sites in districts of Chota Nagpur, other than Manbhum? The answer is, that, in Hazaribagh last year, 12 outstills near markets were removed, and this year 30 more are to be moved. In Ranchi last year, 23 outstills were moved, and one was abolished; and this year 32 outstills are to be moved and 7 have been abolished. A distillery area is to be established this year in Ranchi. In Palamau and Singhbhum, smaller reductions have been made. Outside the Chota Nagpur Division, I need only refer to the district of Sambalpur, where last year the number of outstills, including branch shops, was reduced by 40 shops; it is to be further decreased this year by 20 shops. These figures will suffice to show that earnest officers have made real efforts to carry out the Government policy of decreasing temptations of strong drink.

"As an instance of the continuous efforts made to reduce the number of liquor shops, I would again cite the case of the Ranchi District. The Board recently reported to Government that in this district, which formerly included Palamau, there were 35 years ago three times as many outstills as there are at present. The Excise Revenue was then only one-eighth of the present revenue. We do not say that there has not been increase of consumption of liquor in Ranchi; but it has been in spite of the reduction of the number of liquor shops and in spite of increased taxation of liquor.

"The contract distillery system was extended during last year to ten districts and is now in force in 18 of the 34 districts of the Province. The introduction of this system has involved the abolition of 242 outstills.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad would provide that no intoxicating liquor or drug should be sold to women, or to children under the age of 16 years. The Indian Excise Committee recommended, and the Government of India agreed, that there should be no general prohibition of sale to women. Prohibition of sale to women in shops might result in worse expedients, or in use of worse intoxicants. It is proposed, however, to take power to prohibit sales to particular classes of persons in special areas. The sale to children, below 12, (1) of liquor at outstills and (2) of opium, has long been prohibited in Bengal; and last year the prohibition was extended to all sales of liquor and drugs to children under 14 years. Fourteen years is the limit of age which has been commonly accepted as appropriate; though some temperance advocates would go so far as to prohibit sale to persons under 21.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad says that it is strange that a rate has not been fixed by Government for the sale of liquor by the shop-keepers, and that Government should at least fix the minimum price of the liquor to be sold at the shops. This is a difficult subject which has been much discussed. Maximum prices for liquor have been fixed for all contract distillery areas and for some of the rural distillery areas in Bihar and the Sonthal Parganas. This step has been held to be necessary, to prevent development of monopoly prices. Minimum prices for liquor were in force for some years, both in the case of distillery spirit and outstill spirit, but the arrangement was abolished on the ground that it involved excessive interference and that it could not be efficiently carried out. The Indian Excise Committee have reported in favour of minimum prices and the Government of India recommend that minimum prices should be prescribed in distillery areas, in order to prevent reckless competition and to deter shop-keepers from undue efforts to clear off stocks towards the close of the currency of their licenses. The Board of Revenue have just received proposals on this subject from the Excise Commissioner.

"The same Hon'ble Member has said that he does not see how Government can reasonably oppose the principle of local option. Since the discussion of 1904, to which the Hon'ble Member has referred, the Indian Excise Committee of 1905-06 have reiterated the opinion that local option, in the sense in which the term is generally understood, is impracticable in India; and the Government of India have added that it is impossible for Government to lay aside its responsibilities for fixing, whether by itself or through its officers, the number and sites of liquor shops. The Government, however, will be glad to see local opinion consulted more systematically and reported more definitely than at present. This subject is dealt with in the Bengal Excise Bill.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari says that the public are looking for some pronouncement, regarding the Bengal Excise Bill. I may be permitted to state that, on receipt last year of the criticisms of the Indian Excise Committee on the Bengal Bill of 1904, a revised Bill was prepared and submitted to the Government of India last January. The orders of the Government of India are awaited.

"The same Hon'ble Member refers to the recent inquiry of the Committee appointed to inquire into licensing of liquor shops in Calcutta, and he states that the evidence placed before this Committee revealed the unsatisfactory character of the present Excise Administration. He says that excessive facilities for drinking are given in Calcutta, on no apparent principle and without local consideration. I have to state that the report of the Calcutta Committee, on the licensing of liquor shops in Calcutta, has been recently submitted to Your Honour's Government; and I am in hopes that Your Honour will be in a position to pass orders on it within a few days and to give effect to some valuable suggestions which it contains. In anticipation of Your Honour's orders, I may say that the Excise Authorities in Calcutta may, at least, take credit for the fact that there are fewer country spirit shops in this City than in the other great Cities of India; and also for the fact that, so far from any increase having been made in the number of country spirit shops, Calcutta proper has to-day fewer such shops than it had 40 years ago, in spite of the large increase of population."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said :—With your permission, Sir, I would like to thank the Hon'ble Members for the manner in which they have received this 'adversity' budget, as one has called it, and for many suggestions so frankly expressed. One of the most gratifying features, perhaps, of to-day's debate is that despite the great length of some of the speeches, the vehemence of another, and the numerous criticisms made in regard to minor matters, no really serious objection has been raised to the budget estimates laid on the table a fortnight ago. While most of the Hon'ble Members have very kindly sympathised with me in having no surplus funds to distribute and in having, on the contrary, to face a situation requiring rigid economy and vigorous retrenchment where possible, several of them, when strongly advocating measures involving increased expenditure, appear to have overlooked for the moment the reasons that prompted the expression of condolence.

"Most of the questions raised have already been dealt with by my Hon'ble colleagues It will be convenient, perhaps, at this late hour, if I deal in the fewest possible words with the remaining points which concern more exclusively the departments under my administrative control, subject by subject, and not according to the order in which the several gentlemen have spoken.

"In the first place, several Members have referred to the form in which the Financial Statement has been presented: some appear to be satisfied with it; others disappointed that the form has not been altered. The Hon'ble Babus Radha Charan Pal and Kali Pada Ghosh seem from their remarks to have had some difficulty in understanding its arrangement. I am sorry I am unable to accept the responsibility for this. Had they applied to me, I would have been most pleased to explain any point to them. I must, however, make it clear to the Hon'ble Members that the form in which the accounts are presented does not depend upon the caprice of the Financial Secretary: the form is laid down by higher authority. The Hon'ble Members will readily understand that it is most essential in respect of accounts that a uniform system should be adopted for all Provinces. One Hon'ble Member has made some pertinent observations on the form in which the Education figures are shown. The inconvenience of the arrangement had attracted our attention when compiling information for another Member; and I shall take the matter up during the current year and see if the Controller-General will agree to certain proposals which will, perhaps, make for convenience of consideration. It would probably be helpful, for instance, if the expenditure on primary, secondary, higher and technical education were separately classed.

"In reply to one of the points raised by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, I would point out that when a grant is made by the Imperial Government to Provincial, it becomes merged in the Provincial funds, and there is nothing incorrect in what was said by me on the 21st ultimo, as he seems to suppose. The system of showing under the Education head expenditure falling under 'Local' separately from expenditure under 'Provincial' is a custom that has been followed for many years, as he will see by reference to previous Fnancial Statements. The complaint, however, which this Hon'ble Member has made towards the end of his speech that he is unable to understand why Budget provision should be made for what has already been decided upon and ordered is one that I find it more difficult to deal with, as coming from a gentleman who has made an elaborate criticism of the Financial Statement. The fact that a vessel has been already ordered and that it is on its way out does not, unfortunately, absolve the purchaser from the responsibility of paying for it!

"The Hon'ble the Nawab Bahadur has expressed surprise that the receipts under Land-revenue have been estimated at five lakhs more than the figures shown in the revised estimate for 1907-08. The estimate of gross receipts, however, includes recoveries on account of the cost of surveys. Moreover, there has been a considerable decrease in the revised estimate for 1907-08, owing to suspensions and remissions. The net result is that the estimate shows an increase of only Rs. 13,000 over the actuals of 1906-07.

"One of the most remarkable features of the remarks made by certain Hon'ble Members to-day is that while on one hand they are clamorous for largely increased expenditure on certain objects which they have particularly at heart, they equally strongly deprecate increase of income under what are some of our main expandable heads of revenue. If increase in receipts is to be checked, expenditure cannot rise. In view of certain of the remarks made more especially in regard to Education, I may be excused, then, Sir, if I mention that the Financial Secretary has to consider the income and expenditure of the Province as a whole; and if any one department proposes so large an increase of expenditure that, if accepted, it would involve curtailing the ordinary and essential expenditure of other departments, it is the duty of the Financial Department to press for a more equitable distribution. I have explained on a previous occasion that Education, in view of the very considerations which have been iterated to-day, has already received, and is receiving, exceptional treatment as compared with other departments.

"The Hon'ble Member of the Board has dealt with the remarks made in respect of Excise and Salt. The Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur and also some other Hon'ble Members appear to be under a wrong impression as regards the effect of the Budget estimates under assessed taxes on the work of the local officers; and as the fallacy underlying the remarks might, if unchallenged, give rise to serious misconception, I ought, I think, to point out that the remarks made in this connexion are evidently due to a complete misapprehension. The local officers do not even know what the Government estimates for their districts are. The Government estimate of receipts is made up for the Province as a whole, and is not split up district by district. As a matter of fact, the estimates being cautiously framed are generally considerably less than the actual receipts, so that if the local officers were influenced at all by the Government estimate, this influence would be in the direction of making them keep down rather than raise receipts. Your Honour's Council will, no doubt, have observed how very anxious certain of the Hon'ble Members are to throw the whole responsibility of any increase in the receipts from this tax upon the shoulders of the assessing officers: there is no hint of a suggestion that perhaps the circumstances of some of the assessees might have actually improved. They start apparently with the assumption that this is not possible; how far such an assumption is correct will be known to those Members of this Council who have served most of their time in the districts.

"Several Hon'ble Members have recommended the extension of the grant of compensation for dearness of provisions to officers drawing pay of more than Rs. 30 per mensem. So far the Government of India have only authorized us to grant compensation up to this limit. The question is really one of funds. As it is, the expenditure on this account, with the existing limit, has been so heavy as to seriously cripple the provincial resources, and the Government of India have been unable hitherto to hold out any promise of assistance in this direction. This Government has not been deaf to the suggestions made in this connection; and the possibility of extending the limit when the Provincial finances are in a better position will not be lost sight of. The Hon'ble Members have, no doubt, noticed in last week's Gazette of India the statement made in reply to a remark made by Your Honour on this subject by the Hon'ble Finance Member in His Excellency's Council, which were not, I think, published at the time in the daily papers. The Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh has expressed disappointment that the provision made for the current year is less than the revised estimate for last year. I may say in regard to this that the allowances for the last quarter of 1906-07 were in some cases not drawn during that year, and thus swelled the figures for 1907-08.

"Many of the Hon'ble Members have referred to the question of expenditure on sanitary improvements, chiefly in connection with the promised grant of 4½ lakhs from the Imperial Government. No separate orders have yet been received from the Government of India in regard to the manner in which this grant is to be spent, and therefore no definite scheme has yet been drawn up as to how the money should be allotted; but it will be seen from the remarks made by the Hon'ble Finance Member in the Imperial Financial Statement that it is intended that the money should be devoted to sanitary measures with special reference to the prevention of plague. The Government has done much of recent years to assist local bodies in undertaking measures of sanitary improvement. The resources of District Boards have also been largely augmented by grants equivalent to about 25 per cent. of the collections from the Public Work Cess; and these bodies may properly be expected to devote a portion of this income to local sanitation. As stated in this room on a recent occasion, the Government of India have also accorded their sanction to the introduction in this Council of certain provisions relating to sanitation in the Bill to amend the Bengal Local Self-Government Act. These provisions, if passed, will give local committees power to undertake works of sanitation and to raise funds for the purpose by permissive local taxation.

"Rather than agree in the remark of the Hon'ble the Nawab Bahadur as to the inadequacy of the grant made by the Imperial Government, I think we should welcome the assignment as a very generous one in view of the existing famine conditions. The grant, I may say for the information of this and other Hon'ble Members, is a recurring one. The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal has seized the opportunity to claim a portion of the grant for the Calcutta Corporation. As I have already stated, nothing can yet be said as to how the money will be allotted; but I may point out that while the average annual death rate per mille from plague during the past five years has been only 6·24 in Calcutta, it has ranged between 20 and 26 per mille in several of the large towns in the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions, where the local authorities have not the same means to carry out measures of prevention and protection. To the Hon'ble Rai Bahadur Kishori Lal Goswami's demand for a large share towards a filtered water-supply installation for the riparian municipalities, a somewhat similar reply must be given at present: the Hon'ble Member perhaps does not fully realize the enormous cost that such a comprehensive scheme would involve Several Hon'ble Members have urged the importance of taking action towards the prevention of the spread of malaria. Government is in full sympathy with them in this matter. Two important proposals were made by the special Drainage Committee, viz., (1) the appointment of special officers to conduct inquiry of a systematic and organized character into the prevalence of malaria and the conditions governing the distribution of the disease that may afford a basis for remedial action, and (2) the creation of a special engineering division, charged with the examination of the drainage conditions of specfied areas and the preparation of projects for their improvement where necessary. A reference was made to the Government of India on both these points. That Government have approved of the first proposal, but they have been unable so far to provide an Indian Medical Service Officer for the purpose. As to the second proposal, orders have not yet been received. In the hope, however, that both the projects will be started during the current year a provision of Rs. 30,000 has been made in the budget. Certain other minor proposals of the Committee are also being given effect to. A sum of Rs. 10,000 has, further, been provided for the continuance of the special anti-malarial measures which are being carried out at Ranaghat, North Barrackpore and Mahespur. Steps have also been taken for the wider distribution of quinine as a preventive for malaria.

"The Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad has again raised the question of a scheme for water-supply at Patna. The answer given only the other day to a question on this subject put by him in this Council stated the facts correctly. The report referred to by him is in the possession of Government. The most recent estimate which has been framed by the professional advise to Government in these matters amounts, as already stated, to about Rs. 20,00,000, and the maintenance charges have been estimated at Rs. 40,000 per annum. I may, perhaps, remind the Hon'ble Member, in this connection, of the question of the installation of another pumping station in that city. Although Government has provided an allotment of Rs. 50,000, and the Maharaja Bahadur of Darbhanga has generously promised another Rs. 50,000, the local authorities have been unable to raise even the small non-recurring sum of Rs. 10,000 which is the balance required to carry out this much-needed project. If this be so, how can they possibly be expected to provide the recurring maintenance charges of the water-works scheme, even were the amount required for the initial capital outlay forthcoming?

"Government will be very glad to see the scheme for a central hospital at Burdwan carried out. Negotiations regarding the disposal of the present site of the hospital have not yet been concluded; but if the site be disposed of, the sale proceeds together with the very liberal donation promised by the Maharaj-Adhiraj, will doubtless provide sufficient funds for such portion of the work as could be carried out in the course of the current year. Government will try to give further assistance when the financial condition sufficiently improves.

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal remarks that no provision has been made in the budget for increasing the salaries of Civil Assistant Surgeons. It is not the custom to make budget provision for any scheme before it has even been considered by Government. The proposals of the Inspector General of Civil Hospital, in connection with the memorials received by him from certain Assistant Surgeons have only been received by Government three or four days ago. As already stated by me at the last meeting of this Council, these proposals will receive full consideration at the hands of Government. The ultimate decision in such a matter, as my hon'ble friend probably knows, will not rest with this Government. It is a question that concerns other Provinces also, and if the Supreme Government decide that improvement in the pay and prospects of the service is necessary, a reference to the Secretary of State will be required.

"This Government shares the regret of the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh that final orders have not yet been issued on the recommendations made by the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. Certain further information has recently been called for by the Supreme Government, and endeavour is being made to supply this as soon as possible. Meanwhile, as explained once before in this Council, provisional increases of pay in the shape of personal allowances have been sanctioned with effect from November, 1905, for a large number of officers pending the disposal of the matter.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Larmour has suggested that attention should be given to the provision of quarters for the poorer classes of Government servants in Calcutta. It is not, however, in respect of this class of officers that administrative difficulties have arisen, as they do not ordinarily occupy the class of houses, the rents of which have so rapidly increased of recent years. Most of these officers in fact are either residents of the town or its suburbs and live in their own houses or have, been recruited directly for Calcutta appointments.

"In reply to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose as to the inadequacy of the grants made to District Boards in aid of their expenditure on Education, Medical, etc., I would invite his attention to paragraph 12 of the Financial Statement, from which it will be seen that the grant of Rs. 5,51,000 is a net grant, i.e., it is over and above the receipts from ferries, pounds, etc., which were made over to the District Boards on the introduction of the Local Self Government Act, and which amount to more than 4 lakhs; I may take this opportunity of mentioning that during the past week the Government of India have sanctioned the inclusion in the Bill for the amendment of Local Self-Government Act of the provisions proposed by this Government with the object of ear-marking the road cess and prohibiting its diversion to purposes other than those enumerated in section 109 of the Cess Act.

"It is doubtful whether there is any necessity to load the Financial Statement with all the details of expenditure on Civil Works suggested by the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Lal Goswami. Much information is already given. I shall, however, be glad to consider, in consultation with the Secretary in the Public Works Department, any proposals that are calculated to show the actual expenditure on particular works during the preceding year, as compared with budget provision, which can be ascertained without laying an excessive increase of work upon the office staffs at a season when the strain is already severe.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland has asked whether more money cannot be expended on roads in the mufassal. The answer is: 'Yes more money could be expended if it were available.' The object is: undoubtedly a worthy one, and Government would be glad if it could see its way to making a larger allotment for this purpose, though it may not be possible in the circumstances of this Province, to work up to the Ceylon standard of excellence. The bulk of the expenditure on the construction and repairs of roads in the mufassal is borne by the District Board Funds. The average annual expenditure incurred by the District Boards during the last ten years on communications has been Rs. 24,58,000. The provision for communications in the Provincial budget is only in respect of trunk and other Provincial roads. During the past ten years the average expenditure on original works and repairs in respect of such communications has been Rs. 11,17,000, excluding the proportionate charges for establishment, tools and plant; and the grant for the current year is Rs. 12,14,000. Besides this allotment, the budget includes grants of 10 lakhs in aid of District Funds. These special grants are chiefly spent on communications. We were unable to make any further provision this year. The same Hon'ble Member has referred to the remarks he made in this Council seven years ago regarding the want of a second lung for Calcutta in the form of a Maidan towards Tollyganj. It is understood that considerable open space has already been secured at Tollygan through the exertions of the local clubs. While entirely sympathizing with the Hon'ble Member in the view he takes, it is a project, I think, that should in the first instance be taken up by the Corporation or be commended to private munificence.

"Some four Hon'ble Members have referred to the question of investing the sum of Rs. 50,00,000 set apart by the Government of India towards the Calcutta Improvement Scheme. This money cannot be invested without the specific orders of the Government of India; and in view of the announcement made by the Hon'ble the Home Member in His Excellency's Council on the 27th ultimo, it is not probable that the Government of India will consent to such investment at this stage. As to the scheme itself, this Government has no further information as to the stage at which it now rests than what was contained in the announcement made by the Hon'ble Sir Harvey Adamson in the Imperial Council on the 27th ultimo. There must, however, be many difficult questions of taxation and legislation to decide before the scheme can be actually taken in hand. I would remind the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal that the public were consulted on the principles of the scheme'

"The Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal has made several remarks on the subject of the Calcutta Corporation. The Hon'ble Sir Charles Allen has referred to certain points on which I need not touch further. The question of Decentralization referred to was dropped so long ago as 1905. Government has nothing to add to what has already been said as to the amendment of the Calcutta Municipal Act. The question of Court-fees in municipal appeal cases is under the consideration of Government. I wish, however, to say that I am greatly surprised that the Hon'ble Member should have referred in this Council to Your Honour's remarks on the subject of the conversion of the intermittent water-supply into constant-supply within the town proper. The Hon'ble Member, who is himself a prominent Member of the Corporation, is probably, or ought to be, fully aware that this remark was based upon the statement made by the Chairman himself, as explained this afternoon by Sir Charles Allen in his Administration Report, a statement that is indisputable and that was not taken exception to by the special committee appointed by the Corporation to review the report. The Hon'ble Member must also fully understand the technical meaning of the term 'constant supply' —which is not a new one—in contradistinction to the term 'intermittent supply.'

"I now come—and this is the last subject I need touch upon— to the complaint made by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose to the effect that the budget shows that while stationery purchased in this country is worth Rs. 37,000, stationery obtained from foreign countries is worth Rs. 6,68,000. I am sorry he should have given publicity to this statement without further inquiry. The provision of Rs. 37,000 is for the purchase of stationery by the several departments direct from the local market; while the provision of Rs. 6,68,000 is for the value of stores supplied by the Stationery Department. Most of these stores are obtained in India. In 1906-07, for instance, the last year for which figures are available, stores to the value of Rs. 5,20,000 were purchased in this country. There is no increase of two lakhs in the estimate under Stationery. The only marked increase was in the revised figures of 1907-08, and this was due to quite unavoidable causes.'

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen—We are now coming to the close of a long discussion, in the course of which many subjects have been considered. My hon'ble friend, Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose, has courteously acknowledged the great disinclination which I have had, throughout my whole tenure of office, to limit the discretion of Hon'ble Members in their budget speeches, or to stop them when they came to discuss irrelevant matters. I have always felt that it is very desirable to allow Hon'ble Members as much freedom as possible, in the exercise of their right of interpellation, and in the speeches that they make in the Budget debate. I attach great importance to frankness of interpellation, inasmuch as it enables us to know something of the views of Hon'ble Members, and to make explanations which it is desirable to make. And in the same way, I welcome frank discussion of administrative measures and questions of general policy in the Budget debate I do not consider that, as the business of this Council is at present conducted, the Budget debate should be limited to matters clearly and manifestly relevant to the Budget. There are, however, certain matters which are so clearly irrelevant that they ought not to be discussed in this Council at all. I have not stopped Hon'ble Members to-day; because, on the one hand, I have considered that the remarks they have made on such subjects have been generally made without thought of their irrelevance; and because, on the other hand, it generally tends to save time to allow a man to state his case in his own way. I may, however, indicate some of the subjects which, I think, may well be omitted from a discussion in this Council. By doing so, I may, perhaps, prevent Hon'ble Members from discussing such subjects in future; and, in any case, by doing so I shall make clear to Hon'ble Members why I do not deal with certain questions which they have raised.

"Among these questions are such as the following. It is surely unnecessary to emphasize the absolute irrelevance of matters connected with the Government and Administration of another Province, which were referred to by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. It is not relevant here to criticise the constitution of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Council. There are also certain matters connected with the administration of the Corporation of Calcutta, in respect of which it is perfectly easy to obtain information by questions or discussion in the Corporation itself. We are not unconcerned with the affairs of the Corporation of Calcutta; but the questions I refer to irrelevant, not only to the Budget discussion in this Council but also the whole work of the Council itself. The Budget of this Government contains no reference to such matters; for it is not the duty of Government to finance, or to accept responsibility for, them; and the Council itself has really no concern with them. Then, again, there have been brought before us to-day certain judicial matters, with which it is clear that neither the Government nor the Council has any concern. We should go out of our way altogether, for example, if we were to deal here with any individual case of unwise or improper procedure on the part of any Judicial Officer, the natural remedy for which is to bring it to the notice of that officer's judicial superiors. Similarly, we have no concern with matters which are entirely at the discretion of the High Court. This not only refers to the work of the High Court, as illustrated, for example, in the confidential reports on judicial officers, but also to the ministerial establishment of the High Court, in respect of which no action can be expected, until the Hon'ble Judges move the Government when necessity arises. Another class of subjects irrelevant in discussions here, are those which are entirely under the control of the Government of India. Criticism of Imperial taxation is a very suitable subject for discussion in the Council of His Excellency the Viceroy; but it is neither relevant nor useful in this Council.

"As I have said, these observations will explain why certain questions raised by Hon'ble Members, in the course of their speeches, have not been discussed by the Officers of this Government, and will not be discussed by me. I may now add, by way of further explanation, that a very large number of the questions, which have been raised in the speeches of Hon'ble Members, have been fully dealt with in the speeches of the Officers of this Government, and do not therefore require special attention from me. I shall confine myself to only a few points; and Hon'ble Members will not misunderstand my refraining from the discussion of many even of the interesting and important points which they have raised.

"Several Members have spoken of the advantages which have been gained by the discussions of the Provincial Budget by the Members of the Board and Secretaries to Government with certain non official Members. I think that there has been some indication that certain Hon'ble Members have forgotten, that these discussions are of a confidential character. I do not know that there has been anything said which one has much cause to regret; but, at the same time, I think it is well that the confidential character of these discussions should be carefully borne in mind. Hon'ble Members are invited to take part in them on the distinct understanding that they keep its proceedings to themselves, and will themselves perceive the importance of this, inasmuch as the frankness of the discussions will depend largely on the recognition of their confidential character. I regret to find that the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal regards it as a grievance that he was not invited to these discussions. I may say by way of explanation that, when I selected the Hon'ble Members who should be summoned to them, I selected those whom I believed to be deeply interested in, and likely therefore to be able to give the Government good advice regarding, the Budget and Provincial Finance. As the work of the Council is at present regulated, no Hon'ble Member can claim as a right to take part in these discussions. But even when a Select Committee is appointed to discuss a Bill, those Members of Council are selected who are interested in the measure and likely to be able to advise in regard to it.

"I think that these discussions have been of very great value. My hon'ble friend, the Financial Secretary, has kept me fully informed of their history; and the views which Hon'ble Members have expressed have received, from myself and from the other Officers of the Bengal Government, the fullest consideration. I could point to certain modifications in the Budget which were adopted on the spot at these Conferences; and I am glad to think, that my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari was able to strengthen my hands in an appeal which I found it necessary to make to the Government of India, to allow me to go on with absolutely necessary extensions in the Presidency College—an appeal which was sympathetically received by that Government. My hon'ble friend, however, desires to go a long way further than I fear it will be possible to allow, in his confidential discussions of the Budget before the debate in Council. He proposes that we should place at his disposal the Secretariat records and Secretariat staff. I venture to think that no Member of Parliament would ask to be allowed to have free access to the Government Offices at Home, to inspect their records, and to utilize their staff in his inquiries; and I am afraid that it would similarly be quite inconsistent with the proper discharge of public business, to allow that in this country. I think that a good number of the difficulties under which my hon'ble friend has felt himself to labour, would have been removed, if the calls of his private work had not prevented him from accepting the courteous invitation of my hon'ble friend, Mr. Streatfeild, to discuss with him any Educational question in respect of which he had difficulties.

"I should like, before going on to discuss certain matters of administration to inform the Council that the Government of India have been pleased to consider favourably and sanction our proposals, regarding the utilization of the Road Cess. I am sure that this announcement will give pleasure to Hon'ble Members. I regret to say that I cannot yet give any information regarding the views of the Government of India on the Excise Bill, in which so many Hon'ble Members are interested, as the final orders of that Government have not been received.

"I cannot consent to deal at length with the charges brought by the Hon'ble Babu Radha Charan Pal against the Calcutta Police, in connection with the riots which occurred last October. All that I have had to say on this matter has been said clearly enough already. I do not think that any good purpose has been served by the Hon'ble Member in dilating upon that matter again in Council. The inquiries that have been made, the efforts to sift the evidence and ascertain the truth, the careful examination of the facts, have evidently made no impression on his mind nor in any way altered his views on the subject. The Hon'ble Member speaks of himself in one part of his address as 'the echo of the public voice.' I am prepared to admit that he may have echoed the voice of many of the people in the original statements that he made months ago on this subject, under the influence of the impressions created by the first reports of the disturbances. I am, however, far from admitting the position which he now takes up in respect of this question. He goes so far as to say that he is 'giving expression to the feelings of the mass of his countrymen,' in reiterating these charges against the Police; and not only against the police but against the Government of Bengal. I do not believe this. The charges against the Police generally were carefully investigated by an Officer of great experience, and distinguished for soundness of judgment and impartiality, who was specially deputed to make that investigation. Individual charges, where they were made, were investigated by Mr. Halliday, the Commissioner of Police, an Officer who, I know, is highly respected and trusted in Calcutta, and whose earnest desire to purify the Police Force is beyond all question. There is nothing more to be said in regard to this matter.

"As to the Government of Bengal, it was animated from the outset by a desire to know the truth and to ascertain and punish abuse, if abuse could be ascertained, and if the perpetrators of it could be identified. If blame is attached to the Government of Bengal, it can only be by those who think that the Police ought to be punished, whether guilty or not; and that the ordinary rules of evidence and the requirements of justice do not apply, when the persons accused of offences happen to be policemen. The Hon'ble Member appears to draw a distinction between 'the friend of the police' and 'the friend and protector of the people.' I draw no such distinction. The greater includes the less. If I accept the former designation, it is because I have done what I could, both specially as one of the Members of the Police Commission, and also in other capacities in which I have had the honour of serving the Government, to purify the Police Force, to cure it of defects and to make it a worthy instrument of administration. The Police Force will not be encouraged to do effectively and righteously the work that they have to do by irrational and groundless abuse on the part of the Public, or by unjust treatment on the part of the Government. As to the latter term, I do not hesitate, with all humility, to put in a claim to have been a 'friend and protector of the people,' so far as has lain in my power. I have received to-day from various sources kindly recognition of the feelings by which I am animated, in regard to the various classes of the community and the people of various parts of the Province. But I should ill-deserve that name, if I were, with regard to one unfortunate section of the community, to depart from the principles of justice and righteousness.

"Talking of the Police reminds me of what has been said in regard to the expenditure on the Police, I am gratified to find my hon'ble friend,

Mr. Sutherland and other members, expressing their satisfaction at the efforts made to carry out Police reforms. The expenditure on the Police has been adopted in accordance with a policy clearly laid down by the Government of India. Such of the recommendations of the Police Commission as were approved by the Government of India, were practically accepted by all critics of all shades of opinion, and are being introduced as funds permit. The assistance which the Government of India has given us in this matter has been very liberal; because the policy, which is being carried out, is a policy cordially approved and deliberately adopted by the Government of India and the Secretary of State. It is, however, necessary that there should be some little exercise of patience on the part of the Public in regard to this matter. We cannot expect to reap the precious fruit that we have set our hearts on, immediately after we have begun to sow the seed. If we had been able to remove from the force every member of every degree who was, or was suspected to be, other than a thoroughly good officer, and to supply the places of these by men received fully equipped from some unknown Utopia, no doubt the expenditure on Police Reform would have had an immediate return. Sober-minded men will see that this was impossible, and will exercise some patience in waiting for the results. I need not enter into details on this matter, which has been already discussed by the Hon'ble Mr. Gait.

"I may add that if there is some lack of wisdom in this somewhat impatient criticism, there is something which is much more mischievous in such remarks as were made by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose, where he spoke of the people 'as not being much in love with the police' and 'being prepared to bless the Government if they saw less of them,' and of the Police as 'being maintained only for the suppression of a Hindu-Mussalman riot once in ten years, or dispersing a Bande Mataram procession.' The Hon'ble Member says, in another connection, that 'Indian Members often use strong language. Our words,' he says, 'are so little heeded that the temptation to use strong words often becomes very great.' I can assure the Hon'ble Member that if the fact that a man is not heard makes him use strong language, it is at the very least as true that a man who habitually uses strong language is not listened to. Words lose weight when they are abused. Despite defects in the Police, which I for one have insisted on, and which we are endeavouring to eradicate, it is not true that the people hate the Police. It is a singular fact, of which the Police Commission had evidence in every Province, that when the removal of a thana is proposed, in the interests of police administration, the people of the neighbourhood very soon petition against it. And I am sure that my hon'ble friend would not find his movements, even about the City of Calcutta, as easy and as free of danger as they are, if he saw much less of the Police.

"We have heard a good deal to-day about Education, and it is a subject about which we can hardly hear too much. It is a matter in regard to which interest should be constantly kept alive. I think that, in Bengal, Education has received less attention in the past than in any other Province with which I am acquainted. I think that the reason of this may have been partly that Bengal was supposed to be a wealthy Province. It was not very liberally treated in regard to its Provincial Financial Settlements. I think that of late years the Government of India have been more just and liberal in their treatment of Bengal. One consequence of the earlier neglect has been, that Education in Bengal has not been properly financed; and it has therefore not been, generally speaking, of a very high class. There are no doubt many good Primary Schools in Bengal; but a larger proportion of the Primary Schools are practically worthless than in any Province that I know. The same is true about Secondary Schools; and to a certain extent also, at least until quite recently, about Colleges. The result of this is, that, if education is to be placed on a satisfactory footing, there must be great expenditure; and the expenditure must be undertaken as rapidly as funds allow. To me the natural line of operation would have been to begin at the bottom and tackle the Primary Schools first, then the Secondary Schools, and then the Colleges. But our hands have been forced by circumstances. The law has insisted on our putting the Colleges on a satisfactory footing. If we do not do so, we must close them.

We have, therefore, been bound to incur the somewhat disproportionate expenditure on higher education to which my hon'ble friend, Mr. Sutherland, objected; and our movement must now be downwards. We must indeed take up Primary Education: that presses upon us on every side. But we must also set about improving our Secondary Schools. From the mere fact that we have had to put our Colleges on a more satisfactory basis, we must specially tackle Secondary Education immediately. We cannot have our Colleges sound, while our Secondary Schools are bad. I am sorry that this year is a year of financial pressure; because this will hinder us, to a large extent, in the good work which has been begun. The Budget presented by the Hon'ble the Finance Member to the Government of India was, however, although a Famine Budget, one that inspires us with hope; and we believe that the suspension of effort, during the year on which we have just entered, will be but a very temporary check in our career of progress.

"We have had a great deal of talk to day about Technical Education. I cannot adequately discuss this subject at the present moment. Much has been already said by my hon'ble friend, Mr. Streatfeild. We have the subject of Technical Education at heart; and we are taking steps which we believe will lead to our advancing that cause in a wise and sober manner. It is easy to formulate crude and ill-digested schemes; but unless it is possible to examine and mature them, it is better to lay them aside. It is certainly unwise to adopt them. Our failures in the past have taught us this. The Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild has explained what we are doing; and I think a little patience must be exercised until we see what our inquiries will show. It is interesting and helpful to receive suggestions from all those who are thinking earnestly on the subject; but I trust that our many advisers will not forget that a keen interest in the subject does not make one an expert, and that experience has shown the great necessity for carefully considering schemes before inaugurating them.

"Before passing from this subject of Education, I may say that I entirely concur in the remarks which have fallen from my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, regarding the work which Mr. Earle did as Director of Public Instruction. Great opposition was made to Mr. Earle's appointment. It was due in many cases to pure self-interest; in others, to an unworthy jealousy of a particular service; and, in many cases, to unwitting misapprehension of the situation. As my hon'ble friend has said, the appointment 'has been justified in every way.' Mr. Earle's 'conscientious and thorough work' has brought the department to a position which it has not occupied for years, and to which I am convinced no other officer available could have brought it at the time. I concur in the 'sentiments of gratitude' with which my hon'ble friend recognizes 'the earnest and single-minded endeavour' of Mr. Earle in this department.

"I am greatly attracted by the subject of Hospitals and Dispensaries, to which I have given much attention since I assumed charge of the office of Lieutenant-Governor; and if I were to say all that I might on this subject I should occupy much of your time. I have endeavoured to improve the hospitals throughout the Province; and I desire to express the great satisfaction with which I have found in the interior a hearty response, on the part of wealthy and liberal men, to appeals made to them on this behalf. Anything which I have given to the hospitals of the interior, has generally been supplemented very considerably by private liberality. It is a matter of great satisfaction to find a growing interest in hospital work on the part of the more enlightened sections of the community, and a greater pride in their Medical Institutions. In regard to Calcutta itself, thanks in some measure to private liberality and thanks also to the policy inaugurated by my predecessor which I have pursued, great improvements have taken place in the Medical Institutions. While most of the hospitals of the City have been improved, some of them almost out of recognition, I have devoted special attention to the Medical College Hospital. My reason for this is twofold: first, that it is a great hospital for Indians and therefore demands special attention from the Government; and, in the second place, because it is the great medical Teaching Institution of the Province, and sends out its students to do Medical work in all parts of the Province, and indeed to other parts of India. I think that this Institution, both as a hospital and as a college, though there still remain some improvements to be effected, is an Institution of which we have now no cause to be ashamed.

"In connection with this subject of Medical Relief, I should like to express my admiration for the spirit which has prompted my hon'ble friend, Maharaj-Adiraj Bijay Chand Mahtab, Bahadur, to consider the case of the poorer clerks and others, in respect of their need of a Sanitarium, and to make the generous offer which he has made to-day in Council. It will be interesting to see how far this suggestion of his is taken up by the Public and by liberal-minded and wealthy men in our community. I shall be glad myself to assist in forwarding a scheme of such real beneficence.

"Before passing from the discussion of Medical Work, I should like to say a few words in regard to Plague. I do not consider it necessary, after what has been said by my hon'ble friend the Financial Secretary, to treat of the subject of Sanitation generally. The Council is already well aware of what we are doing, and of what we feel are the limitations of our present action, in regard to this very important matter. The continuance of Plague among us calls, however, for a few words as to the measures which have been taken during the year. We had a very interesting Conference on Plague at Bankipur on the 9th of July, 1907. There were present at that Conference the Sanitary Officers of Government, the Commissioner of the Division, all the Magistrates and Civil Surgeons of Bihar districts, and a number of non-official gentlemen, both medical men and laymen, who are deeply interested in this subject. There was a most valuable discussion of the whole matter and some useful notes were circulated afterwards. The relative importance of inoculation, evacuation of houses, rat-killing and the like were all discussed, as well as the times and places when these measures should best be adopted, and the best method of medical relief. The gracious letter of His Majesty the King-Emperor, and a letter from His Excellency the Viceroy to me, were translated into the vernacular and widely circulated for the encouragement of the people. The instructions of the Government of India regarding the prevention of the spread of Plague, and a leaflet prepared by the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, containing instructions for its prevention and treatment, were circulated to all Commissioners. Major Clemesha was specially deputed by this Government to the plague-infected districts in Bihar, to give instructions to selected Medical Officers, of the Assistant Surgeon and Hospital Assistant classes, in the most approved methods of inoculation, and to explain to the people the prophylactic benefit of this treatment. At the same time, District Officers and Civil Surgeons convened meetings of the people, and explained to them the measures advised by Government. Three Officers of the Indian Medical Service were also specially deputed to Bihar for plague work; and, in addition to the cost of their salaries, grants amounting to over Rs. 70,000 were made for helping the people to resist this epidemic. All these measures have been taken to meet the grievous evil; but we admit that, in respect of Plague as well as other epidemics, the great remedy is sanitation. We have been doing what little we can ourselves; we have called upon the public to assist us, and I am glad to say not always without a hearty response; and we are specially grateful to the Government of India for the grant which they have made to us for the special purpose of promoting Sanitation, a grant which, though it may seem to earnest advocates of Sanitation not to be adequate for our necessities, is at all events a generous and liberal contribution at this time of financial pressure.

"I should like to say a word in regard to the claims we have on the co-operation of liberal-minded persons in this Province, in regard to such matters as Education, Medical Work and Sanitation. My hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, has dealt at considerable length with this matter. His treatment of it has not been altogether logical. He refers to the statement made by this Government, that in regard to Education we can hardly hope for real progress without the assistance of private liberality. A little later on he asks, 'What princely and munificent endowments do we expect from a people out of whom Government, with its powerful machinery, cannot take more than Rs. 4 in the shape of Imperial Taxes and Revenues?' The Hon'ble Member does not expect to be taken seriously in this question. For, in the same paragraph of his speech, he speaks of the munificent gifts of men like the Maharaja of Darbhanga, the late Babu Prasanna Kumar Tagore, the late Maharaja Sir Jotendra Mohan Tagore, the late Mr. Prem Chand Roy Chand, the late Babu Guru Prasanna Ghose and others; and then he says significantly, 'These are endowments that might and ought to be manifolded if all who, in similar spheres of life, had the capacity, had also the inclination to imitate the noble-minded donors whom I have named.' With this view, I entirely concur. There are many who can afford to give large sums to schemes that are for the public good; and I am glad to say there are not a few who are willing to do so. I would ask for earnest assistance in regard to Education. I would ask that people who can afford it should assist the Government in constructing Primary Schools, in providing scholarships for Secondary Schools, and in making our Colleges really useful and worthy institutions. We have had recently a great appeal from the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor for assistance to the University. I go further and ask for assistance to our Schools and Colleges. We are in difficulty, for example, about the Presidency College. Why is it that we cannot report assistance rendered by old pupils of this great institution? I like to hear gentlemen talking of the Professors who taught them, as their friends, and describing them as the best men that could have been in the position they occupied. But why, with such recollections of their old College, do they not come forward, as far as they are able, to the assistance of the Presidency College, in making itself worthy of its great position and its great traditions?

"In the same way, I should like to see the Public coming forward to assist the Government in making the Medical College and its Hospital worthy of this great City. I have not had very much assistance in what I have been doing for this College. I acknowledge very gratefully the assistance which has been rendered by gentlemen, who have amongst them given three blocks of wards for paying patients, which are now in course of construction; but I cannot but express my regret that these gentlemen are confined to two sections of the community, and these sections rather of the nature of foreigners in Calcutta. I should like to see the Community generally helping us in our work. I may perhaps, however, be permitted here to tell you a secret in regard to these contributions They have all been got for me by a private Practitioner in this City, my esteemed friend, Rai Kailash Chunder Bose, Bahadur. This gentleman makes it a practice, when a patient is specially grateful for some great service rendered to him through his medical skill, to ask that patient to subscribe to something for the bringing of relief to others in similar condition. I have been benefited more than once, not only in Calcutta but also in respect of hospitals in the interior, from this large-hearted and thoroughly professional attitude, on the part of my esteemed friend. I should like to see a great deal more of esprit de corps among Medical Practitioners of this City. I should like to see the Officials and Non-officials working together, heartily and without jealousy, in the work of the great profession to which they belong. I should like to see them working together not only in their professional work, but also in furthering the interests of the great Medical Institutions which are found in this City. It is a grand thing for medical men to be proud of their profession. I recall a great occasion when I saw the greatest Surgeon that the last century has produced, receiving the freedom of the City in the largest hall in Edinburgh. Lord Lister, when presented with the freedom of the City, made to an audience of several thousands a speech which made an impression which nothing will ever efface. After discounting the kindly words that had been said of his work by the Lord Provost of Edinburgh, he went on to say, 'This however, I can claim for myself, that I have in the course of my practice of my profession done what I could to diminish the sum of human suffering.' That remark was received by the great audience rising to its feet as one man and cheering. When quiet was restored, he added, 'And this, gentlemen, may be said by the humblest member of the noble profession to which I belong.' This is the feeling that I should like to see inspiring our medical men of all grades, of all classes, of all races: a love of the profession for the blessings that it brings to suffering humanity, a desire to advance the work of that profession among those (and they are many) who need it, and the desire to see the younger generation trained to the efficient and loving discharge of their duties."

The Council was then adjourned to Friday, the 10th April, 1908.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH SEPTEMBER 1907.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 9th April 1908.

RESOLUTION—No. 2135L.R.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September 1907, with the remarks of the Board of Revenue thereon.

The Reports of the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys and the Director of Land Records for the year ending the 30th September 1907, which were due on the 15th January, did not reach Government until the 2nd March. The Settlement Report has slightly exceeded the prescribed maximum limit of pages. A narrative of the revisional settlement operations started during the year in Orissa is an important new item, while the transfer of the control of cadastral operations from the Survey of India to the Settlement Department has further added to the subject matter; but it should be possible to curtail the Report in other directions by eliminating minor details, and by giving less space to small settlements.

2. The operations of the Survey and Settlement Departments extended over fourteen districts in all parts of Bengal. But the bulk of the work was done by the Settlement Officers of Bihar, Chota Nagpur and the Sonthal Parganas, who were engaged, respectively, in (1) Monghyr and Bhagalpur, (2) Ranchi and Dhalbhum, and (3) the Sonthal Parganas. The programme was adhered to very closely. The outturn, as shown in the margin, greatly exceeded that of the previous year. The total area for which a record-of-rights has been prepared in Bengal is now close on 40,000 square miles. The Superintendent of Provincial Surveys is still in charge of operations both in this Province and in Eastern Bengal and Assam. This is not a satisfactory arrangement, and a scheme for separation is now being considered.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice a progressive decline in the expenditure on survey and settlement operations. The cost-rate of traverse survey was nearly stationary in Ranchi, but in Dhalbhum it fell from Rs. 36·9 to Rs. 30·4 per square mile. There was an apparent rise in Monghyr, but this was due to extra triangulation carried out for topographical purposes. There was a much more noticeable reduction in the cost of cadastral survey and initial record-writing. This work was still being done by the Survey Department in the districts of Bhagalpur and Monghyr. In the former, the cost-rate fell from Rs 1·4·7 to Rs. 109 per square mile, while in the latter, where the work was newly started, it was only Rs. 105. In the district of Ranchi where for the last two years, the system has been introduced of carrying on cadastral operations through the agency of the Settlement Department assisted by a Survey Department officer as professional adviser, the cost-rate was still lower. It was Rs. 86·24 as against Rs. 89·52 in 1905-06, and an average of more than Rs. 100 in the previous years when the work was still in direct charge of the Survey Department. The average of these previous years was of course affected by the heavy expenditure which has to be incurred on buildings, tents and other non-recurring charges at the beginning of a settlement. This is exemplified in the case of Singhbhum where the reported cost-rate of 1906-07 is Rs. 124, but a much smaller rate is anticipated for the area completed in the current field season. On the other hand, the rates of the Settlement Department have it to their credit that they include the cost of supervision of initial record-writing by Revenue Officers which was excluded from the Survey Department rates. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that the new system has been a success, and he endorses the remark of the Director that the lowness of the cost-rate is highly creditable to the Settlement Officer. It is hoped that equally satisfactory results will be attained in the Bihar districts, where the same system of cadastral survey control has been introduced from October 1907.

4. The settlement operations in Chota Nagpur have resulted in the accumulation of a mass of information regarding the local agrarian conditions and customs and the main causes of dispute between landlord and tenant. The existing law has been carefully reviewed in the light of this information, and a Bill has been drafted which it is hoped shortly to introduce into Council, and which, when passed, may be expected to provide a satisfactory settlement of this troublesome subject. Paragraphs 109, 111, 122 and 123 of the Report under review contain some interesting remarks regarding occupancy and jungle rights, rents, village headmen, etc.

5. During the attestation proceedings in South Bhagalpur it was found that illegal enhancements had been made almost universally whenever an estate had changed hands. In many cases they were defended on the ground of landlords' improvements, but the rents had been enhanced to such an extent that the outlay on the improvement was very speedily recouped. In one case, after the issue of the notification under section 101 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, ordering the survey and the preparation of a record-of-rights, the landlord moved the Civil Court under section 158 (1) (d) for a declaration of the rent payable, and induced the raiyats to agree to an illegal enhancement. The Civil Court accepted the compromise without enquiry. In future such proceedings will be prevented by the amending Act of 1907 (Bengal Act I of 1907).

The prevalence of the farming system of estate management was a special difficulty in South Bhagalpur, as it raised complicated problems of status and rent enhancement. The difficulty arose in a more intense form in South Monghyr where it was left to be disposed of in the attestation of the following year. A new feature of the work was the preparation of a special irrigation record to which considerable attention was given

6. Settlement of fair rents in the district of Purnea resulted in a moderate enhancement of 8 62 per cent. It was allowed mainly on the ground of a rise in prices. The settlement of rents in the Balarampur estate of the Midnapore district caused an increase of 57 per cent. in the rent-roll. The main portion of the enhancement was derived from the reassessment of tenure-holders who had enjoyed without alteration of their rents all the profits of the extensive reclamation that had occurred in the estate since the previous settlement. The enhancement was eased off in the majority of cases by progressive assessment. Raiyats' rents were enhanced by 3 annas in the rupee which was more than justified by the rise in prices. Proposals were submitted during the year for the assessment of the large temporarily-settled estates of Jallamutha and Majnamutha which are now under direct management. Here also it has been decided to take an enhancement of 3 annas in the rupee on the ground of rise in prices.

7. The recovery of costs was stopped in Purnea in consequence of loss of crops caused by floods. Out of a total demand of Rs. 7,18,639, only Rs. 50,82?, which was voluntarily paid by landlords, was realized. In Ranchi the full demand of the year (Rs. 1,66,569) was collected; and the Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that recourse to the certificate procedure was necessary for only Rs. 736 payable by landlords.

8. The revision of the records of the last settlement of Orissa, with a view to their continuous maintenance, was commenced in Balasore in December 1906. The progress was very slow. This was due in a great measure to sickness amongst the subordinates, the novelty of the work and the inexperience of most of the supervising staff. But it was also due in part to over-elaboration in the initial record-writing, which seriously retarded attestation. A simpler procedure has now been prescribed, and the staff has been reorganized. It is hoped that this will ensure more rapid progress in future.

The maintenance of records in Sambalpur was carried on satisfactorily. The present Report shows some improvement in the record of mutations and inspection of rent-rolls of Government estates; but in Wards' estates there was a falling off as compared with the previous year. The Board of Revenue will shortly issue revised rules on this subject.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with pleasure the remarks made by the Director of Land Records regarding the extended use which is being made of settlement records by the Courts and Executive officers of Government. It is stated that they are now freely referred to by the Civil and Criminal Courts, and are generally accepted as presumptive evidence of the facts recorded in them. They form the basis of management in all Government and Wards' estates. The thana index-maps, which are compiled from the village cadastral maps, have been found most useful for District Board work, for the reorganization of Chaukidari Unions and for many other administrative purposes. In Ranchi it is said that no case relating to land is now disposed of without reference to the settlement records, and that the decisions of attestation officers as to rents and rates of rent are seldom contested. With regard to this district, it is also stated that the raiyats are now realizing fully the benefits of the settlement operations, and are understanding the rights which have thereby been secured for them. In the districts of Purnea, Shahabad and Singhbhum, however, the officers of the Registration Department do not appear to have insisted, as elsewhere, upon the description of lands by survey plot numbers in documents presented for registration. This will be brought to the notice of the Inspector-General of Registration. Steps are being taken to ensure similar identification of lands in civil suit plaints, sale certificates, etc. The system of deputing a few Munsifs every year to settlement work is being attended with very satisfactory results. The main object is of course to give them a practical knowledge of settlement procedure, and thereby to lead to a better appreciation of the record-of-rights in the Civil Courts. But apart from this, most of the Munsifs have proved most useful Assistant Settlement Officers.

10. The inspection and restoration of boundary-marks received considerable attention during the year, but a large number of damaged or missing marks still remain to be restored. Efforts should be made to have all such marks restored without undue delay.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor has already placed on record his appreciation of Major Crichton's valuable services during the sixteen years for which he was in the Bengal Provincial Survey Department. He was succeeded, in March 1907, by Captain F. C. Hirst, who has made an excellent start. The post of Director of Land Records was held successively by Messrs. Lister, Kerr and McPherson. His Honour's acknowledgments are due to these officers, and also to Messrs. Reid, Allanson, Murphy, and Taylor, and to the other officers named in the concluding paragraphs of the two Reports.

12. Extracts from the two Reports are published for general information.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it, with copies of the two Reports and the Board's note, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. A. GAIT,

Chief Secy to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extract from the Annual Report on the Survey Operations in Bengal during the year ending the 30th September 1907.

* * * * * * *

3. The outturn for the year, viz., 275 square miles of triangulation for topographical work, 6,309 square miles of Traverse Survey, 1,709 square miles of Cadastral Surveys, 1,872 square miles of Record Writing and 1,591 square miles of Topographical Survey is in each item in excess of that reported last year. The full programme has been worked up to, and it has been sometimes slightly exceeded; one case of apparent failure, viz., the Topographical Survey of a block of hills in the south of the Monghyr District is not really what it appears to be; it was decided at a somewhat late date to cadastrally survey this area, with the result that men who were expected to be used on Topographical work had to be utilized for Traverse survey.

(a) The final handing over of cadastral work in Bengal to the Settlement Department has been accomplished; No. 4 Party (Bihar) has been broken up, and its two cadastral sections transferred, almost bodily, to the executive control of the Settlement Officer, Bihar. This change takes effect from the first day of the survey year 1907-08.

* * * * * * *

(d) The professional control of Bengal Surveys has, from the 1st September 1907, been transferred from the Deputy Surveyor General to the Surveyor-General

(e) My office work has increased to a great extent; this is due to the control of the Surveys of this Province and the transferred districts of Eastern Bengal being under the same survey officer, who is subordinate to two Boards of Revenue, the partition caused an immediate duplication of all reports and returns, and now, as changes in procedure in both Provinces occur, since these seldom coincide, there is a gradual drifting apart which tends to make my appointment more and more difficult; so far the interests of the two Governments do not conflict, but it is doubtful if they will not do so in the near future.

MONGHYR DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

4. THANAS Surajgarha, Sikandra, Sheikhpura and that area of Thana Jamui which remained over from last year, were traversed during the season, the area traversed being 1,190 square miles, which includes an area of 2·65 square miles of scattered Government Estates previously surveyed, but which had to be retraversed. The area also includes 275 square miles of hilly country traversed for cadastral as well as topo purposes (vide paragraph 15).

* * * * * * *

7. The demarcation was good and the traverse boundaries agree very well with the Revenue Survey boundaries.

* * * * * * *

Cadastral Survey.

10. The area cadastrally surveyed and of which the record writing was done was 1,307 square miles; this area includes 157 square miles of the hill block mentioned in paragraph 15.

* * * * * * *

13. There were 252 boundary disputes and 38,840 interior disputes, of which 243 of the former and 33,838 of the latter have been decided. The balance will be attended to at the attestation stage.

14. The attendance of the zamindars and raiyats was fair. The average daily outturn per man was in survey 20 acres and in Khanapuri 50 fields.

* * * * * * *

PATNA DISTRICT.

Traverse.

21. The area traversed in this district is 851·6 square miles, which includes an area of 21·6 square miles of Government Estates and Tikari villages that were surveyed in previous years.

22. The area comprises Thanas Mokameh, Barh, Bihar and Silao, 1453 villages being traversed in all.

* * * * * * *

25. The entire work has been plotted on 1,629 sheets. Where "tola" boundaries were pointed out to the Traversers, the tolas have been traversed and plotted separately. The work has proved well and all the computations are practically complete. The plots have been sent to the Settlement Officer.

* * * * * * *

27. The demarcation was good, consequently the boundaries according to the traverse survey agree very well with the Revenue Survey Boundaries.

BHAGALPUR DISTRICT.

Cadastral Survey.

28. The area cadastrally surveyed was 375 square miles. The records of this area and of the area 163 square miles cadastrally surveyed last year, but for which records were not written, that is of a total area of 538 square miles were prepared.

* * * * * * *

31. There were 85 boundary and 10,860 interior disputes. Of the former 78 and of the latter 10,310, were decided, the balance have been left for the attestation stage.

32. The attendance of the zamindars and raiyats was only fair. The average daily outturn per Amin in survey was 23 acres and in Khanapuri 51 fields.

PURI DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

33. The tract dealt with embraced 96·9 square miles lying between the Chilka Lake and the sea, touching, on the west, the Presidency of Madras; the area is low lying and flat and nearly every village encountered is protected by high embankments; the lands surveyed fall in Jagir Mahal lands of Parganas Malud, Parikud, Bajarkot and Mitha Kuan.

34. No demarcation was possible, as sanction to take up the work was received very late; fortunately, in most cases, village boundaries followed the beds of streams and so no difficulty resulted. The people also gave considerable help and the area surveyed being close to the sea-coast, the health of the establishment was good.

* * * * * * *

RANCHI DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

48. During the year an area of 1,128 square miles falling in Thanas Lohardaga, Sisai and Karra was traversed for Cadastral Survey.

* * * * * * *

50. The area covered consists on the north of jungle-clad hill of a maximum height of about 3,500 feet above sea level, breaking down on to an undulating and tolerably well cultivated plateau averaging 2,350 feet, and sloping south by east. The subtense Bar and Frasers' height indicating staff had to be used constantly, and with bad demarcation by the inhabitants, and in places, heavy line clearing through dense jungle, the programme was a somewhat difficult one.

* * * * * * *

54. The country was a healthy one to work in, and beyond the prevalence of a certain amount of malarial fever, the climate is excellent.

SINGHBHUM DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

55. The programme embraced an area of 601 square miles, falling in the following "Tarafs":—Kalkapur, Haldipokhar, Alkosi Maholia and Asanboni; the traverse survey of Dalbhum is now completed.

* * * * * * *

57. The demarcation was badly done, partly because boundaries were not known and partly because the inhabitants showed no sympathy with the work; these facts, added to a great deal of malarial fever, affected the progress of and the cost rate of the work.

58. Heavy line clearing was often necessary owing to the wooded and broken nature of the country surveyed. The Subtense Bar was used almost constantly.

* * * * * * *

SONTHAL PARGANAS DISTRICT.

Traverse Survey.

63. The area traversed (807 square miles) covered the remainder of the district left over from the last survey year; it falls in 7 scattered blocks, falling in the Subdivisions of Deoghar, Dumka, Pakaur, Goda and Jamtara and is commonly known as Mr. Craven's second area.

The country is open, and somewhat undulating and is very healthy.

64. The inhabitants are in sympathy with the operations; their demarcation was good; their attitude throughout our operations has been one of cordial co-operation and it is with regret that the surveyor realizes that for many years to come his work must lie in less favoured districts.

* * * * * * *

DISTRICT 24-PARGANAS AND KHULNA (SUNDERBANS).

DISTRICT 24-PARGANAS.

Traverse Survey.

69. The programme was the remaining portion of the 24-Parganas Sunderbans, including Saugor Islands (an area estimated to be 500 square miles).

70. The operations were in continuation of those of the preceding season and connections were made with three Great Trigonometrical Stations of the East Coast Series. The error per mile works out to 7·4 feet.

71. The programme was exceeded by 138 square miles, the total area traversed being 638 square miles, of which 319 square miles represent upland, and 319 square miles water areas. The angular work was checked by 61 Azimuth observations to the sun and stars, and the mean magnetic variation is East 1°14′. The Zig-Zag system of traversing was again adopted with excellent results. The chaining amounts to 677 linear miles.

* * * *

73. Two steam-launches, three flats and 85 boats were hired for accommodating the field establishment and for supplying the squads with food and fresh water. One Hospital Assistant, with medical stores, was constantly in the field, and the serious cases were attended to by a second Hospital Assistant at the head-quarters at Canning Town. The difficulties experienced were the same as those of previous years. Severe storms, the prevalence of tigers and the possibility of being cut off from supplies of food and fresh water were the main causes of trouble and anxiety. Malarial fever and dysentery were the chief complaints; these accounted for twelve deaths.

Topographical Survey.

74. The whole area of 638 square miles traversed, was topographically surveyed on a scale of four inches to one mile and mapped on 66 sheets.

75. The detail survey was checked by 658 linear miles of check survey and, in addition, portions of nearly all the blocks were independently resurveyed; the result was most satisfactory. The Sundarbans Survey of the 24-Parganas is now completed.

76. The entire area is intersected with tidal rivers and creeks, land areas being covered with dense jungle, except in the case of Saugor Island, of which the greater portion is under cultivation.

DISTRICT KHULNA.

Traverse Survey.

78. The order for the survey of this district was conveyed in the Board's letter No. 5889A., dated the 6th December 1906 and the establishment, on completion of the 24-Parganas Sundarbans, left Canning Town on the 8th February 1907 and encamped at Nakipur, a small village on the northern limit of the Khulna Sundarbans area. Field work closed on the 20th April when the party returned to recess quarters at Barrackpore. The programme was the traverse and topographical survey of 840 square miles of Government Reserved forests.

* * * *

80. The area traversed was 953 square miles (or 113 square miles in excess of the programme). The whole area was divided into 45 blocks.

* * * *

84. The nature of the country is similar to that of the 24-Parganas, Sundarbans, except that the whole tract is Government Reserve Forest containing much good timber. Khals and streams are innumerable and form a complete network over the whole area. It would be impossible to make a survey without the aid of steam-launches, flats and boats as the difficulties are abnormal.

Topographical Survey.

85. The entire area of 953 square miles traversed was topographically surveyed on a scale of 2″ to 1 mile and the mapping has been done on 35 sheets.

* * * *

87. Trace maps of the whole area have been prepared for the Forest officer, and the season's work will be completed before the camp takes the field next season. The programme of the next season is the completion of the survey of the Khulna Sundarbans, an area of about 1,050 square miles.

88. The health of the establishment was bad, mainly owing to malarial fever and dysentery. There were five deaths from dysentery and one man was carried off by a tiger.

Calcutta Suburbs Survey.

120. The work chiefly consisted of (a) Demarcation of holdings both inside and outside Municipal limits not traceable, (b) Comparison of old and new maps, (c) Settling boundary disputes, (d) Preparing fair maps for publication, (e) Traversing work for the Port Trust Commissioners, (f) Detail survey for the Port Trust Commissioners' area, (g) An attempt to revise those portions of the old City Survey sheets which require revision to admit of the Suburban survey sheets, which lie along the boundary between City and Subarban areas being completed to margin, (h) the completion of records for attestation, (i) area calculation.

121. With reference to item (a) above the demarcation of the remaining Municipal holdings was completed in 83 Municipal and 115 Panchannogram holdings outside Municipal limits; in addition a considerable number of holdings, required to be separated by the Attestation Officer, were dealt with. The demarcation cannot, however, be said to be completed until the attestation is finished.

122. Item (b) was reported on in paragraph 84 of the last year's report. There are some old maps which show the boundaries of villages inside the area, these are revenue boundaries and so have not been shown on the larger scale maps; on the matter being referred it was decided that the boundaries need not be shown.

123. Item (c). Inside Municipal limits 2,617 boundary disputes were dealt with by the end of July when the Sub-Deputy Collector, who was helping in this work, reverted to his substantive appointment; during the current year 370 disputes lying inside and 241 outside Municipal limits were disposed of. There were 51 appeals preferred, all of which have been dismissed; many disputes after appeal were taken to the civil courts, but with what results we do not yet know, and so none of the boundaries have been changed; these disputes are all taken to the civil courts with reference to the claim made by the Corporation to roadside drains.

124. The owners during the year have shown very much more interest in the proceedings than they have done in other years; the value of the work is apparently appreciated and where owners formerly had to be summoned to attend, they now come forward of their own accord and apply for further enquiry as regards ownership and boundaries of holdings. This appreciation has resulted in increased work, which, however, is not a matter for regret; with regard to boundaries, these can generally be disposed of, but where title is concerned, the applicants are referred to the civil courts, after documents have been inspected and depositions taken.

125. Item (d) is fairly well advanced; an extra officer was appointed to attend to the examination of maps and his appointment has prevented arrears of work accumulating. Out of 397 maps of the Suburban area for the Calcutta Corporation, only 37 remain to be drawn, until orders are received regarding the adjustment of the boundaries along the lines of junction of City and Suburban areas, the drawing of these sheets must be held in abeyance, the remaining 360 maps are in different stages of completion.

126. Of fair maps for revenue purposes, there will be, in all, 469 sheets drawn in skeleton on the 50-feet scale, these will only show the boundaries of the holdings of the Panchannogram Government Estate with the Municipal holdings contained in each revenue holding.

There will also be 29 maps on the 32-inch scale of the Subdivision of the Panchannogram Estate lying outside Municipal limits, those maps will be drawn in detail.

Of the 50 feet maps 256 have been drawn, since, when vandyked, one set of numbers of holdings will be in red and the others in black, duplicate copies will have to be made, one showing all detail required in red and the corners of sheets and the other all other details. Only the maps of subdivisions which have been attested can be taken in hand. Of the 32-inch scale maps only one has been drawn

The examination of all the maps mentioned in this paragraph as well as the printing, remains to be done.

127. In item (e) the only traversing done is that of 1,498 acres for the Port Commissioners; there still remains, however, a further tract to be traversed, the area to be dealt with having been under-estimated originally.

128. Item (f) of the Port Commissioners' area, the detail survey of 600 acres of the lands traversed was carried out; this work has been delayed by the great amount of water which accumulated during the rains, in some parts considerable areas being entirely submerged.

129. No traversing or detail survey other than that mentioned in last two paragraphs has been done during the year. The work referred to in item (g) has not progressed because holdings have been freely divided and in some places the old boundaries have been encroached upon, or changed; in order to facilitate this work, application has been made to have the area notified for survey under Act I of 1887.

130. The completion of survey and demarcation of one subdivision which consists of detached lands was stopped by the Collector of 24-Parganas; the work proved to be very expensive, owing to the difficulty of tracing these lands with no map to guide the surveyor, and it has been decided to postpone the attempt to survey and demarcate them, until the 24-Parganas are surveyed.

131. Item (h). There are 69 khasras in the Pachannogram Estate and all have been completed and submitted for attestation, the last two being despatched on the 2nd August 1907. Forty-two of the Khasras have been attested as follows:—In 1905-06 18 khasras and in 1906-07 24 khasras.

There are four other Government Estate Khasras which have been submitted but not yet attested. Until attestation is completed, the Revenue maps cannot be compiled.

132. Item (i) has been completed, except for areas to be divided into revenue holdings, these are dealt with as they are received from the Attestation Officer.

REPORT ON THE BENGAL DRAWING OFFICE.

* * * * *

134. The reproduction outturn of the office has increased considerably in the last year and the whole staff has been compelled to work long hours to meet the demands put upon it. It had been hoped that all arrears work would be completed by 1st April 1908, but, from the progress made up to the 30th September 1907, it is obvious that considerable arrears will have to be dealt with in the recess season of 1908. It cannot be said that there has been any failure so far; the plant available is insufficient to cope with the vast amount of work required, and if the plant were increased, in a year's time a portion of it would have to lie idle; to increase the plant now would therefore not be an economical move, while to obtain a larger outturn from the number of presses, etc., now available, seems impossible.

Trijunction Mark and Thana Mapping Section.

143. The trijunction mark maps of ten thanas of District Darbhanga (33 copies), of three thanas of North Monghyr (208 copies) and four thanas of North Bhagalpur (256 copies), one thana of Cuttack (nine copies), completing the Cuttack District, have been prepared. Of scattered cadastrally surveyed areas maps for portions of six thanas of Gaya (22 copies) and two thanas of Patna (six copies) have been made. In District Purnea the work has been pushed forward as hastily as possible; the thana maps of this District are urgently needed, and to meet this demand, instead of awaiting the 2" drawing of the Standard sheets, we have had to compile special 2" plots in many cases. The result has been less delay than would have occurred if the 2" standard mapping had been awaited, but the system is not an economical one.

144. Three hundred and forty copies of the Trijunction mark maps of nine thanas of Ranchi and 36 copies of two thanas of Singhbhum (Saraikela and Kharsawan Estates) have been printed and supplied from maps prepared from mujmilis made by Settlement Officers.

145. The Thana maps of four thanas of North Bhagalpur and two thanas of Purnea District (200 copies of each) have been prepared and issued to the Director of Land Records; in addition to these 200 copies of each of nine thanas of Ranchi District and four thanas of the Singhbhum District (Saraikela and Kharsawan) have been made from traces sent by the Settlement Officer.

146. The whole question of thana mapping needs very careful consideration. I am at present in communication with the Director of Land Records on the subject, and have every hope that a system which will result in increased rapidity of outturn, economy and uniformity of method will shortly be possible.

Reproduction of Village Maps Section.

147. In paragraph 113 of last year's report, Major Crichton gave the outturn of the office for 1905-06 as 462,961 copies of maps produced by the Vandyke process and despatched. This year the outturn is 505,545 maps; both Major Crichton's and my figures exclude work done for Eastern Bengal and Assam, this comparison hardly shows the relative amount of work done in the two years because in many cases, in the year under report, the average number of pulls is smaller than it was in 1905-06, but in spite of this the outturn has been considerably increased.

148. Of the programme budgetted for, the following items have been dealt with :—

(a) After the cursory re-examination (mentioned as necessary in last year's report) of the remaining copies printed in 1904-05, the issues for the whole of the Muzaffarpur District, have been completed, 27,434 printed copies being despatched during the year.

(b) With regard to Champaran, the examination of the paper traces of such maps as had not been vandyked and the examination of such reproduction as had not been despatched, took up much more time than was expected, but the 39,910 copies which still remained to be despatched have been dalt with.

(c) In Darbhanga only 11 of the 21 sheets which remained could be traced during the year; the failure is due to the 16″ sheets of Chaprasan village having to be returned to the Cadastral Camp concerned for revision. With this exception out of a total of 9,082 sheets in the district, which fall on 7,373 paper traces (all of which have now been examined and vandyked), 55,290 copies (out of a total of 73,730 printed) have been sent to the Collector. In this district again the cursory re-examination of the paper traces prepared in 1904-05 has retarded despatches.

149. In North Monghyr out of an aggregate of 3,875 sheets, 3,350 were traced on 2,950 paper traces last year; this year 423 sheets have been traced on 411 paper traces and the total traced and examined is now 3,773 sheets on 3,371 paper traces; all of these except 226 have been examined and of these 226 only a portion of the examination remains to be done. Of the 102 sheets remaining to complete North Monghyr, 75 have been returned to field parties and there is some doubt whether the other 27 will be required to be reproduced or not.

Forty-eight thousand one hundred and forty copies of maps have been reproduced up to date as follows:—

(a) Two thousand four hundred and one traces originally printed (10 copies each) ...	24,010
(b) One thousand nine hundred and seventy-nine of the above re-vandyked and printed with an extra 10 copies each	19,790
(c) Two hundred and seventeen traces printed with 20 copies each	4,340
Total ...	48,140

150. In Purnea the work of season 1903-04 consists of 2,264 sheets, of which 307 were on thick paper from which direct reproduction was impossible; these 307 sheets, when traced, fall on 322 paper traces and the total number of sheets and traces for reproduction is therefore 2,279.

These have been vandyked on 2,297 plates, since in some cases two villages were mapped originally on one sheet, all but 30 plates, in the maps of which "badars" (corrections) have been found, have been printed, but until the "badars" are returned rectified, 5,100 copies cannot be issued.

151. The reproduction of the work of seasons 1901 to 1903 in Purnea, district comprising 1,332 sheets and a requirement of 20 copies of each, vandyked from traces, has resulted in 14,120 copies being printed and 13,160 despatched.

152. Of the work in Purnea district done in 1904-05 covering 3,024 sheets, 98,960 copies of 1,119 sheets were printed and 61,850 despatched.

153. In North Bhagalpur there are, in all 2,808 sheets for reproduction; this total includes 353 sheets of the survey of 1888-1889; this has involved a considerable amount of tracing, all the maps being on thick paper. Up to date 41,650 copies have been despatched, the balance of the work is in hand.

154. In Ranchi, of the work of 1902-03, the 1,465 copies which remained from last year to be supplied have been despatched during the year.

155. The programme in Ranchi of 1903-04 covered 1,497 sheets; as the attestation copies of 265 of these have only just been received for the correction of originals, only 25,860 copies of the remaining 1,232 sheets on 1,293 plates could be supplied, two or more villages mapped on one sheet having first to be separated. Of 992 sheets made in the field in 1904-05, 20 copies of each of which are required, 3,500 copies only have been supplied; the rest of the work is in hand.

156. In last year's report it was mentioned that in the Sonthal Parganas approximately 15,200 paper traces would need reproduction; the traces are being prepared by the Settlement Officer who issues copy orders. During the year 4,537 traces have been reproduced and 140,680 copies supplied, the total number of traces and copies dealt with to date being 9,316 traces and 233,250 copies.

157. In Singhbhum 1,133 sheets required reproduction; 20 copies of each sheet have been supplied.

158. In the Banki Government Estate of Cuttack, in last year's report it was mentioned that, owing to the colour having been used on the revised settlement trace maps, direct reproduction was impossible; it was also mentioned that 211 original paper traces of the 144 villages of this estate were being corrected before reproduction, and that the additions and corrections made at the time of revision survey were so numerous, that it was decided, instead of correcting the original maps, to file with the originals, copies of their corrected paper traces. Out of the 174 paper traces corrected last year, discrepancies were found in 71 villages; others had to be referred back to the Collector; in addition 22 villages on 24 sheets had to be returned to the Collector for rectification, as a comparison with the originals showed the traces to be out of proportion. Of 115 villages so far sent back to the Collector 93 have been received back corrected up to date, so taking into account the 660 copies of 22 traces supplied last year, only 159 traces could be vandyked in this year, 2,280 additional copies have been supplied, making a total of 2,940 copies (98 traces) to date, 30 copies of each trace being required.

159. In Angul 978 sheets have been traced, and two copies of each supplied. The traces fell on 1,003 sheets and so 2,006 copies were issued.

160. As regards reproduction for attestation purposes, the following work was done during the year:—

District.	Number of sheets.	Number of copies supplied.
Ranchi	1,082	16,821
Dalbhum	1,368
Monghyr	2,390
Bhagalpur	682

In the Sonthal Parganas, out of 150 sheets sent for reproduction, two copies each of the 14 fit for direct reproduction, were issued; the remaining 136 sheets were, owing to colours and stains occurring on them, unfit for direct reproduction and were sent back to the Settlement Officer.

The Director of Land Records is taking steps to avoid a recurrence of this occurrence and I have sent him details by which the Settlement Officer, Sonthal Parganas, will be able to dispense with tracing for attestation in future.

161. The work in Balasore District has been completed during the year; the programme consisted of the correction of two vandyked copies of each of the original village maps according to settlement traces. The section has corrected during the year 5,626 copies of the maps of 2,239 villages, the total to date being 8,712 copies of 3,593 villages. Of 7 villages (on 7 sheets) in this district no vandyked reproductions had been made; 10 copies of each of these were supplied.

Extract from the Annual Report of the Department of Land Records for the year ending 30th September 1907.

* * * * * *

Extent of the year's operations.

2. Survey and settlement operations were in progress during the year in 14 districts belonging to the 6 Divisions of the Province. The area cadastrally surveyed during the year was 4,256 square miles, while preliminary records were written in 5,249 square miles. Records were attested in 4,497 square miles and finally published in 5,145 square miles. The rents of 72,069 tenants were settled. The expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 11,14,796.

Total area settled in the Province up to 30th September 1907.

3. The total area for which a record-of-rights has now been completed under the control of this Department is 39,849 square miles. Of this, 5,145 square miles were completed during the year under report. Progress during the last twenty-one years has averaged 1,898 square miles a year.

Revision of the Boundary Commissioner's Lists of villages and maintenance of Jurisdiction maps and lists

6. The printing of the village lists which remained over from last year was completed during the year, with the exception of those of two thanas in each of the districts of Cuttack and Puri, which could not be finally printed pending the decision of Government in respect of certain changes in jurisdictions. Complete maps and lists were issued for the following 9 districts besides 7 districts of the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam:—Murshidabad, Burdwan, Midnapore, Birbhum, Bankura, Khulna, Jessore, Gaya, and Shahabad.

Thana index maps and lists of villages.

7. Up to the end of the preceding year thana index maps were prepared for the cadastrally-surveyed districts of Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, North Monghyr, North Bhagalpur, Darbhanga, Cuttack, Balasore and Puri. Similar maps were prepared during the year for nine thanas in the district of Ranchi, four thanas in the two Political States of Seraikela and Kharsauan in Singhbhum, and two thanas in the district of Purnea. Maps of all the thanas in the districts of Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga, together with lists of villages, have been distributed to the Heads of Departments and local officers. Fair progress was made during the year in the printing of lists of villages in the districts of Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Ranchi and the two states of Seraikela and Kharsauan in Singhbhum. The final printing of lists of almost all the thanas in Cuttack, Balasore and Puri has been done, and it is expected that maps and lists of all the thanas in those districts will be distributed during the ensuing year.

Village maps.

8. During the year the work of reproduction of village maps of the district of Muzaffarpur has been completed, and that of the maps of the districts of Champaran and Darbhanga is nearing completion. Good progress has also been made in the reproduction of the village cadastral sheets of the districts of North Monghyr, North Bhagalpur, Ranchi and the Sonthal Parganas, and the work of reproduction of the maps of the two Political States of Seraikela and Kharsauan in Singhbhum has been completed. Maps for distribution at the time of recovery were reproduced for the district of Purnea. The reproduction of the sheets of the Banki Government Estate in Cuttack could not be finished during the year, as there was a large number of corrections to make, and some of the old traces had to be retraced prior to reproduction. Two copies each of all the old original sheets of the Angul Government Estate have been reproduced. One of these, when corrected according to the present settlement traces will form the basis for reproduction in the present settlement and the requisite number of Vandyked copies will be prepared for sale and administrative purposes.

9. Trijunction mark maps of all the thanas in Muzaffarpur, Champaran, Saran, Balasore, Puri and Cuttack (excepting one thana) were prepared last year. Similar maps have been prepared during the year for one thana in Cuttack, two thanas in Singhbhum, three thanas in Monghyr, four thanas in Bhagalpur, nine thanas in Ranchi, ten thanas in Darbhanga and some of the scattered areas in Gaya and Patna.

12. A most important piece of work done during the year was the revision of the Survey and Settlement Manual, 1900. Considerable modifications in Parts I and II of the Manual were necessitated by the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Amendment Bill (I of 1907). The Manual and appendices also required recasting on account of the large number of Circular Orders issued by the Board since 1900. Part III of the Manual dealing with survey was, at the same time, to be no longer adequate owing to the transfer of cadastral operations from the Survey of India to the Settlement Department. Proposals to revise the Manual were submitted to the Board by Mr. Kerr in his letter No. I—T., dated 25th April 1907, and, in Government Order No. 469T.—R., dated 8th May 1907, Mr. J. A. Hubback, I.C.S., of the Bihar Settlement, was deputed to Darjeeling to assist Mr. Kerr in revising the settlement portion of the Manual. Mr. J. Reid, I.C.S., Settlement Officer of Ranchi, was entrusted with the work of recasting the survey portion of the Manual. It was considered advisable to divide the Survey and Settlement Manal, 1900, into two separate volumes, one dealing with survey and the other dealing with settlement. Both the Manuals have been compiled and are now passing through the Press.

Revision of the Survey and Settlement Manual, 1900.

13. Under the orders of the Government of India contained in their letter No. 1471—137-2, dated the 27th September 1907, to the address of the Government of Bengal, the control of cadastral survey in Bihar was transferred to this Department, and arrangements have been made to take up cadastral survey in the districts of Monghyr and Patna with effect from the 1st October 1907. The Settlement Officer of Bihar was deputed to Ranchi in July last to learn the system of cadastral survey already followed there. It was also decided to impart survey training to the Assistant Settlement Officers and Kanungos who would be employed on the Bihar cadastral survey. The first proposal was to give them their training at Ranchi, but it was afterwards found convenient to open a survey school at Bhagalpur under the supervision of the Settlement Officer of Bihar and the Professional Adviser deputed from the Survey of India to help him.

15. Their term of 18 months' deputation to Survey and Settlement work having been completed, six out of the twelve Munsifs deputed last year reverted to general duty in September 1907, and the service of six new recruits have been obtained from the High Court during the present year for the usual term of training. Of the twelve Munsifs eight have been deputed to Bihar and four to the Chota Nagpur Settlement. In this office letter No. 184T., dated 13th June 1907, a proposal was submitted to the Board, at the instance of the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, that Munsifs who were reverting to general duty after completion of their Settlement training should be posted to areas in which they have gained experience of Settlement work. This proposal has been approved by the High Court in their letter No. 2676, dated 16th August 1907. Most of the Munsifs who were on deputation in the past year took to their new duties kindly, and made successful Assistant Settlement Officers.

17. Owing to the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act I (B.C.) of 1907 several additions were made in the pending proof copy of the guide and glossary to the Survey and Settlement Operations of Bihar, which was prepared last year.

Guide and glossary to the Survey and Settlement Operations in Bihar.

The Board's approval of the glossary was asked for in this office letter No. 80T., dated 16th May 1907, but before the issue of formal sanction several suggestions were made by the Board and by the Chief Secretary. These suggestions have been incorporated in the pamphlet and will add to its usefulness. To encourage its circulation it has been issued at a nominal price of annas two per copy, and it has been decided that the copyright shall not be reserved.

23. The programme of work consisted of the decision of the remaining boundary dispute cases, attestation of 194 square miles in the Nayabasan and other zamindari estates and the Midnapore town, draft publication of the villages pending from last year and of the area attested during the year, disposal of cases under section 103A in 257 square miles, and under sections 105 and 106 in the petty Zamindari and Wards estates, settlement of fair rents in 272 square miles, besides office work and final publication for an area of 250 square miles.

Programme.

* * * * * *

25. No cadastral survey was included in the original programme, but the small area added during the year had to be surveyed and khanapuried. The boundary disputes pending from last year and those instituted during the year were (with the exception of three cases) decided, as well as the appeals preferred against those decisions in five cases. The programme of attestation, draft publication, and section 103A case work was completed during the year. The majority of cases under section 105 as well as final publication in 950 villages consisting of 103, 198 plots were also finished. The heaviest item of work in the year's programme has been the work done at head-quarters and in the field connected with the check of records and their preparation for the remaining work of rent-settlement. The records of 1,355 villages, including more than 5 lakhs of plots, were checked and local enquiries made by officers specially deputed for the purpose.

Work done.

26. Proposals for the assessment of pargana Doro Dubnan in the Majnamutha Government estate, comprising an area of 70·46 square miles, were submitted by Mr. Taylor who, after he ceased to be Settlement Officer, continued as Sub-Divisional Officer of Contai to assist his successor in the work of supervision. The report will form the basis of rent-assessment proposals for the whole of the Majnamutha and Jalamutha estates.

Settlement of fair rent.

Mr. Taylor's proposals were forwarded with slight variations to the Board with my letter No. 386T., dated the 30th September 1907, and since the close of the year have been accepted by the Board and by Government. Rent-settlement will be commenced in this area from the opening of the field season.

The status of the Mandals in pargana Kalyanpur, the allowance to be given to them and the question of the preservation and assessment of jungles were finally decided during the year. Those Mandals who were found to be middlemen were given an allowance of 20 per cent. to be distributed between them and subordinate tenure-holders (if any), but the allowance was raised to 30 and 35 per cent. in cases in which the tenure-holder had been treated more or less as a raiyat at the last settlement. It was considered more necessary to take measures for the preservation of existing jungle areas than to encourage their conversion into inferior rice lands. An assessment of these lands was so made as to divide their profits between the proprietors, Mandals and Government.

The Mandals of certain villages of Kalyanpur submitted a memorial praying for an increase in the allowances payable to them by Government chiefly on the ground of improvements made by them in their lands. Their representations were thoroughly investigated by the Settlement Officer and my predecessor (Mr. Kerr), and it was found that their claims were unfounded.

In the Balarampur estate the assessment proposals submitted by Mr. Taylor at the close of the previous year were approved in Board's letter No. 335A.—T., dated the 16th May 1907. In this estate, also, questions regarding the status of Aimadars and the assessment of jungles, which were in all essentials identical with those in Kalyanpur, were thoroughly examined. The status difficulty had been referred to the Board previously in 1904, and it was then decided that the Aimadars were tenure-holders within the meaning of the Bengal Tenancy Act. No facts were brought to light in the course of the present operations which necessitated a reconsideration of the previous orders. As regards jungle areas, the customary rights of the tenants were recorded and an assessment was ordered by the Board on the basis of the assets actually levied by the tenure-holders from the jungles. The rates of rent imposed in the case of non-aimadari villages were practically the same as in pargana Kalyanpur. An enhancement of three annas in the rupee was made in the rent of the Khas Mahal tenants on account of rise in prices since the last settlement, the increase being eased off by progressive enhancement in individual cases.

Programme.

33. The programme consisted of attestation, draft publication, case-work under section 103A. in respect of 34 villages, and office check, copying and final publication of the 86 villages, of which the draft publication was completed in the preceding year.

Work done.

34. On account of the work in Beldanga the Settlement Officer could not begin attesation in this estate before February. In spite of difficulties and sickness amongst the staff, he succeeded in finishing the attestation of all the villages by the beginning of August. All the boundary disputes and major portion of the section 10A cases, which referred chiefly to rent-free and fixed-rent claims were disposed of by the end of September. The details of attestation work proved difficult and tedious as in the preceding year. The draft publication of these villages, as also the office work and the final publication of the villages attested last year, were completed. Statistical statements were prepared for all the finally published villages. Detailed estimates of the number of copies to be reproduced of the 124 sheets of the 86 finally published villages were prepared and arrangement made for preparing traces of the maps for direct reproduction, as the original sheets were not of sensitive paper.

Up to the end of the previous year 364 boundary stones had been replaced and 821 more were put down during the year, making a total of 1,185. Boundary-mark mujmilis and registers as prescribed in Appendix T of the Survey and Settlement Manual were prepared.

35. The attestation and subsequent proceedings in connection with 28 villages converting an area of 18·85 square miles, the office work and final publication of 34 villages draft-published during the year and the case-work under sections 105 and 106 still remain to be done With a view to expedite the work, a Sub-Deputy Collector has been deputed to help the Settlement Officer from the commencement of the field season of 1907-08.

36. The programme for the year was to complete attestation and draft publication of the entire area and to dispose of all cases under section 103A of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

Programme.

37. Attestation commenced in the middle of October, and was completed in February. The records were draft-published in the latter month. All the cases instituted were disposed of during the year. Statistical statements were prepared for the whole area. Records were corrected according to the order passed in section 103A cases, checked and re-arranged. Thirty-six boundary pillars were erected and maps and registers of boundary stones were prepared for the use of the Collector.

Work done.

38. The attestation of this area presented features of special interest. The settlement is one of the first which has been initiated on the application of the tenants, who asserted that their rents were illegally enhanced by the proprietor in the years 1891 to 1895.

Features of attestation.

At attestation the Settlement Officer had to deal with two main issues—

(1) Whether the enhancements were legal, and
(2) Whether certain raiyats who had held at the same rate of rent for 20 years prior to 1895 were entitled to be recorded as raiyats holding at fixed rates.

The Settlement Officer found in favour of the raiyats on both issues, and the result, after draft publication, was a crop of section 103A cases. Of the 1,020 cases filed, 950 were filed by the proprietor, 276 to contest the record of fixed rates, 72 to contest lakhiraj entries, and 551 to uphold the kabuliyat rentals. The Settlement Officer has disallowed those objections of the proprietor which related to rent enhancement, but on the evidence of old jamabandi papers has admitted the majority of the objection to "fixed-rent" status.

MAHISAR ESTATE IN MURSHIDABAD.

Area—2·47 square miles.

40. Mauza Mahisar lies in pargana Mahalandi, thana Khargram, of the district of Murshidabad, about four miles from Kandi. The village belongs mainly to tauzi No. 279, but contains within its periphery the lands of nine other tauzis which lie intermingled with each other. There are 11 pattis in the village, all of which, except one, are held by tenure-holders of various degrees.

Short history.

41. As the village belonged to many estates and tauzis, the several proprietors experienced great inconvenience in collecting rents from the raiyats. The relation between the landlords and tenants thus became strained, and the former applied for a survey and record-of-rights under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act and deposited nearly the whole of the estimated cost. Mauza Mahisar was notified under the Bengal Tenancy Act in Notification No. 1440L—R, dated the 11th March 1907. Two additional mauzas, Badua and Jasahari, were notified in No. 2662L—R., of the 31 July 1907.

Inspection of the operations and Notifications.

42. The programme of the year was to finish cadastral survey and khanapuri and to prepare the record for attestation. The work began in the middle of April, and by the end of the following September survey and khanapuri were finished. The work of the preparation of the records for attestation was also finished by the beginning of October, that is, immediately after the close of the year.

Programme and work done.

43. On account of the absence of the tenants it was found necessary to separately survey every subdivision of a field. On completion of the cadastral survey traces of the maps were prepared. On these traces the different tauzis were marked out with red lines according to the old thakbast map. At khanapuri the lands were recorded as belonging to those tauzis under which they fell in the traces, the objections filed being noted in the dispute list. The number of disputes thus preferred was large.

47. Preliminary to the commencement of survey and khanapuri, khewats were written up, the tenants being questioned on the spot as to sub-infeudations. The khewats were further tested in the course of khanapuri.

Khewat writing.

48. The demarcation marks put down during traverse survey in the previous year having disappeared, a fresh demarcation was carried out, not without difficulty, by the new proprietors—on the basis of the takbast map. This demarcation showed a wide divergence from the previously demarcated boundary of possession, and the true trijunctions were located in many cases far from the traverse trijunctions.

Re-demarcation.

49. Cadastral survey started about the middle of December, and owing to bad attendance of tenants, unhealthy climate and other unfavourable conditions, the work dragged on till April. The survey was made on 156 sheets.

Cadastral survey.

50. Khanapuri, which started towards the end of February, proved difficult and tedious. The same causes which impeded cadastral survey interfered with the progress of record-writing, and the work was not completed before the middle of July. It was complicated by the great extent of sub-infeudation and the large number of claims to hold revenue-free. It was difficult to ascertain at what point the raiyati interest began, and to assign plots to the various interests concerned, or to find out what was covered in each case by the lump rents actually paid.

Khanapuri.

The claims to hold revenue-free were mostly based on old taidads said to have been prepared under Regulation XIX of 1793. Their exact evidential value is not yet clear, but it is stated that the Civil Courts have held lands supported by such grants to be revenue-free in cases between private parties. Following the procedure adopted in Bihar no lands were entered in the record as revenue free which were not entered as such in the Collector's registers, and dissatisfied persons were advised to move the Collector under section 35 of the Land Registration Act.

Out of 850 internal disputes raised, 700 were disposed of. Most of the disputes which remained undecided involved claims to hold revenue-free.

The entries in respect of 9,600 plots were checked in the field while khanapuri was in progress, the Settlement Officer himsalf testing 275.

The attestation and draft publication were finished, and all the objections under section 103A of the Tenancy Act were disposed of excepting one, with which the Collector of Patna is concerned. He has applied to the Commissioner for papers connected with the case. This circumstance has delayed final publication, but the records are otherwise ready to be finally published.

Programme and work done.

53. The work of attestation proved unexpectedly easy as the question of rent had already been decided by the Civil Courts. The point at issue was whether a contract undertaken before the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to pay an enhancement of more than two annas in the rupee at the close of a term of settlement, was void under the Act. The lower Courts decided that it was not, and though appeals were preferred to the High Court, they were subsequently withdrawn.

56. The portion of the district of Monghyr lying to the south of the Ganges adjoins, and is in many respects very similar to, South Bhagalpur, where survey and settlement operations have been in progress since 1904. A portion of the population consists of Sonthal and other backward tribes, whose ignorance of their rights is frequently taken advantage of by unscrupulous persons. Agrarian disputes were rife and illegal enhancements of rents were said to be of common occurrence. The local officers reported that survey and settlement proceedings were even more necessary in the south of Monghyr than in the northern portion of the district which was completed in the year 1904. Correct maps and records-of-rights were much needed, and the writing up of the Land Registration registers of the district were deferred until the operations were carried through. The proposal for the extension of settlement operations to South Monghyr was sanctioned in the orders of the Government of India, No. 620—137-2, dated 25th April 1905. All the lands in the nine thanas of the tract, viz., Monghyr Jamalpur, Surajgarh, Lakhisarai, Khargpur, Shaikhpura, Sikandra, Jamui and Chakai, with the exception of certain estates already surveyed, were brought under the operation of section 3 of the Bengal Survey Act V (B. C.) of 1875 in Notification No. 2326, dated 28th July 1905. In the previous year an area of 1,217 square miles, exclusive of 275 square miles of hill and jungle, dealt with topographically, had been traversed under the supervision of the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, Bengal, as stated in paragraphs 31—37 of his Report for the year ending 30th September 1906. The lands referred to above were gazetted for settlement under section 101(1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act in Notification No. 1957L.R., dated the 3rd April 1907.

Programme.

57. The year's programme was the survey and preliminary record-writing of an area of 1,290 square miles, containing 1,189 villages situated on the eastern side of the district in thanas Chakai, Jamui, Khargpur and Monghyr.

* * * * * *

Work done.

59. The whole of the programme was completed. The total number of plots in the area was found to be 938,441, giving an average of ·83 of an acre per plot. The number of khatians was 126,602, giving an average of 6·52 acres to the khatian. The large average size of holdings and plots is accounted for by the extensive areas of jungle and hilly land in the south and by the large proportion of upland cultivation. The abnormal size of the areas adopted as village units in the Revenue Survey operations caused much trouble and it was found necessary in many cases to subdivide them into tolas in order to get a convenient unit for the present operations. Some Revenue Survey villages contained as many as 150 tolas. The village khewats were prepared by the Assistant Settlement Officers, aided by the kanungos, and the subordinate survey staff was not allowed to have any part in the work. This may have prevented extortion on their part, but it was a tedious process and took up valuable time which might have been devoted to general supervisional work. It still remains to be proved that the preparation of khewats by the superior Settlement staff is indispensable. 32,106 plots, or 3·4 per cent. of the whole number, were tested by the Settlement Department. Personally, I should be inclined to prefer a system whereby less time would be devoted to drafting of khewats and more time would be spent in the check of khanapuri. Raiyati rights are in many villages more valuable than zamindari, and it seems absurd that the superior staff should be made responsible for 100 per cent. of the latter and for less than 4 per cent. of the former. 34,506 internal disputes were decided, the average being 27 per square mile. Trees, as usual, accounted for the greater number of these disputes. The record of the status of mustagirs and chakbanddars has been a question of much difficulty, which will not be finally settled till a latter stage of the operations. Many of them are more than ordinary farmers, as their forefathers reclaimed the villages from jungle. 9 boundary-dispute cases were left pending, as they had been referred to arbitration.

Notifications.

60. There was one small addition to the previously notified area. In order to carry out a settlement of land revenue, Government Estate Muktapur in thana Bhagalpur, bearing tauzi No. 2553, was notified under section 101(2)(c) and (d) of the Bengal Tenancy Act in Notification No. 2807L.—R., dated 10th August 1907, as corrected by Notification No. 3177L.—R., dated 2nd September 1907.

Programme.

61. The programme for the year was the attestation, draft publication, office work and final publication of the record of 1,106 square miles in thanas Banka, Amarpur, portions of Sultanganj, Bhagalpur and Colgong lying south of the southern high bank of the Ganges, and the khanapuri of thana Kataurin consisting of 492 square miles, of which 158 square miles had been cadastrally surveyed in the season 1905-06 and the rest in the following season. The programme was completed with the exception of the final publication of the records of 526 square miles.

* * * * * *

Attestation.

63. Attestation and draft publication were completed early in April, but though the number of objections under section 103A of the Tenancy Act did not exceed 10,000, the demand for officers for case-work in Purnea prevented their early disposal. The chief feature of the work was the prevalence of illegal enhancements. Enhancements were found to have been almost universally made whenever an estate changed hands, and in many estates every five or seven years as well. The amount of the enhancement often exceeded two annas in the rupee, even when it did not follow within 15 years of a previous enhancement. The enhancements were frequently defended on the ground of landlords's improvement, and this was usually accepted as a good defence, provided that two enhancements within 15 years had not been made. There was no doubt that considerable sums had been spent on irrigation by the landlords, but they generally enhanced to such an extent that their outlay was very speedily recouped. One landlord adopted a new method of attempting to legalise enhanced rents. After issue of the notification under section 101(1) of the Tenancy Act, directing the survey and the preparation of the record-of-rights, he applied to the Civil Court, under section 158 of the Act, for a declaration of the rent payable, and induced the raiyats concerned to compromise on an illegally enhanced rent: thus in one village the rate was Re. 1-9 in 1300. In 1301 this was raised to Rs. 2 and in 1309 to Rs. 2-8. Last year, after khanapuri, had begun, the landlord applied to the Civil Court, under the above section, for the determination of the rent payable, claiming a rate of Rs. 2-10. Eventually, after no less than eleven adjournments, the raiyats compromised and agreed to pay at the rate of Rs. 2-8. This was held by the Civil Court, without further enquiry, to be the rent payable. My predecessor discussed the case in his inspection note, and was of opinion that the decision of the Munsiff, who had not all the facts before him, could not be followed. Proceedings under section 158 while a settlement is being made are now barred by Bengal Act No. 1 of 1907.

Difficulties were also met with in distinguishing additional rent for additional area from the enhancements made. Landlords' measurements were not very accurate and the length of the laggi and the number of laggis in the side of the bigha were often in dispute, The principle on which the attestation staff worked was to call for old papers from every landlord when his first village was attested. If it was found that no illegal enhancements had been made, the jamabandis were accepted in villages of which the records came to be subsequently attested, unless there was a dispute or reason to believe that illegal enhancements had been made in any particular village.

One peculiar feature of work in South Bhagalpur and South Monghyr is the large number of villages in which the landlord makes the leading raiyat a mustagir for the purpose of collecting rents under short leases for terms of five or seven years. The margin of profit to the mustagir is in most cases very small, though probably he derives certain indirect advantages from his position. Mr. Kerr directed that in the record the mustagiri interest should be recognised, care being taken to record as occupancy lands all lands over which the mustagiri had acquired occupancy rights prior to his accepting the mustagiri lease. The question is further complicated by the fact that many of the so-called mustagirs or thikadars are the original reclaimers of their villages who have been forced by the proprietors to execute farming leases for areas over which they had really acquired raiyati rights or the rights of permanent tenure-holders. Care has been taken that the action of the proprietor shall not prejudice the interest of such persons.

The number of plots in the area amounted to 930,000 with nearly 150,000 tenancies.

Draft publication in general presented no difficulty, and some increase in the amount of interest taken by the public at this stage is reported.

Record of irrigation rights.

64. The record of irrigation rights is of some importance in this area, though unfortunately neither landlords nor raiyats appeared to take much interest in it. The attestation and draft publication of the irrigation records previously prepared were carried out. The description of the chalans had been prepared in the field, while the accompanying maps had been reduced by the Survey Department in recess from the 16″ sheets. It was found that it was not always easy to understand from the maps the course of the channels or other features of the irrigation system. A special officer was, therefore, deputed on the completion of his attestation work, to revise all the records and write up new ones. The field work in connection with this was not completed till the end of May, but the novelty of the work caused delay in the completion of the records in office. The records of about 300 danrhs (large channels) have been draft-published, and after disposal of objections and check will be finally published.

Khanapuri.

65. The khanapuri of thana Katauria was completed. The total number of holdings was 32,987, showing the average area of a holding to be 9½ acres. These exceptionally large figures are due to the large proportion of hill and jungle area. The number of under-raiyats in the area bordering on the Sonthal Parganas is considerable, and the practice of subletting to Sonthals is reported to be general.

Internal and boundary disputes.

66. 47,072 internal disputes were instituted, of which all but 685 were decided. Rights in jungle and waste lands were the chief subject of dispute. Of the 113 boundary disputes instituted, 6 remained to be disposed of. In these 6 cases the revenue-survey line has to be re-laid at attestation.

Programme.

68. The programme for the year consisted of—

(1) Attestation of 488 square miles comprising portions of thanas Kadwa and Katihar, with a few scattered portions of villages and Government estates previously omitted; also draft publication and completion of the record-of-rights of the above area;

(2) Final publication of the record-of rights of 1,597 square miles of the area attested and draft published in the year ending September 1906 and of 488 square miles attested in the present year;

(3) Settlement of rents under Section 104 for 1·69 square miles of Government estates lying in 14 villages;

(4) Case work under sections 105 and 106 for an area of 700 square miles attested in 1904-05 and of 1,723 square miles attested in 1905-06.

Attestation.

70. The attestation programme of 488 miles was completely carried through, making a total of 3,604 square miles, for which the records have been attested and draft published up to the end of the present year. There were 244,891 plots and 57,300 tenants in 711 villages. Attestation work was difficult owing to the large number of internal disputes about status and title. The former were mostly about fixity of rent, the latter about land claimed as rent free. A large portion of the area attested is held on the halhasli system under which the rent varies every year with the area sown, the rate only being fixed. This added to the difficulty of attestation. Attestation was finished by the end of April.

Objections under section 103A.

71. 8,244 objections under section 103A were instituted and decided. Those concerning status, title and possession constituted 36, 23 and 22 per cent. respectively, of the total objections. The remainder were concerned with rent, trees and miscellaneous matters. Thirty-nine per cent. of objections were allowed. Owing to the late attestation and draft publication of the records of some villages it was found necessary to keep two 103A camps out until the beginning of July.

Office work and final publication.

72. The office work and the final publication of all the villages attested during the previous year were completed. Of the area of the year under report only four villages were not completed from office work, while 66 per cent. of the villages were finally published.

Case work.

73. The remaining work under section 105 of the attestation season 1904-05 was disposed of, amounting to 1,064 cases with 22,943 tenants. 3,597 cases with 32,741 tenants of the attestation year 1905-06 were also disposed of by the end of the year, leaving a balance of only 401 cases with 4,960 tenants for this area. 1,999 suits, under section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, were disposed of during the year. It was hoped to dispose of all the case-work completely by the end of the year. Cases were taken up at two centres, but the difficulty some zamindars had in keeping pace with the work somewhat retarded progress. The enhancements allowed were moderate and were given mainly on the ground of rise in prices, as the landlords were unable to prove excess area.

78. All objections under section 24 of Regulation III of 1872 were disposed of. Many of these were essentially title suits of a complicated and contested nature. No less than 52,868 suits had been dealt with during the year and the previous year. The Settlement Officer passed orders on 246 appeals and revision cases as shown in Appendix II, Part E. 249 appeals and applications for revision were disposed of by the Commissioner. The Settlement Officer's orders were upheld in 229 cases, modified in 2, reversed in 9, and 12 were otherwise disposed of. The whole of the records were finally checked, arranged and handed over to the Deputy Commissioner, and with the exception of the 115 appeals that remained pending in the Settlement Officer's file, the whole of the work of the second half of the Second Programme has been completed.

Work done—First half of Third Programme: Cadastral Survey and khanapuri.

79. The cadastral survey and khanapuri of the 754 square miles embraced in this portion of the programme were successfully completed under the direct supervision of the Settlement Officer and his Assistants. The area was contained in estates scattered over the four subdivisions of Deoghur, Dumka, Godda and Jamtara—a fact which added much to the difficulties of organization. The total number of fields khanapuried was 674,038. A considerable amount of partition of raiyati holdings was effected during khanapuri, and thus the number of plots was considerably increased, especially in the Jamtara circle. The average size of the fields is found to be ·71 of an acre.

Survey and khanapuri check.

80. The check of cadastral survey by the subordinate staff of head inspectors and inspectors amounted to 142,364 chains, or an average of 188 chains or 2·35 linear miles per square mile. The same agency also checked the work by 1,169 11 linear miles of quadrilaterals. Further, Assistant Settlement Officers conducted 16,000 chains of check survey while the work was in progress, and 74, 44 chains of independent partal, altogether a total check of over 119 chains per square mile. Khanapuri was also adequately tested. The subordinate staff checked 250,663 out of the total of 674,038 fields or 37 per cent., while the number of plots checked by Assistant Settlement Officers was 236,207 representing nearly 35 per cent. of the total number of plots khanapuried. Of the fields checked 201,896 were tested as to classification only and 34,311 throughout. The Settlement Officer inspected khanapuri in 166 villages and checked 23,700 plots.

Classification.

81. This was the first year in which the Settlement Officer had to deal with an area for which previous cadastrally surveyed maps were available. To assist inspecting officers in their check, Mr. Craven's classification was marked on his maps, and the inspectors were instructed to refer to them in cases of doubt. All doubtful points are noted in the inspectors' yaddasht (note-book) for the orders of the Assistant Settlement Officer. On the whole the procedure adopted proved successful. In one or two cases only did the inspector use the map to save himself the trouble of going over the ground. As the Assistant Settlement Officer is personally responsible for the accuracy of the classification, it is hardly possible for dishonest or bad work to pass unnoticed, unless the Assistant Settlement Officer neglects his duties. The present classification is generally higher than that of last settlement, which in many villages was found to be inexplicably low compared with present conditions.

Internal and boundary disputes.

82. The number of internal disputes disposed of during khanapuri averaged 14 per square mile. The same average was found in the second half of the Second Programme. The Deoghur rayat was as usual the most litigious, the disputes averaging 20 to the square mile in that circle. There were only 299 boundary disputes. This small number was due to the fact that at Mr. Craven's settlement all such disputes were decided. Many of the disputes raised were merely revivals of the old ones. In a few cases, where of the two villages one had been previously re-settled in the course of the first two programmes of the present series, it was found that that boundary did not agree with Mr. Craven's. Each case was dealt with on its merits, preference however being given to the earlier record in the absence of sufficient reason to the contrary.

Preparation of records for attestation.

83. All the records were completed and made ready for attestation by the end of the year. As sufficient attention had not been paid to the inking up of the maps, it was found that they did not reproduce well and traces on cloth as in previous years have, therefore, been prepared for use at attestation. Steps have been taken to remove this defect in future work.

Miscellaneous.

84. (a) During the year the maps of 1,774 villages, almost all of the Second Programme, were traced at Dumka for reproduction. This work has now been completed for the First and Second Programmes, at a total expenditure of Rs. 8,276, of which Rs. 4,025 was incurred in the previous year. During the year 133,400 reproduced sheets were received from the Bengal Drawing Office, out of which 120 sheets were of the Damin-i-koh, 15,530 sheets of the First Programme and 117,750 sheets of the Second Programme.

(b) The village list—a document which traces the history of each holding entered in the jamabandi of the last settlement—was, as usual, checked in each village by an Assistant Settlement Officer.

(c) The question of reconciling village boundaries with the South Monghyr and Bhagalpur surveys was raised during the year and will be dealt with in the present field season. It is proposed to depute an Assistant Settlement Officer from Bihar to carry out the reconciliation on the spot.

(d) The attitude of the people was as usual satisfactory. Only one village in the whole area gave a little trouble, which was settled by a local enquiry and the transfer of the amin.

(e) The conduct of the subordinate staff as a whole was satisfactory. Two persons were convicted for attempts to tamper with the settlement records, and a few inspectors and amins were dismissed for incompetence.

Cost rates—Second Programme, first and second halves.

85. The incidence of gross cost of the principal stages of the work, exclusive of the cost of traverse survey, so far as can be ascertained at present, is shown in the subjoined table :—

Description of work.	Total cost.	Cost rate per square mile.
1	2	3
	Rs.	Rs. A. P.
1. Cadastral Survey and Khanapuri ...	1,01,781	64 3 9
2. Preparation of the records for attestation ...	52,892	33 6 1
3. Attestation and rent settlement including publication.	58,754	37 1 4
4. Disposal of objections under section 24, Regulation III of 1872.	58,510	36 14 10
5. Control	1,25,672	79 5 1
6. Contingencies, including forms, stationery, tents, instruments, building, etc.	63,511	40 1 4
7. Miscellaneous (final check, record arrangement and delivery).	21,790	13 12 1
Total ...	4,82,910	304 12 6

By deducting a sum of Rs. 69,803 on account of miscellaneous receipts and refunds the resulting net cost and cost rate are not likely to exceed Rs. 4,13,107 and Rs 260-12-9, respectively. This incidence of cost is the more satisfactory in view of the unusual amount of case-work which unduly prolonged operations and of the difficult nature of the work in the Bengali khas village tracts were a very considerable amount of extra check work had to be done on the records.

86. The settlement work of the Sonthal Parganas has a special interest for me as I was in charge of it for over 6 years before I was succeeded by Mr. Allanson, and the final report is still pending with me. Since the operations started in 1898, the whole work of Survey and Settlement has been carried through under the direct supervision of the Settlement Officer, unaided by the Survey of India Department. Cadastral Survey, as will be seen above, is subjected to all the usual tests, while the large amount of personal check which the maps receive when the classification of fields is checked is an additional guarantee of the accuracy of field-mapping. In the matter of undivided control by the Settlement Department, the example of this settlement has been followed since 1905 in the Chota Nagpur Settlement and the system has been extended in the present field season to the larger operations of the Bihar Settlement. In both of these the additional precaution has been taken of attaching an officer of the Survey Department to the Settlement staff as professional adviser. Had this precaution been taken in the Sonthal Parganas, there might have been greater finish in the maps, but it was not considered necessary to make any change in the existing arrangements, as the present field season is the last in which cadastral survey falls to be done.

Programme.

* * * * * * *

89. The full programme for the year was carried out, and there remains only the disposal of certain cases under sections 105 and 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act which were filed in the last month of the year.

Work done.

90. The attestation work, which was conducted according to the Bihar Rules with such modifications as the local conditions demanded, was completed by the end of February 1907. There was much difficulty in ascertaining the existing rent and the status of certain classes of tenants, because owing to the mismanagement of the estate by the late proprietor the rent-roll was in a state of helpless confusion. The principal difficulties as regards status of tenants were discussed by my predecessor in his Inspection Note of March 1907. They related to the record of proprietary and service lands, rent-free grants for maintenance of relatives and other purposes, and the privileged tenures called tanki. The Board's orders were communicated in their No. 450W.T., dated the 20th June 1907, to the address of the Commissioner of the Orissa Division. The matter was further enquired into by me during my last inspection and the result embodied in my Inspection Note of 16th August 1907. Some of the questions involved are still pending in section 106 suits.

Attestation.

91. The draft publication of the records was supervised by the Settlement Officer and his assistant. The grazing and cremation grounds which had been set apart at attestation, were shown to the villagers during publication. The Collector has noted the tenants' appreciation of this work. Only 136 objections under section 103A were instituted and most of them were disposed of by the Assistant Settlement Officer. The majority of them related to questions of possession.

Draft publication and objections under section 103A.

Copying of records and final publication.

92. Copying work was started in April and completed by the end of July 1907. Three copies of khatians were prepared one for the Collector, one for the Court of Wards and the third for the raiyat. Five per cent. of the khatians copied were checked by the Settlement Officer.

The final publication was started in May and finished by the end of July 1907. The Settlement Officer paid frequent surprise visits during final publication.

Rent-settlement.

93. As the tenants of the estate were already paying high rents, no general enhancement of rent was allowed and only excess areas found in the possession of tenants were assessed to rent. An allowance of 10 per cent. was granted in calculating excess areas in the case of raiyati-holdings, tankidars and chandna raiyats. The balance of excess in the case of raiyati-holdings was assessed at the average rate of the holding as provided in section 52 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and in the case of tankidars at the fixed rate of Rs. 4 per acre. In respect of chandna (homestead) raiyats, assessment for excess area was made at Rs. 6-4 per acre, which is about half the existing chandna rate. New cultivation was assessed at the rate of rent current for lands of the same class in the estate. A large number of cases under section 106 was filed by the manager of the estate under the instructions of the Board for the record of jagir lands as khamar jagir, the case of the estate being that these lands originally formed part of the proprietors' nij-jot. Only a small number of these cases has been disposed of, as they were instituted at the close of the year.

JAGIR MAHALS INCLUDING PARIKUD IN PURI.

Area—140 square miles.

Number of villages 128

Introductory.

95. The Jagir Mahals consist of four permanently-settled parganas namely, Andhari, Manik Patna, Bajrakote and Malud, bearing General No. $16892\frac{1}{2}$ in the B register of the district of Puri. Pargana Parikud is a permanent tenure owned by the Raja of Parikud, paying an annual rent of Rs. 1,600 to the Jagirdars. The Collector of Puri is the Receiver of the attached shares in the former under section 553 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the latter is now under the management of the Court of Wards. These parganas were excluded from the last general settlement operations in Orissa as being permanently-settled. As the affairs of the estates were found to have fallen into confusion, their survey and settlement was considered to be an administrative necessity. The proceedings were instituted in the Jagir Mahals on the application of the Collector as Receiver and in Parikud at the instance of the Court of Wards.

* * * * * * *

Programme.

98. The tract brought under the operations consisted of two blocks, the first block comprising parganas Andhari and Manikpatna and the second block the remaining three parganas. The programme consisted of the relaying of the traverse lines in the first block, fresh traverse in the second block, and the cadastral survey, initial record-writing and recess work for the whole area. An area of about 400 square miles, belonging to Parikud, lies in the Chilka Lake and was excluded from the operations, as the Bengal Tenancy Act does not contemplate the preparation of a record of fishery rights. The Raja of Parikud has been directed to approach the Collector separately for the amicable settlement of a long standing dispute that exists between him and the Government about fishery rights in this area, and it is proposed, on the settlement of the dispute, to prepare a small scale map showing the respective jurisdictions of the Raja and Government.

Work done.

99. The programme of traverse cadastral survey and preliminary record-writing was fully carried out in spite of the extreme unhealthiness of the tract and other difficulties. The first block includes a line of sand-hills along the coast and the cultivation is interspersed with scrub jungle and forest; the second block consists of swampy islands on the Chilka. In both areas the Settlement staff suffered much from malarial fever.

Both the cadastral survey and the preliminary record-writing were adequately tested by the Settlement Officer. One boundary dispute and 243 internal disputes were instituted and were all decided by the Settlement Officer on the spot.

The parchas were distributed to the landlords and tenants by the Settlement Officer himself instead of by the Amins, and this gave much satisfaction to the parties. Out of the total area for which statistics were compiled during the year, the cultivated lands comprise 31·10 per cent., the uncultivated lands 68 75 per cent, while the area covered by village sites is 0·15 per cent. The cropped area comprises 28·13 per cent. of the total area and the average size of a field has been found to be 1·5 acres. 149 trijunction pillars and 1,187 clay cylinders were erected at the trijunction points. All the maps have been sent to the Bengal Drawing Office for reproduction.

The programme of the year.

102. The programme of the year consisted of—

(i) the cadastral survey and khanapuri of 864 square miles;
(ii) cadastral recess work of the same area;
(iii) the attestation of 1,665 square miles and case-work under section 103A;
(iv) office work in connection with the records of 1,665 square miles attested, and final publication of the records of 1,048 square miles;
(v) disposal of suits under section 160 of the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act and under section 9A(8) of the Chota Nagpur Commutation Act; and (vi) the identification of bhuinhari plots in the maps made during the present survey of the area of 864 square miles referred to in (i) and (ii) above.

The whole programme was completed before the end of September.

* * * * * * *

Cadastral Survey.

104. The cadastral survey was completed in about two months. This result was due to the careful organization of the operations by Messrs. Lister and Reid and to the excellence of the traverse work done under the supervision of the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys. The survey work was very adequately tested by 2,940 linear miles of partal, of which 1,130 miles were in respect of quadrilaterals and 1,810 miles of detailed survey. The incidence of partal of the former came to 1·2 miles and of the latter to 2·1 miles per square mile. The re-partal by Assistant Settlement Officers of the Inspectors' lines of partal had the desired effect of ensuring thoroughness in the work of the latter and of bringing to light the defects and untrustworthiness of the work of some of the older inspectors. The daily average outturn achieved by the amins was nearly 30 acres of survey, or 40 plots of khanapuri, as against 22 acres or 40 plots respectively of the previous year. In February 1907 the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys inspected the cadastral maps at Ranchi and considered them to have been prepared carefully and well.

Preliminary record-writing, i.e., khanapuri.

105. Disputes were not so numerous as in previous years. They related chiefly to possession, claims to korkar and rights in trees. The total number of plots tested by all agencies, Assistant Settlement Officers, Head Inspectors and Inspectors, amounted to 35,233 plots which give an incidence of 11 per cent. as against 13·6 per cent. for last year. The percentage is somewhat low, and is due to the comparative shortness of the field season, as the khanapuri was completed by the end of February. The total number of internal disputes amounted to 3,282 which were all decided during the field season.

106. 206 boundary disputes were instituted and decided. The number of boundary disputes continued to be numerous in Ranchi as in Singhbhum. This, no doubt, is due to the fact that there has been no previous general survey, and the limits of old villages are still undefined, while new villages are being carved out every year by the reclamation of jungle. Many of the disputes were of a frivolous nature. The disputes pending between the Jashpur State and the adjoining villages of Ranchi mentioned in paragraph 115 of this Department's Report for the previous year were disposed of and confirmed in paragraph 2 of the Government of India's letter No. 3810I.B., dated 1st October 1907.

Boundary disputes.

107. The recess work was also finished early. The records were completed and all maps despatched for reproduction by the middle of August. As the work of the office is now organized, no difficulties were experienced.

Cadastral and khanapuri recess work.

108. Special care was taken during the field season to secure good draughtsmanship and proper inking-up of the maps. Great pains were also taken to keep the maps clean and neat. The results were very successful, as the maps reproduced well, and hardly any touching-up of lines had to be done in the office.

Reproduction of maps.

109. Seven officers were employed on attestation. The programme was completed by the end of March, with the exception of one camp in which the work went on till the end of April. The subjects of dispute were rent, rakumats and begari (predial services and conditions). The relations of zamindars and tenants were found to be bad over the greater part of the area. This was found in a large measure to be due to the oppression and dishonesty of a class of mahajans, who have supplanted in many places the old zamindars, and also in no small degree to the recalcitrance and unreasonable attitude of a large number of the raiyats Native Christians are reported to have been specially troublesome. The commutation under section 9A of the Commutation Act of rakumats and begari, especially of those which took the form of contributions of grain and other produce of the soil, was attended with some difficulty. According to the existing law, only such rakumats and begari as are proved to be renderable by ancient custom can be commuted, but as this criterion of ancient custom could not always be well satisfied with regard to the payments in kind, they had to be disallowed in some cases. The Settlement Officer considers that an amendment of the law is necessary. Nearly 20 per cent. of the raiyati tenancies were recorded as non-occupancy. When the principle of the "settled raiyat" of the Bengal Tenancy Act is extended to Chota Nagpur, as proposed in the draft Amendment Bill, the non-occupancy class will be very materially reduced. Over 5 per cent. of the tenancies were recorded as "service" holdings. It is believed that a large number of these service holdings were in reality ordinary raiyati holdings, in respect of which unscrupulous landlords have fraudulently succeeded in securing registered kabuliyats from the tenants, agreeing to render specified services. The Settlement Officer also suspects that certain landlords, dissatisfied with the results of commutation work, have begun to prepare evidence of service tenancies in order that they may continue to enjoy the services of the raiyats when required by them. Instances, on the other hand, of tenants combining to deprive landlords of the rakumats in respect of genuine service holdings are not unknown.

Attestation.

The rates of rents paid by non-occupancy raiyats are much higher than the rates paid by occupancy raiyats, and this is, no doubt, due to the fact that zamindars have not failed to take advantage of the omissions in the law regarding the principle of the settled raiyat as understood in Bengal and in Bihar. According to well-established custom, the old practice was to treat all raiyats who had been admitted to occupation alike in the matter of rent. The Chota Nagpur local land laws, however, drew a distinction between raiyats who had acquired an occupancy right by 12 years' continuous possession and those who had not. The former were entitled to pattas at a fair and equitable rate, while the latter were entitled to pattas at only such rates as were previously agreed to. The local custom, which drew no distinction, does not appear to have been sufficiently brought to notice before the Civil Courts, with the result that the provisions of the law were made to supersede existing custom and to abolish rights not expressly specified in the law. It is a curious fact that in the Sonthal Parganas, where a similar distinction is laid down in the Settlement Regulations, no distinctions in practice has ever been drawn between the occupancy and non-occupancy raiyats. All were treated alike in the first settlements and all are now treated alike.

The incidence of rents was found to be most unequal. In the parts of Gumla adjoining Lohardaga rents were found in many villages to be very high, averaging as much as Rs. 5 per acre. This high incidence is to a great extent attributable to the success which certain landlords achieved in securing decrees of rents at fictitious rates. Where raiyats are illiterate, it is always easy for landlords to manipulate rates and deceive the Courts. These unequal rents have led, in many cases, to heartburning and ill-will, and, in some instances, to the complete or partial abandonment of villages. On the other hand, in some parts of the area the rates of rent were extremely low, averaging only 4 to 8 annas per acre. This is due, in some cases, to the raiyats' reclaiming and including in their holdings new lands without payment of additional rent and in others to their obtaining decrees in the Civil Courts at unduly low rates on account of the landlords' failure to keep proper accounts. In all such areas a settlement of fair and equitable rent is urgently required to level the more glaring inequalities, which naturally give rise to discontent on one side or the other.

Draft publication.

110. The draft publication of the records received special attention and was adequately supervised by the Assistant Settlement Officers by visits during the publication. The Settlement Officer thinks that there is room for improvement in the agency at present employed on publication work if it is desired to have mistakes detected more completely, but observes that the low level of intelligence of the aboriginal population is no small impediment to a better understanding of the records and the pointing out of mistakes contained in them.

Jungle rights.

111. A very difficult problem has arisen in connection with jungle rights. The zamindar's proprietary rights in jungles have been expressly recognized by Government. The villagers, however, also possess certain restricted customary rights to cut timber for fuel and domestic purposes, and there has always been some difficulty in reconciling these conflicting interests. The villagers have been much impressed by the fact that their right to take wood for fuel and other purposes free of cost has been recorded in the khatian of jungle rights, and have in many cases grossly abused this privilege. Some bad cases came to the personal notice of the Settlement Officer, and he is of opinion that unless a distribution of the jungle into reserved and unreserved areas be made, there is a danger that the district may become deforested at no distant date.

* * * * * * *

Statistics.

113. Out of a total of 1,043,963 acres in the thanas of which the records were attested and statistics collected the don or low land covers only 13·28 per cent. The uplands or tanr lands comprise 32 per cent., while the uncultivated lands comprise 54·72 per cent., of the whole. The area cropped every year amounts to 297,635 acres, or only 28·51 per cent. The important food-crops are rice, gundli, marua and urid. The only important non-food crop is surguja.

Cost rates.

114. The cost rates for the survey and khanapuri of the area worked out to an average of Rs. 86·24 per square mile as against a rate of Rs. 89·52 for the previous year. The accounts for the season's work have been completely cleared, and the results are satisfactory. In comparing these rates with those of the Survey of India Department, it is necessary to remember that they include expenditure in supervision of khanapuri by Assistant Settlement Officers, which was not included in the Survey of India rates. The cost of this supervision during the year under report amounted to Rs. 6,000, or Rs. 6·94 per square mile. Deducting this, the cost rate works out at Rs. 79·30 per square mile. From the figures supplied by the Accountant-General, it appears that the cost of the survey and khanapuri of 2,289 square miles done by the Survey on India Department in this district up to October 1905 amounted to Rs. 2,30,407, which gives an incidence of over Rs 100 per square mile. The incidence per square mile for the work done by the Settlement Department (2,482 square miles) amounts to Rs. 79 and Rs. 79 30 per square mile for the last two years, respectively. The lowness of the rate is highly creditable to the Settlement Officer, as it has been secured by thorough organisation and the strictest attention to economy in every detail of work.

* * * * * * * *

The average size of a field was 1·7 acres. Free labour was supplied by the villagers as heretofore.

Introductory: Work in previous year.

115. The whole of the Singhbhum district, with the exception of Dhalbhum, has already been completely surveyed and settled. The Dalbhum estate, including a small area of about 13 square miles situated in the Midnapore district, is a homogeneous block and bears tauzi No 1 on the revenue-roll of the Singhbhum district. It was under the Court of Wards in the year 1881, when a general settlement was made for a term of 15 years. The tract is a backward one inhabited principally by aborigines, and when the proprietor's manager in 1903 attempted to make a new settlement, complaints were made of oppression, excessive enhancement and other malpractices. Additional reasons for undertaking the operations at an early date were that the Ghatwals were continually at strife with the persons who cultivated under them and claimed occupancy rights, and that disputes relating to forests were causing constant friction. In the midst of these troubles the proprietor, Babu Satrughan Deo Dhabal Deb, an old man of 75, having incurred debts to the extent of four lakhs of rupees, the estate was, on the application of his heir, brought under the protection of the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, VI (B C.) of 1876. Meanwhile the proprietor had leased out the whole estate for 25 years on terms which left no margin of profit to the lessees from the existing assets of the estate and were a direct incentive to illegal rent enhancement and to interference with established rights. Very serious administrative difficulties were apprehended and, accordingly, on the recommendation of the local officers the sanction of the Government of India was obtained to the initiation of the operations in letter No. 1605—117-2, dated 23rd October 1905.

* * * * * * * *

Programme.

117. The programme of the year consisted of—

(i) the cadastral survey and khanapuri of 587 square miles;
(ii) cadastral recess works of the same area; and
(iii) identification of ghatwali lands in the maps prepared during the field season.

The whole programme has been completed.

* * * * * * * *

Cadastral survey and record-writing.

119. The survey was completed in about two months. The traverse was good as in the case of Ranchi, and hence the survey proceeded rapidly. It was tested by 1,898 linear miles of partal, of which 592·7 miles consisted of partal of quadrilaterals and 1,305·3 miles partal of detailed survey, the incidence amounting in the case of the former to 1 linear mile per square mile and in the latter to 2·2 linear miles per square mile. As in, the case of Ranchi, the re-partal conducted by Assistant Settlement Officers had the effect of ensuring the correcteness of the partal done by the subordinate agency of inspectors. Record-writing was simple. Internal disputes were few, amounting to 1,803 only for the whole area. Some difficulty was, however, experienced during the recess in getting together the necessary staff of Bengali-knowing amins to complete the preliminary records which were written in Bengali, the vernacular of the area. The daily average outturn of amins was about 28 acres of survey or 35 khanapuri numbers. The average outturn of up-country amins was considerably more. The Bengali amins were found to be much slower and less accurate workers, many of them having had no proper training in survey.

The maps were well drawn and properly inked-up. They were kept clean and neat and reproduced well.

120. As in Ranchi, boundary disputes were numerous owing to there having been no previous Revenue survey of the tract. Difficulty was felt in deciding the disputes in some cases owing to the lack of reliable evidence of possession. The villages, which are very small, usually consist of house sites, some cultivated lands and a patch of jungle. It was not easy to decide how much jungle appertained to a particular village. In practice the inhabitants of several villages were often found to have exercised rights of possession. Since the close of the year the Settlement Officer was appointed in Government order No. 2574P.D., dated 7th October 1907, to be Commissioner for the settlement of an important dispute between the Dhalbhum Estate and the neighbouring State of Moharbhanj in Orissa.

Boundary disputes.

121. There are 145 Ghatwali villages in the area surveyed. The Ghatwali lands surveyed and demarcated according to the terms of the Ghatwali compromise of 1885 were identified on the maps of the present survey, the Ghatwali plots being projected from the original maps of that survey. The Ghatwali survey, it now appears, was imperfectly done, and, as a matter of fact, the Ghatwals are found to be in possession of less land than is noted in the original Ghatwal maps. The Ghatwals have not lost or abandoned any of the lands assigned to them in 1885; but the demarcation and survey then made were faulty and not in accordance with the actual assignment. A smaller area was, in fact, assigned to the Ghatwals than was intended by the terms of the compromise, and the deficiency is, in some cases, considerable. The projection of the Ghatwali blocks did not occasion any difficulty, as the external boundaries of the blocks including all lands in boundaries and field corners, have been shown correctly in the Ghatwali maps. In cases of doubt the khanapuri records were consulted.

Ghatwali identification.

In some cases the Ghatwals have included ordinary raiyati lands in their Ghatwali tenures, and vice versâ. All such cases are easily detected when the projection is completed.

Sub-letting of their tenures or portions of them to raiyats on rent is found to be common.

122. The following particulars relating to the local pradhans and khunt, kattidars, elicited in the course of the operations, will be read with interest. Most of the villages are leased out to headmen known as pradhans, who collect the rent and pay it to the proprietor or superior tenure-holder minus a deduction by way of remuneration for the trouble of collection. The origin of the pradhan is clear. A family of Mundas, Sonthals or Bhumijs settled down in a suitable place in the jungle and proceeded to clear it. As they cleared it a village community was formed. The village lands were assessed to rent by the superior tenure-holder, who appointed the chief member of the family which founded the village as pradhan. The pradhan agreed to collect the rent and perform certain other duties, and became, in fact, the recognised representative of the village in all its external relations. In course of time the original pradhan was in many cases unable to collect the rent or was dispossessed by the proprietor. This is especially noticeable in the large and well cultivated villages in which Bengali and other diku (non-aboriginal) cultivators have found a footing. There appears to be a tendency on the part of the present lessees to ignore some of the established rights of the pradhan and to eject him on the expiry of the period of his settlement. The preparation of a special record of the rights and duties of the pradhans will, it is hoped, sufficiently safeguard his rights. A form of the special record was submitted to the Board with this Department letter No. 384T., dated 30th September 1907, and sanctioned since the close of the year.

Pradhans.

123. Very important privileges attach to the khunt-katti tenancies in the pargana. For instance, by law they are liable to only half the average rates of rent paid by ordinary occupancy raiyats for the same class of lands. It was found, however, that the Courts had not clearly recognised their rights, and that they were assessed at full rates and in no way differentiated from ordinary raiyati holdings. This is probably due to the fact that there is no definition of the word khunt-katti in section 19 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, nor were the aborigines aware of their privileged rights nor prepared to uphold them in the courts. The word khunt-katti, both in Ranchi and Singhbhum, is applied in its restricted sense to all lands cleared by the original settlers of the villages or by their descendants, and the lands so cleared are held under the khunt-katti rights and title so long as they remain in their possession. It possibly has in this pargana a more extended sense embracing also lands reclaimed from jungle by later settlers in the village. For the present, however, only the former class of lands, which corresponds to the bhuinhari lands of Ranchi, has been recorded as khunt-katti.

Khunt-katti tenancies.

REVISION SETTLEMENTS AND MAINTENANCE OF LAND RECORDS.

Initial revision of the record-of-rights in Balasore.

128. The scheme for the initial revision of the record-of-rights in the Orissa Division in order to pave the way for the introduction of the scheme for continuous maintenance was finally sanctioned by the Secretary of State in Despatch No. 195, dated the 26th October 1906. It was decided to undertake the work under section 101(1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and it was settled that the operations should start from Balasore and gradually extend to the districts of Cuttack and Puri. The work was notified in Notification No. 3665L.R., dated the 28th December 1906, which also covered Bichitrapur, a Government Estate let out in farm.

Programme and work done.

130. It was originally contemplated to complete khanapuri, attestation, draft publication, and section 103A case work in respect of 18,00,000 plots during the settlement year. But in March 1907 this programme was cut down and a revised programme, covering 11 lakhs of plots or about half the total number in the district, was substituted. Owing to initial difficulties resulting in a late start, sickness in the subordinate staff, the novelty of the work and the inexperience of most of the supervising staff, it was not found possible to work up to the revised programme. In spite of the fact that field operations were continued up to the break of the rains, of 11 lakhs of plots khanapuried, only 7 lakhs could be attested and the remainder has had to be left over for the next field season. The attested records were draft published and 5,659 objections which were instituted under section 103A have been disposed of during recess. A considerable amount of office work was also completed in recess.

Reorganisation of the work.

131. Early in August I spent three days at Balasore with Mr. Cornes, Settlement Officer, looking into the progress of the work, the failure to work up to the programme, the methods of work, and other questions that had arisen in the course of the operations.

It appeared that unless radical alterations were made in the system of work, the revision of the Orissa records would cost a very much larger sum than anticipated in the last general estimate (viz., Rs. 6,61,000, vide Government of Bengal's letter No. 258T.—R., dated 28th April 1906, to the Government of India). The failure to work up to the programme had occurred chiefly at the attestation stage. It was expected that the average Assistant Settlement Officer attesting a record which was merely the record of ten years ago brought up to date, would get through the work at the rate of 20,000 plots a month. As a matter of fact, the average outturn was only about 9,500 plots. This shortage of outturn was due in part to the newness of the work and the inexperience of most of the staff; but from an examination of some records, I thought it was also due to the over-elaboration of the methods employed in revising the old record at the khanapuri stage. From a progress point of view, the existence of a ten-years' old record was a disadvantage rather than a gain, for the attestation officer not only made a complete attestation of the revised record, but also went over a great portion of the old, the work of attestation being thus doubled. The question was how this could be avoided without sacrifice of efficiency.

132. It had been considered necessary to frame a new record, because of the large percentage of change in the old record which the experimental work of 1906 brought to light. It was found that 69 per cent. of the plots and 76 per cent. of the khatians were affected by the changes of the previous nine or ten years. The percentages are misleading, because they do not distinguish essential changes from accidental, and because they, to some extent, overlap. Thus, if a raiyat, A, with a holding of 12 plots, has been succeeded by his son B, and there is no alteration in the area of the holding, the correction to be made is a very simple one, viz., the substitution of B's name for A's. But in the register of changes, this would be shown not only as an alteration of one khatian, but also as a change in 12 plots. It has the further effect of throwing out the boundaries of possibly 24 other plots, viz, all those lying immediately north and south of the 12 in question. Thus, one small change about which there is no dispute appears in the register as 36 plot changes

Obviously the work of revision would be considerably reduced, if it could be confined to the incorporation in the existing record of essential changes, that is, changes in the ownership of holdings and changes in the plots that comprise the holdings.

The former include changes by succession, sub-lease, gift, sale, partition, conversion of raiyati land into nij-chas or of nij-jot and nij-chas into raiyati, and reclamation by new raiyats.

The latter include corrections due to previous mistakes in mapping and area extraction, subdivision of plots in cases of outright transfer or acknowledged partition, transfer of plots from one khatian to another by exchange etc., addition to existing khatians of plots newly reclaimed.

The merely accidental changes include cases of the following kinds:—

(a) change in record of plot boundaries due to successions and transfers in adjoining plots;

(b) change in the number of kitas contained in a plot;

(c) amalgamation of adjoining plots in the same holding;

(d) subdivision of plots to show separate possession of co-sharers in a joint-khatian;

(e) subdivision of plots to show possession of mortgagees in part-plots.

133. In my inspection note I submitted to the Board reasons for taking little if any notice of these non-essential changes that have occurred since the previous record was prepared, and after consideration of these, the Board have laid down as follows:—

(a) that only one boundary in the original record be corrected and published in the draft record, and that boundaries be omitted from the final record,

(b) that changes in the number of kitas be recorded,

(c) that no notice be taken of the amalgamation of plots in the same holding,

(d) and (e) that the subdivisions referred to be not surveyed, entries being merely made in the column of remarks.

The last three classes of cases, involving both correction of the map and alteration of areas, were the cases that gave most trouble to the correction staff and the Attestation Officer. Their elimination alone should materially lighten the work and expedite progress.

The amalgamation of plots was particularly objectionable. It was no doubt a gain at the copying stage, as it eliminated about 10 per cent. of the plots, but it meant an infinite amount of trouble at the correction and area reconciliation stage, and there being no re-numbering of the map and khasra, the result was a sequence full of objectionable breaks, which might lead to fraud of various sorts. The objection to re-numbering during the currency of the present revenue settlement is, I think, insurmountable. The plot numbers are entered not only in the revenue settlement records, but also in numberless private documents of sale, mortgage, sub-lease, partitions, etc., and in civil and rent-suit records, and, however careful a cross-index be prepared to connect the old and new numbering, confusion is bound to result in the mind of the ordinary landlord and raiyat. The position will be different at a new revenue settlement, but re-numbering during the currency of the settlement cannot be too strongly deprecated.

134. After obtaining the orders of the Board on the proposed changes and other points of procedure and principle that cropped up, I prepared redrafts of the khanapuri and the Attestation Rules, and these have since the close of the year been sanctioned by the Board and printed. The programme for the present field season was also remodelled, with the object of making up the ground that had been lost. It has been arranged that the Settlement Officer shall have the following staff :—

1 Junior Civilian to assist in the work of supervision.
1 Experienced Deputy Collector at head-quarters.
4 Assistant Settlement Officers to supervise khanapuri, and 16 Assistant Settlement Officers to carry on attestation.

It was also settled that officers should take the field from 1st November and not as originally proposed in Government No. 58T.—R., dated the 28th April 1906, from the month of January.

135. Khanapuri Establishment.—According to the previous system of work, the khanapuri amin called a recorder, and his muharrir were paid by results, i.e., according to the number of corrections they made in the existing record. This system put a premium on petty and unnecessary alterations and has been abolished. In future the recorders and their muharrirs will be paid according to the number of plots examined, fines being imposed where failure to correct the record according to the rules is detected. It has also been proposed to employ a different class of Inspectors whose business will be confined to survey and khanapuri check, the settlement of all disputes being left to the Assistant Settlement Officers in charge of khanapuri.

136. Nij-jot and nij-chas lands.—Perhaps the most difficult question that has arisen in the course of the operations is he treatment of the recorded nij-jot and nij-chas of last settlement. A protest was made on behalf of the zamindars against the khanapuri rules which dealt with the acquisition of occupancy rights in those lands.

So far as their claims were not consistent with the provisions of the law, it has not been possible to make any concessions to them.

But the khanapuri rules, and attestation rules on the subject of nij-jot and nij-chas have been amplified and modified so as to give proprietors a chance of putting forward their claims more clearly than before, and to ensure that every case will be fully dealt with.

137. Rents of newly-cultivated lands.—In most cases where raiyats have been found to have encroached on the waste land of the village, no extra rent is paid to the zamindar, and it is impossible to record rent now, because most zamindars want produce rents to be settled or to take heavy salami, while the raiyats want to hold at village rates. In some cases rents have been settled by mutual agreement, and noted in the record. Instructions for dealing with the difficulty have been included in the new Rules.

138. Gochar lands.—The instructions which were given by Board for the report by the Settlement Department to the Collector of cases of encroachment on reserved grazing lands were duly carried out. The question of enforcing the provisions of the kabuliyat, as regards gochar lands, is not unattended with difficulty. Each case will have to be dealt with on its merits. The Collector of Cuttack brought to my notice a case in which a raiyat sued for declaration that a plot of land recorded as gochar was his pahi land. The zamindar did not defend the suit and the Civil Court gave the raiyat a decree. The zamindar made no report to the Collector. The decree was probably collusive and the action of the zamindar a serious violation of the terms of his kabuliyat.

139. Separate accounts—One Assistant Settlement Officer was engaged during a portion of the recess in carrying out the orders contained in the Board's letter No. 241A.—T., dated the 4th May 1907, on the subject of supplying information to the Collector regarding separate accounts. The work was inspected by the Hon'ble Member on the 23rd of July, and suggestions made for the simplification of the work. A fresh set of rules has since my inspection been drafted and incorporated in the new Attestation Rules.

140. Objections of the zamindars.—Soon after the commencement of the work a memorial was presented to Government on behalf of the Balasore National Society urging that Government was stopped by its previous promises from revising the current settlement of Orissa, and asking for the abandonment of the work already commenced. It was explained to the memorialists that their objections were base upon a misconception, Government having never held out any promise which waived its right to revise or maintain the record during the currency of the settlement. My personal experience of the settlement camps is that the work of revision is welcomed by the raiyats and the better class of landlords. It enables the raiyats to have their mutations recorded at little if any cost to them and clears up the disputes which they have with one another and with their landlords before these disputes have grown serious or intricate. Zamindars who are oppressive do not relish the work because it interferes with their malpractices.

Maintenance of Land Records in Sambalpur.

142. The system of Land Records in Sambalpur continued unchanged during the year, and the discipline in the staff was satisfactory. As the Patwari establishment is now being paid from Provincial Revenues on account of the abolition of the Patwari cess, proposals for maintaining service books for Patwaris and for a free-supply of stationery to them and to the Inspectors are under consideration. During the year 126,099 khasra entries in 1,930 villages, or 10 per cent. of the total number of entries for the whole district, were tested by Revenue Inspectors. The Superintendent of Land Records inspected 276 villages and tested 4,611 khasra entries in 10 Revenue Inspector's Circles, besides reporting on 764 miscellaneous applications and doing other miscellaneous work. The Assistant Superintendent inspected 284 villages and 4,473 khasra entries in addition to the correction of the records of 105 villages. The tahsildars of Sambalpur and Bargarh tahsils tested 366 entries in 101 villages, and the additional tahsildar, 58 entries in 6 villages. One hundred and four khasra entries in 8 villages and the Patwari papers in about 64 villages were examined by the Deputy Commissioner, and 61 khasra entries in 4 villages by the Subdivisional Officers during the year. The number of jamabandi entries checked by the kanungos was 132,134, and the average percentage of inaccuracies discovered was only ·3 per cent. on the total number tested. The work of check and inspection was adequate. The question of compelling the Patwaris to reside within their circles received attention, the number of non-resident Patwaris during the year being 17 per cent. of the total number in the whole district. Survey classes for the instruction of Patwaris were opened at Revenue Inspectors' head-quarters during the rains and 16 Patwaris and 64 candidates received instructions in surveying.

The results of the working of the Mutation offices.

143. The returns of the Mutation offices established at Battia, Hajipur and Mahnar under the Land Records Maintenance Act, VII of 1895, show a slight falling off, as compared with the preceding year. Two thousand seven and hundred seventy-one mutations were registered during the year under review against 2,950 in 1905-06, and the receipts from fees amounted to Rs. 295 against Rs. 319 realized last year. These figures corroborate the opinion expressed in previous Annual Reports that the present Act, VII of 1895, is not a success. Until, however, the introduction into Orissa of the scheme for continuous maintenance has supplied us with experience, it would be premature to undertake fresh legislation of a general nature.

Maintenance of Land Records and inspection of rent-rolls in Government and Wards' estates.

144. * * * * * * * * * According to the standard laid down in Board's Circuar No. 11 of April 1903, the number of mutations recorded annually should not fall below 8 per cent. of the total number of tenancies. Out of 15 reporting districts, the standard, so far as Government estates are concerned, was attained or exceeded in 6 districts and nearly approached in 2 districts. In the remaining districts the prescribed percentage was not attended, although in two cases it ranged between 5 and 6 per cent. Taking the Government estates as a whole, the percentage attained is 4·42 against 4·07 in the preceding year.

No mutations were recorded in the Angul Government estate on account of the survey and settlement operations. In Sambalpur the mutation work is done by a special Land Records staff, and the Deputy Commissioner reports that it was efficiently carried out. In Patna much difficulty is felt in keeping the mutation records of the Government estates corrected up to date, as the occupancy raiyats are in the habit of mortgaging or selling their holdings, but such transfers are not recognized by Government. In Gaya there was a slight improvement, the percentage having risen to 7·84 from 4·36 in last year. In Saran the low percentage is attributed to the transferees not having applied for registration of their names, as the omission did not entail any penalty. In Darbhanga the falling off is attributed to the very large number of mutations relating to succession which were registered in the previous year. In certain districts no explanations have been furnished by the local officers for the poor results attained.

145. Of the 19 Wards' estates included in the return, only three, the Sheohar and Parsoni estates in Muzaffarpur and Lugma in Bhagalpur have reached the prescribed standard. In the Nayagram estate in Midnapore and Dompara in Cuttack no mutations were recorded owing to settlement operations. In the Delang estate in Puri the mutation work was insufficient, and steps have been taken to improve the present system. In the Deo estates in Gaya the percentage of mutations was 1·01 against ·71 in the preceding year, and the lowness of the percentage is attributed to the fact that many villages are let out in thika or mukarari leases. In the Hathwa estate in Saran the explanation of low percentage is the prevalence of the system of usufructuary mortgages by which the tenants avoid outright alienation. In other three petty estates of this district the standard was not attained on account of the absence of penalties for non-registration. The figures for the Bettiah estate in Champaran are reported to be inadequate on account of the absence of necessary provisions in the form of leases granted to thikadars. Steps are being taken to secure a better organization of the work in this estate. The Collector of Darbhanga reports that in Narhan estate great attention was paid to the work during the year, and the system in vogue proved a success. In Bhagalpur the mutation work was efficient only in the case of the Lugma estate and statistics are not yet available as regards the rest, which have come lately under khas management. In the Sonthal Parganas there were very few mutations effected during the year in the Pakur and Pathrol estates as these have recently been re-settled. For the Rohini, Ghati, Panasi and North Sankara estates the returns are blank, as they are now under settlement.

146. As regards the inspection of rent-rolls, the prescribed standard of 50 per cent. was attained or exceeded in 22 out of 26 Government estates and 8 out of 11 Wards' estates. The percentage was 100 in the case of 14 estates. The percentage was seriously deficient in the Bettiah estate again during the year under report, being 0·98 as compared with 2·7 in the preceding year. The Commissioner of Patna reports that steps have been taken to secure better results in future, the low figures being mainly due to defects in the existing form of thikadari leases.

UTILIZATION OF LAND RECORDS.

147. The extracts received from the Collector's Land Revenue Administration Reports for 1906-07 are sufficient earnest of the general advance that has been made in the utilization of Land Records in all branches of district administration. They are freely referred to by the Criminal and Civil Courts as well as by Revenue Officers dealing with the various branches of Collectorate work, such as Cess, Partition, Land Acquisition, Land Registration, Public Demands Recovery and Agricultural Loans. They form the basis of management in all Government, Wards and Encumbered Estates. The thana index maps have been most useful for District Board work, for re-organization of chaukidari unions, and for all administrative purposes of a general nature. Save in the districts of Purnea, Shahabad and Singhbhum, the Registration offices appear to have generally insisted upon the description of lands by survey plot numbers in documents presented for registration.

148. The Deputy Commissioner of Ranchi writes that probably not a single case relating to land in the area completed or still under settlement has been disposed of without reference to the settlement records, that the decisions of Attestation Officers as to rent and rates of rent are seldom contested, and that the raiyats are now realising fully the benefit of the settlement operations and understanding the rights which have been secured and safeguarded for them by the record-of-rights. The Collector and Magistrate of Gaya testifies to the great use that the settlement record has been to the Courts, especially in cases under sections 145 and 147, Criminal Procedure Code. Complainants have always to produce their copies of the khatians in criminal cases and the Police have instructions to refer to the settlement maps in preparing sketches of the scenes of occurrences. In Revenue cases, the records are extensively used. They have been found particularly useful in commutation and appraisement cases.

The Collector and Magistrate of Darbhanga notes that in every criminal case in which the subject of dispute is land, the complainant is required to identify the land by its survey number. The District Superintendent of Police has been supplied with copies of the cadastral maps for reference in Police cases. Much use was made in the Famine Relief operations of the survey index maps which simplified the organisation of relief circles, and facilitated the distribution of agricultural loans.

Similar testimony comes from nearly every district. The Collector of Saran suggests the issue of a general circular that lands in cases under section 145, Criminal Procedure Code, be always identified by the Police by their survey numbers. The Collector of Bhagalpur has suggested that all Civil Courts should be required to insist upon a similar identification of lands in plaints that are filed before them. The suggestion was favourably considered at the last Commissioners' Conference in Darjeeling.

149. There is everywhere evidence of a growing disposition on the part of both Criminal and Civil Courts to accept the settlement record as presumptive evidence of the facts entered in it. So far as the Civil Courts are concerned, the tendency will no doubt receive considerable stimulus from the scheme whereby selected Munsifs are being deputed for training in settlement work. I have talked to some of them in camp and find them disposed to attach a much higher value to settlement records than they did before their deputation. They have learnt by personal experience what an amount of laborious work and careful attention is bestowed on the preparation of the record.

MAINTENANCE OF BOUNDARY MARKS.

150. Under the orders of the Board of Revenue contained in their letter No. 1531A., dated the 19th March 1907, the introduction of a comprehensive scheme for the maintenance of a boundary marks in the surveyed and settled districts of North Bihar has been deferred till a verification of boundary stones has been made in the revisional operations which must precede the introduction of a maintenance scheme in that area. Meanwhile the subject is receiving attention in the Orissa Revision settlement, and the experience that is being gained there should prove of the utmost use when the case of North Bihar is taken up. Detailed rules for the guidance of the Orissa staff were drawn up in modification of the rules in Appendix T to the Survey and Settlement Manual, 1900, and were approved by the Board of Revenue in their letter No. 12A.—T., dated the 13th April 1907. So far as the work to be done at the stage of Revision survey is concerned, the rules have worked well. The number of stones replaced by the Revision staff last field season was 1,425. The Settlement Officer has brought to my notice the fact that sandstone boundary marks are not suitable for the alluvial tracts of Orissa, and has suggested that laterite stones be used in future. In a country where there is no sandstone, the temptation offered to the raiyats of appropriating the present trijunction marks to use as grindstones for agricultural implements and as curry-stones is great. Already it has been reported that two or three stones recently relaid have disappeared. Similar causes may account for the disappearance of sandstone trijunction marks elsewhere. The present rules also require modification in the direction of fixing responsibility for the stones as soon as they are placed in position or at the khanapuri stage. It is a mistake to leave this to be done by the Collector after he has received our registers and mujmilis prepared at the close of attestation.

* * * * * *

152. Burdwan Division.—The proportion of boundary marks found to be damaged or missing is high, but this is explained by the fact that several of the estates in the Burdwan district consist of Diara areas where it is difficult to maintain boundary marks. I have excluded from the statement the clay cylinders put down in the Pataspur estates of Midnapore. These were not permanent marks, and the majority of them have disappeared in the natural course of things. As reported last year, most of the khas mahals and the Nayagram Ward's estate in Midnapore are at present under settlement. Arrangements for the maintenance of boundary marks in these estates will be made on receipt of the mujmili maps and registers from the Settlement Department.

153. Presidency Division.—The proportion of boundary pillars of Government estates found to be damaged is high, being 336 out of a total of 2,349 inspected. Most of the damages is reported from the 24-Parganas, where 260 out of 1,154 inspected were placed in this category. In this district the supervision of the marks within town areas has been entrusted to head constables or town chaukidars, while similar duties in rural areas have been relegated to the dafadars. Registers of boundary marks in forms suited to local conditions and approved by the Board of Revenue are now being opened in place of the old registers. In the Phulhatta estate in Khulna 24 trijunction stone prisms and 24 square stones for internal marks have been erected, and the register of permanent boundary marks and the mujmili maps have been completed at a cost of Rs. 141 and made over to the Collector. In the Dihi Bhadra estate in this district some 43 stone trijunction prisms put down during demarcation by the traverse surveyors are missing and will be replaced at attestation, while 66 square stones will be erected to mark internal stations. In Nadia measures were taken to repair and replace damaged and missing stones.

154. Patna Division.—The proportion of boundary pillars in Government estates found to be damaged or missing compares favourably with the proportion already noticed in the Burdwan and the Presidency Divisions, but the opposite is the case with respect to zamindari estates. No explanation has been offered by the local officers as to this variation. A complete list of all boundary marks in the Government and Wards' estates in Gaya was prepared during the year. One thousand two hundred and sixty-one pillars were purchased towards the end of 1905-06 and 473 during the year of report, the cost of the latter, including distribution, amounting to Rs. 229. Of the 1,734 pillars purchased, 1,688 were erected at a cost of Rs. 154.

155. Bhagalpur Division.—There is nothing special to notice in respect of this Division. In the Sonthal Parganas 12 marks are reported to have been damaged in the Government estates and one mark is said to be missing in a Ward's estate. The subject received special attention from the Settlement Department in the district. It was found that there were many missing trijunction stones in the area that has been recently settled. In the Daminikoh special enquiries were made by Amins and 1,183 stones were found missing. Arrangements are being made to replace stones in this and other areas before the registers and mujmilis prescribed are handed over to the Deputy Commissioner. Rules have been drafted for the inspection and maintenance of boundary marks after this work has been completed. No figures are given for the districts of Purnea, Monghyr and Bhagalpur, where no regular inspection could be made for want of boundary-mark registers, the compilation of which has not yet been completed. The marks in the Government estates in North Bhagalpur were, however, inspected and found to be in proper order In South Bhagalpur the attestation camps were each supplied with a special Amin to verify the position of all boundary marks, and numerous mistakes, either in placing the stones or indicating their position on the maps, were detected. In Darjeeling the Maintenance Rules are reported to have been duly served in the khas mahals. The boundary pillars of raiyati lands in the district are said to be erected and preserved by the raiyats themselves at their own expense, and the existing 100 trijunction pillars are maintained by the Mandals.

156. Orissa Division.—Pending the passing of the Orissa Maintenance of Land Records Bill, the application of the rules for the maintenance of boundary marks in the districts of Balasore, Cuttack and Puri has been kept in abeyance. In respect of the Government estates of the district of Balasore, however, the boundary marks were inspected by the khas mahal establishment. The marks in the Banki Government estate and the Dompara Ward's estate in Cuttack appear to have been duly inspected, with the result that only a small number in the former was found to be missing or damaged. In Angul boundary marks have received special attention in the course of the resettlement of the estate which is now proceeding. In Sambalpur a large proportion of the marks was damaged or lost owing to the action of the rivers. These will be replaced by the villagers who are, under the Central Provinces Land Revenue Act, bound to maintain the boundary marks of their respective villages.

157. Chota Nagpur Division.—The proportion of boundary pillars found damaged in the Palamau Government estates is high, being 4,605 out of a total of 10,303 inspected. This unusual proportion has not been explained, but steps appear to have been taken to renew or replace most of them. As reported last year, the boundary marks in Palamau are regularly looked after and replaced where necessary by the maintenance peshkars. In Ranchi the subject is engaging the careful attention of the Settlement Department. Special instructions, explaining the object of trijunction pillars, have been issued for the guidance of Attestation Officers, who are required to check the position of 20 per cent. of all stones or pillars erected by their Surveyor Munsarims. The Settlement Officer himself has checked the position of a large number of stones and pillars, and found the work generally well done. Registers and trijunction marks maps for an area of 2,289 square miles have been made over to the Deputy Commissioner, and his attention has been invited to the rules regarding the maintenance of marks, with the result that some cases of removal of stones by interested parties have been detected. Similar registers and maps for an additional area of 1,618 square miles which have been attested will shortly be made over to the Deputy Commissioner.

LIBERALITY OF MUSAJI AHMAD SALIJI, Esq.

No. 900Medl., dated Calcutta, the 10th April 1908.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Light showers fell during the week in Jessore, Khulna and in parts of Cuttack. The remaining districts received no rain. Rain is urgently wanted in Lower Bengal and in Champaran, Bhagalpur and Balasore for the preparation of lands and for the sowing of the next season's crops. It is also required for the standing crops as well as for the mango crop which appears to be promising in several districts. The harvesting of the rabi crops continues and the threshing of these crops is in full swing. The newly planted sugarcane crop is doing fairly well, but rain is wanted for its early growth. Mahua is being gathered; its prospects are so far fair. Cattle-disease exists in Bhagalpur, Puri, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. Scarcity of water is felt in the Burdwan Division generally, and also in Murshidabad, Jessore, Khulna, Angul and Manbhum. The fodder-supply is reported to be insufficient in parts of Birbhum, Bankura, Hooghly and Angul. The price of common rice is stationary except in Nadia, Champaran, Purnea, Balasore and Puri, where it has risen, and in Birbhum and Ranchi, where it has fallen. Stocks of food-grain are insufficient in Nadia, Murshidabad and Palamau Scarcity is still apprehended in Nadia and Shahabad. Persons on test-works in Bankura, Hazaribagh and Ranchi were 1,577 and in the Orissa districts 4,228. Gratuitous relief was given to 12,842 persons, of whom 10,674 were in Orissa.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

WORKING OF THE BENGAL SANITARY DRAINAGE ACT, 1895.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH, in the absence of the Hon'ble RAI KISHORI LAL GOSWAMI, BAHADUR, asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what Drainage Works have been undertaken under the Sanitary Drainage Act, 1895 (Ben. Act VIII of 1895)?

(b) Has the Sanitary Drainage Act operated successfully ? If not, to what cause is the failure due, according to the opinion of the Government ?

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM replied :—

"(a) The only scheme undertaken hitherto under the Sanitary Drainage Act (Bengal Act VIII of 1895), is the drainage of the Magra Hât and Kaorapukur swamps in the Diamond Harbour sub-division of the 24-Parganas district. The work is in progress.

"Certain other schemes are under consideration, but have not yet been started.

"(b) As the Act is not yet in practical operation, it is premature to express an opinion."

MOTOR-CARS FOR GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH, in the absence of the Hon'ble RAI KISHORI LAL GOSWAMI, BAHADUR, asked :—

What is the aggregate amount spent from the Provincial Revenue for buying motor-cars for Government officials in the years 1906-07 and 1907-08, and what has been the cost of maintenance (including repairs and renewal of parts) in each of those years ?

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM replied :—

"The aggregate expenditure on account of the purchase of motor-cars during the years 1906-07 and 1907-08 was Rs. 62,500, and Rs. 31,500, respectively. The aggregate cost of maintenance, including repairs and renewal of parts, during the year 1906-07, was Rs 8,200. The actual charges on account of maintenance and repairs, during the year 1907-08, will be ascertained when the accounts for that year have been closed."

COVENANTED CIVIL SERVICE APPOINTMENTS.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state how many appointments, formerly held by members of the Covenanted Civil Service, are now held in these Provinces by pure Natives of India who are not members of the said Service ?

(b) What is the amount of savings in the cost of administration effected by such appointments?

The Hon'ble MR. GAIT replied :—

"(a) The following appointments formerly held by members of the Indian Civil Service are now held by Natives of India who are not members of that Service :—

Four appointments of District and Sessions Judge.
Three ,, ,, Magistrate and Collector.
One appointment of Junior Secretary to the Board of Revenue.
One ,, ,, Under-Secretary to Government.
One ,, ,, Joint-Magistrate.

"In addition to these, seven appointments of Joint and Assistant Magistrates have been converted into posts of Deputy Magistrates—one in the third grade, two in the fourth, two in the fifth and two in the sixth.

"(b) The total monthly pay of these appointments amounts to Rs. 14,836 as against a sum of Rs. 22,600, which would represent the pay of the posts if held by Civilians. There is thus a monthly saving of Rs. 7,764."

GOVERNMENT STATIONERY.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what is the amount of the price paid by it for the stationery purchased by it which is manufactured in India, and what is the price of the stationery purchased which is manufactured in countries other than India?

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM replied:—

"The latest actuals available are for the year 1906-07. The figures for that year were as follows:—

	Rs.
Stationery manufactured in India	5,27,000
Ditto ditto outside India	1,74,000
Total ...	7,01,000

"Besides the above, the local officers bought stationery amounting to Rs. 33,584 in value from the local market in 1906-07."

PRIMARY SCHOOLS FOR BOYS.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what is the exact amount spent by it last year for Primary Schools for boys, excluding all expenses for direction, inspection, guru training schools and other training schools?

The Hon'ble MR. STREATFEILD replied:—

"The figures asked for by the Hon'ble Member require very careful collection from a number of different sources. It has been found impossible to obtain them in the time that has been available since the question reached me. They will, however, be compiled and after examination communicated to the Hon'ble Member."

APPLICATION OF INCOME UNDER THE PURI LODGING-HOUSE ACT, 1871.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI asked:—

Will it please the Government to state how the income derived under the Puri Lodging-house Act, 1871, is applied after making contributions to the Puri Municipality, as stated in the reply of the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham, in answer to the questions of the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh on the subject at the last meeting?

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM replied:—

"It appears from the statement attached to the last Resolution on the working of the Puri Lodging-house Act that, after making contributions to the Puri Municipality, the income derived from the Lodging-house Act is applied to the following purposes:—

(1) Health Officer's pay and allowances.
(2) Office establishment and contingencies.
(3) Dispensaries and other medical expenditure.
(4) Conservancy.
(5) Construction and repairs.
(6) Miscellaneous charges.

"A spare copy of the statement in question will be made over to the Hon'ble Member."

[THE CALCUTTA PORT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1908.]

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890. He said:—

"As explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the object of this Bill is to authorize the Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta to have his signature to debenture coupons engraved, lithographed or impressed by mechanical process.

"The Port Commissioners have arranged to raise a loan of £500,000, for the purpose of carrying out works of improvement in the Port of Calcutta. Five thousand debentures of £100 each will be issued, and to each debenture will be attached sixty coupons for payment of half-yearly interest, the loan being for a term of 30 years. Three hundred thousand coupons will have to be signed, and as the debentures must be ready for issue by the end of this month, the only practicable course is to authorize the use of mechanical processes for the reproduction of the Vice-Chairman's signature.

"Similar legislation has been found necessary in the case of the Bombay Port Trust, and the present Bill in substance follows section 17A of the Bombay Act of 1879."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business, to admit of the Bill being passed at the present sitting.

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Secretary accordingly read the title of the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON also moved that the Bill be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. MACPHERSON then moved that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE PURI LODGING-HOUSE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1908.

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Puri Lodging-house Act, 1871, be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE moved that sub-clause (b) of clause 5 of the Bill be omitted. He said:—

"When the Bill was first introduced, I objected to it on four main grounds:—

"First, that it made all Pandas lodging-house keepers. Second, that the fees were too high. Third, that the word 'reasonable' should not be omitted in the section." And fourth, that this sub-clause (b) should be omitted.

"I am glad to find that the Select Committee have been pleased to give effect to my objection on the first three grounds, to a very great extent. The dwelling-houses of the Pandas have been taken out from the operation of the Act, and a most objectionable difficulty has thus been avoided. I objected because it interfered with the priestly class. I find that my objection, upon that ground, was shared by a much higher person than myself. Sir Harvey Adamson, in the last meeting of the Supreme Council, declared that interference with the priestly class was unwise—a statement which was not considered mischievous by a certain newspaper, which violently attacked me upon that ground. Englishmen find it difficult to distinguish friends from enemies in India.

"The second objection as to the fees has also been met to some extent, Rs. 2 having been reduced to Re. 1. My third objection about the word 'reasonable' has also been met by provisions being made for safeguarding inspection of pilgrims.

"But, as regards my last objection, the majority of the Select Committee have thought it right to add the word 'day' to section 7. I find from a newspaper of Orissa that notwithstanding, the concessions, they are dissatisfied with the Bill; and they say they will carry on the fight against it, in spite of concessions made by the Select Committee for one, am thankful for the concessions made, but I ask Your Honour to consider this little matter. When the old Act was passed the Government for very good reasons omitted the word 'day' in section 7 and prescribed that the owner of a house, not licensed, should be punished by a fine, which has now been raised from Rs. 2 to Rs. 5, for every lodger for each night during which he might stay. Now the word 'day' has been added to the word 'night.' It is a well-known fact that hundreds and thousands of pilgrims visit the chief Hindu shrines during the day and go back to their homes in the neighbourhood during the night. Now this new provision will give an excuse to the lodging-house keepers, to demand the same fees from these pilgrims as from regular lodgers for giving them shelter from the burning sun of April and May and the torrential rain of July and August. It will be a great hardship to the poor pilgrims. I understand that one of the main objects aimed at by this Bill is, to raise sufficient funds for sanitation and the comfort of the pilgrims; but an indirect tax upon poor pilgrims is not, in my humble opinion, desirable. The benefit obtained by the raising of large funds would be very much counterbalanced by the hardships of the poorer portion of the pilgrims as has been pointed out by the Cuttack papers. Your Honour's well-known solicitude for the poor will, I trust, incline you to give this matter a favourable consideration. I find several other non-official Members have also given notice that they would move this amendment. I trust Your Honour will be pleased to accede this little request of the non-official Members."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"The amendment has my heartiest support and, as a matter of fact, the same amendment stands in my own name. During the discussion on the Bill in Select Committee, I pressed for the omission of the sub-clause, and the Hon'ble Mr Oldham, if I understood him right, was rather inclined to accept my views. But when it was found that the Puri Lodging-house Extension Act, 1879, had this clause with the addition of the words 'each day,' then the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham thought it proper to make the law uniform, and thus have the same law in operation, both in Puri and the other places to which the Act has been extended.

"But I beg to submit that the circumstances of Puri are quite different from those of other places where this Act has been extended. During the big festivals, such as , a very large number of pilgrims congregate in this holy city, and a good number of them cannot find a place in the licensed dwelling-houses; and what they really do is, they take temporary shelter in the cutcherry houses of zamindars or in the verandahs of private houses, and in houses which are not licensed as lodging-houses under the Act. These poor pilgrims are not required to pay any hire or rent for this temporary accommodation. The owners of these houses are doing it purely out of generous feelings. These pilgrims rest only for a few hours in these places. They visit the holy shrine and generally clear out in the course of the day. The effect of this legislation, or rather the inclusion of the word 'day', will be to deny this shelter to a very large number of pilgrims. As a matter of fact, the owners of these houses, who have hitherto granted so generously shelters to these pilgrims, will henceforth deny that shelter; and these pilgrims will have to stand on the road during the whole time of their visit to this holy city.

"Moreover, we do not find that the inclusion of the word 'day' will serve any very useful purpose; because the only thing which it will affect is, the temporary overcrowding of some of these private houses for a few hours in the day. But consider the evils which you impose by the insertion of this word, or rather the hardships which will operate on a very large number of pilgrims, whose number I should say is much larger than a number of pilgrims who are actually at the lodging-houses. I submit that, in view of these hardships, the word 'day' should not be inserted in the Puri Lodging-house Bill; and I submit that the matter be given due consideration."

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL said:—"When this Bill was introduced, I welcomed it as a piece of very useful legislation, and I still hold it to be efficient legislation; and, in that respect, I differ from my hon'ble friend on my right. But I think it is my duty to support my hon'ble friend in the ground he has taken. I will briefly explain the reason which has permitted me to support this motion. I have found, Sir, that people living close to a place of pilgrimage go there during the day and take rest for an hour or two in any contiguous eating-house or other house available, where a friend or relative is available, where they take their food and rest for a while and then go to their homes again after visiting the temple. I think, Sir, that if the word 'day' is inserted in addition to the word 'night,' it will materially interfere with the comforts of these people who are mostly poor. They will not be able to afford the charge of the lodging-houses, and these people generally manage anyhow by paying two or four pice to an eating-house-keeper, to stay there and spend an hour before moving on to the temples. We must safeguard, as much as possible, overcrowding in the legislation. I say I do not think, therefore, that if we omit the word 'day,' it will lead to any overcrowding in these places, for the people who come to them will be constantly moving about during the day. Of course, I quite understand if they stay there the whole night, then they become lodgers in the real sense of the word; and certainly then they should be brought within the province of the law. In these circumstances, I must ask you to omit the word 'day.'"

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"I have to support the motion, as a similar motion stands in my name. but I do not wish to go over the same ground as that covered by my hon'ble friends. But I wish to draw Your Honour's attention to two reports of two different bodies. The first is the British Indian Association, which says:—

'The two provisions of the Bill, to which the Committee beg leave to take exception, are those contained in the proposed amendments of sections 7 and 8. The increase of the rate of fees payable on licenses, by the owners of lodging-houses, would lead substantially to increased rents of these houses. This will prove a grievous burden to the pilgrims, most of whom are very poor. Such a measure will be deemed inequitable in a country, where the majority of the people consider it an indispensable religious duty to visit sacred shrines. Now that extension of railway communication has obviated the necessity for maintaining wayside seràis and dispensaries for the pilgrims, a provision for the increase of fees seems to be unjustifiable. The Legislature which first enacted the Puri Lodging-house Act very properly omitted to enjoin a penalty for temporary overcrowding of a house, not licensed as a lodging-house, during the day. The opening of the railway to Puri has rendered it easy for pilgrims to return the same day that they reach that place of pilgrimage. The stringency of this provision, caused by the addition of the words "day or," will hardly improve sanitation; on the contrary, it will afford a scope to subordinate inspecting officers to levy blackmail.'

"The Orissa Association wrote to the same effect, and I believe a public meeting held at Puri adopted a memorial, lodging objection to it; but I have not had it. I would point out that the railway arrangements, with regard to Puri, are such that pilgrims arrive by the morning train and leave by the evening train; and, having regard to these facts, I think it would be an improvement to an otherwise suitable Act if this word was left out."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said:—"This question, Sir, was discussed by the Select Committee and the opinions of the Associations consulted, which have been referred to by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, were considered; and the Select Committees accepted the proposal to insert the words 'day or', which had already been inserted in section 7 by Bengal Act I of 1884. These words are, therefore, in force in each of the other places to which this Act has been extended, and it is only at Puri that they are not in force. There is no reason that I see for drawing a distinction in this respect between Puri and other places of pilgrimage. The reasons which led to the insertion of these words were explained by Mr. Colman Macaulay, the then Secretary in the Municipal Department, when the Act of 1884 was passed through this Council; and, so far as this Government is aware, the words have not operated harshly in any of the other places affected by the Act. The arguments put forward just now by the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose seem to me to apply to the case of pilgrims who visit Puri by night just as much as to those who visit it by day. If it is hard that the pilgrims should have to stand on the road during the heat of the day, as the Hon'ble Member so pathetically urged, it would be quite as hard for them to stand on the road during the whole night. The fact that railway communication facilitates pilgrimage to Puri does not seem to me to affect the question in the least: the pilgrims can go to Puri in the evening and stay the day and go away in the morning, just as well as go in the morning, stay the day and go away in the evening. I do not see how this affects the case one way or the other. I must ask the Council, therefore, Sir, to reject this amendment."

The motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH moved that after the words "the place of residence of such Panda", at the end of sub-clause (2) of clause 3 of the Bill, the following be added:—

'But this payment does not include any money or property paid to the Panda for bonâ fide performance of any religious observances.'

He said:—"The amendment I beg to move has reference to sub-clause (2) of clause 3 of the Bill, which seeks to make the definition of the word 'lodger' more explicit than what it is in the existing law; and my proposal is that a further addition be made to that definition, by inserting at its end the words 'but this payment shall not include any money or property paid to the Panda for bonâ-fide performance of any religious observances.' It may be said that sub-clause (2) simply contemplates payment made in consideration for the provision of accommodation, and necessarily excludes any payment made for the performance of religious observances; and the amendment, I am pressing for, is not, therefore, necessary. But I submit that sub-clause (2) is not, strictly speaking, a necessity; as the High Court has held that pilgrims making any payments in consideration for the provision of accommodation are 'lodgers' within the meaning of the existing law, and the only necessity for inserting the said sub clause is to make the meaning of the law quite clear. If it be so, my amendment should be regarded in that light also.

"The object I have in view, in moving this amendment, is to meet the case of a large number of pilgrims, who cannot find accommodation in the licensed lodging-houses during the days of big festivals, and who seek temporary shelter in the cutcherry houses of the zamindars or in the verandahs of private houses—I mean houses which are not licensed as lodging-houses. The Pandas generally secure such shelter for them, and the pilgrims do not live in these places as whole-time lodgers; but they simply get protection against sun and rain, and as soon as they visit the holy shrine, they clear out of the town. But according to the time-honoured rites, which are enjoined by their religion, they are bound to pay something to their Pandas as pronami or for papuja as it is generally called, and this payment is made for the bonâ-fide performance of religious observances.

"Now, Sir, it may be argued by the zealous workers of the law, who may have to deal with the prosecutions under the Act, that this payment made to the Panda includes payment for temporary accommodation secured by him; and sub-clause (2), as it stands, makes the payer a lodger within the meaning of the Act, and the owners of the private houses are, therefore, liable to prosecution for suffering the pilgrims to occupy their houses. If

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That for sub-clause (b) of clause 5 of the Bill the following be substituted, namely:—

'(b) for the words "each night during any part of which," the words "each night that" shall be substituted.'

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI also, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That clause 6 of the Bill be omitted."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

"That the words 'one rupee' be substituted for the words 'the fee payable for a license under section 8,' in the last line of clause 14 of the Bill."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI also moved that the words "Lieutenant-Governor" be substituted for the word "Magistrate," in line 3 of the proposed amendment in clause 6 of the Bill. He said:—

"Of course, there are some discretionary powers which have to be vested, and there is no doubt they ought to be vested, in the highest authority. We are living in days of decentralization; but with regard to this matter it is always likely best for them to come up to head-quarters year after year, in order that we may say whether the existing state of things are such as are necessary. No loss of time is likely to occur in these days in the quick transmission of messages; and I think if the matters are left in Your Honour's hand, it will stand a better chance than if it were left for a Magistrate to do this, when he likes from time to time."

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL submitted that if His Honour was not able to accept the motion to change the word "Magistrate" into "Lieutenant-Governor", the word "Commissioner" should be substituted.

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said:—"I see no objection to this amendment as proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. In fact, personally I think that it will be preferable that the rate should be fixed by Government and notified in the Calcutta Gazette, so that it may be known to the public throughout the Province."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI also moved that in sub-clause (2) of clause 8 of the Bill, the figure "8" be substituted for the figures "10". He said:—

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said:—"I suggest to the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari as a compromise that the figure '9' be substituted for the figures '10' in clause 8 of the Bill."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"I agree in the compromise, and I accept it."

The motion was then put in the amended form and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI also moved that in sub-clause (c) of clause 8 of the Bill, the following words at the end be omitted:—"or by the Health Officer if he is also the Civil Medical Officer of the district." He said:—

"This amendment which I hope the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill will also see his way to accept. If Your Honour will please to sanction 10 as it stands, it will read thus: 'it shall be lawful for the Magistrate or the Health Officer, or for any other persons whom the Magistrate shall, by any writing thereonto, authorize at any reasonable time to enter into any lodging-house and to inspect and examine the same'; and so on Your Honour will see that the amendment is that no 'entry, inspection or examination shall be made between the hours of 10 P.M. and 6 A.M., except by (a) the Magistrate himself, or (b) the Health Officer, if he is also the Civil Medical Officer of the district, or (c) any officer, not below the rank of Sub-Deputy Magistrate or Sub-Deputy Collector, who is authorized in writing in this behalf by the Magistrate, or by the Health Officer if he is also the Civil Medical Officer of the district.' The Health Officer has no authority during the day, but will be invested with authority during the night; and Mr. Duke has, I think, pointed out it would not be quite safe to invest the ordinary Health Officer with authority like this, because he would generally be a low paid Civil Hospital Assistant. One cannot conceive circumstances in which it is likely, during the term the Magistrate may be asleep, for the Health Officer to arouse his subordinates from bed and order them out; and therefore I hope my hon'ble friend may see his way to accept the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I think the discussion in the Select Committee on this showed that we intended to do what has just been said by my hon'ble friend. He wanted the Magistrate himself or the Health Officer, or any officer not below the rank of Sub-Deputy Magistrate or Sub-Deputy Collector, to be empowered to make an inspection during such hours of the night. For my own part, I never thought who intended in the Select Committee that the Health Officer should be empowered to authorize any other person to make the inspection."

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL said:—"I support my friend and I wish to point out that this section invests a Magistrate and Health Officer with certain powers to delegate their functions to certain other officers, just as the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation delegates his powers to officers he knows. Now, the Magistrate is the person of all officers in a district likely to know the Sub-Deputy Magistrate and a Sub-Deputy Collector more than the Civil Surgeon of the district; and if power is to be given to any officer, I think it is just and proper that the Magistrate is the proper person who should be empowered and not the Civil Medical Officer, who belongs to a different department. Therefore, I think if it is invested in a Magistrate it will be wisely exercised."

The Hon'ble BABU GAJADHAR PRASAD said:—"I support the motion."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said:—"The Hon'ble Member seems to have missed the real point of the proviso. Clause (c) is intended to enable the Health Officer to pass an order when the District Magistrate is not available—when, for instance, he is on tour in a distant part of his district, and not when he is asleep. In many places, most of the executive work in connection with administration of the law falls upon the Health Officer; and this is another reason why the suggestion was made. However, the matter is not a very important one; and in view of the fact that in the first clause of the section the Health Officer has not been given power to authorize in writing any person to enter and inspect, I have no objection to the amendment being carried."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed. He said:—

"The Bill before the Council to-day is a very simple one. When it was first introduced in this Council, an attempt was made to make out that grave changes were contemplated in the principles of the Act How very far that was from the truth, has been disclosed by the subsequent proceedings in the Select Committee. All communications received from the local associations that were consulted on the provisions of the Bill have been very carefully considered by the Select Committee, and every weight given to the arguments put forward. The two gentlemen on this Council, who represent the Divisions in which the two most important places of pilgrimage to which this Act has been extended lie, were on the Select Committee. I refer to the Hon'ble Babu Gajadhar Prasad and the Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh.

The three provisions of the Bill to which objection was chiefly taken were the definition of the word 'lodger,' the raising of the maximum in section 8 and the omission of the word 'reasonable' in section 10. The opposition to the other provisions of the Bill was extremely slight. The Select Committee made concessions on each of these three points. The definition of the word 'lodger,' as now proposed, can hardly give rise to any reasonable objection. The maximum fee under section 8 has been fixed at Re. 1, in deference to the opinion expressed by certain associations, and as suggested by the Indian Association and the Bihar Landholders' Association. I may mention for the information of the Council that this maximum of one rupee is already in force in all places, other than Puri, to which the Act has been extended. The rate was introduced by Bengal Act II of 1879. There is no reason whatever why Puri should be treated differently in this respect from other places of pilgrimage. All that has been done, therefore, is to prescribe an uniform rate. In regard to the objection taken to the proposed amendment of section 10, the Select Committee added an important proviso. This proviso has been slightly modified in Council to-day, and the section as it now stands ought, I think, to meet with the approval of all concerned. I move that the Bill as now settled in Council, be passed."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I am thankful to the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham and to the Select Committee that some of the proposals, in their entirety, and some partially, have been adopted. But I must confess a sense of disappointment that the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham could not see his way to accept two amendments of a very material character, and particularly the one which related to the amendment of the word 'day'; and the other amendment is that relating to the payment by pilgrims of money to Pandas purely, for their services. If the Hon'ble Member could have accepted these two amendments, I could assure him that this Bill would have been accepted by the people of Orissa without any serious complaints. But these are the two principal provisions of the Bill, which will make the people of Orissa feel that a Legislature has sought to lay down distinction upon the easy influx of pilgrims to that holy city: in other words, has sought to interfere to some extent in the performance of religious rites."

The Hon'ble BABU JOGENDRA CHANDRA GHOSE said:—"All that I must say is, that the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham has not recognized I think in those objections the services of the non-official Members in bringing the amendments to his notice."

The Hon'ble BABU RADHA CHARAN PAL said:—"I think we must say, although we differ from the Government in one or two points, that this Bill has been conceived in the best interests of the people. The Hon'ble Babu Kali Pada Ghosh has raised two points on which he thought opinion of the people had not been taken into due consideration. Sir, I think, having regard to the expression of the opinion of bodies like the British Indian Association and the Orissa Association, that the clause with regard to section 7 of the Act, the clause might have been modified and the word 'day' might have been omitted."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said:—"I am sure, Sir, that the Hon'ble Babu Jogendra Chandra Ghose is under a very grave misapprehension if he thinks I do not recognize very fully the kind assistance which the non-official Members of the Select Committee gave me in considering the provisions of this Bill; and I am very thankful not only to them, but also to the official Members of the Select Committee who assisted. I move, Sir, that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

IV. Education and Maintenance.—(1) The nature of the education imparted to the girls on the foundation is generally that prescribed for primary and middle schools for Europeans. In exceptional cases a higher education is given. Parents and guardians are generally given the choice of any school for the education of their children or wards, provided that such a school has been approved by Government as suitable. A sum of Rs. 21-8, or Rs. 16 a month, is paid for the education and maintenance of each foundationer in a boarding school or an orphanage, as the case may be. The question of revising the rates of fees in view of the dearness of provisions is now engaging the attention of the Governors. A sum of Rs. 40 or of Rs. 25 is also allowed for each foundationer for an outfit on joining a boarding school or an orphanage, as the case may be. Under the rules a girl is not ordinarily allowed to remain on the fund after she has attained the age of 17 years, when an outfit grant of Rs. 50 is given to enable her to make a start in life. If, however, a girl elects to take up teaching as a profession, she can be granted an extension under the rules. Short extensions, not exceeding a few months, are also generally allowed to enable foundationers to appear at the examinations prescribed under the Code of Regulations for European Schools or the Cambridge Local Examinations. Four such extensions were granted during the year.

(2) The average monthly cost of the education and maintenance of each girl on the fund amounted to Rs. 19-5-3, as against Rs. 18-12-1 in the preceding year.

(3) The total amount paid under the different heads of expenditure was as shown below:—

V. Inspection.—The Revd. Titus Lowe was appointed Visiting-Governor for the first half, and the Revd. Father A. Van de Mergel, S.J., for the second half of the year. The Revd. Titus Lowe stated in his report that all the institutions where Bruce children are placed are well conducted and all advantages are given the children, and that the health of the entire number has been exceptionally good. The Revd. Father Van de Mergel stated that everything seemed to be in a very satisfactory state, and that there was a marked improvement as regards food and clothing in the institutions of the lower grade, especially in the Free School.

VI. Meetings of the Governors.—Four meetings were held during the year, and among the various resolutions passed the following may be noted:—

> That bills submitted by the Secretaries of the various institutions for the education and maintenance allowances should be accompanied by a list showing the names of the foundationers, and a certificate to the effect that they were all present during the month for which the allowances are claimed.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundsen's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

EDWARD R. & I.

WHEREAS We deem it expedient to revise the rules for the promotion and precedence of Our Indian Medical Service:

OUR WILL AND PLEASURE is that Our Warrants of 28th November 1903 and 28th June 1905 be cancelled, and that from and after this date the following rules shall be established, and that by these rules Our Viceroy and Governor-General in Council shall be governed :—

1. The substantive ranks of Medical Officers in Our Indian Military Forces shall be as follows :—

Surgeon-General (ranking as Major-General).
Colonel.
Lieutenant-Colonel.
Major.
Captain.
Lieutenant.

The Director-General of Our Indian Medical Service shall hold the substantive rank of Surgeon-General, but may rank as Lieutenant-General when approved by Our Secretary of State for India in Council.

2. Except as otherwise herein provided, a Lieutenant shall be promoted to the rank of Captain on completing three years' full-pay service if he has previously qualified in such manner as may be prescribed by Our Secretary of State for India in Council. An officer who has not so qualified may be provisionally promoted, if, in the opinion of Our Secretary of State for India in Council, he has not had a reasonable opportunity of qualifying. Such provisional promotion may be cancelled as soon as he has had such an opportunity and has not qualified.

3. Except as otherwise herein provided, a Captain shall be promoted to the rank of Major on completing 12 years' full-pay service, but this period may be reduced by six months in the case of an officer who produces satisfactory evidence of progress in any branch of knowledge which is likely to increase his efficiency.

4. Except as otherwise herein provided, a Major shall be promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel on completing eight years' full-pay service in the rank of Major.

5. Time on half-pay, not exceeding one year, shall be allowed to reckon as service for promotion under Articles 2, 3 and 4, where removal to half-pay has been the consequence of medical unfitness caused by duty, military or civil.

6. A Captain, after at least six years' service, a Major, or a Lieutenant-Colonel, may be promoted to the next higher rank by brevet for distinguished service in the field or for distinguished service of an exceptional nature other than in the field.

7. A certain number of Lieutenant-Colonels may be specially selected for increased pay for ability and merit.

8. Promotion from the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel with increased pay to that of Colonel, and from the rank of Colonel to that of Surgeon-General, shall be given by selection for ability and merit, and the grounds of such selection shall be stated to Us in writing, and recorded in the Office of Our Secretary of State for India.

9. A Lieutenant-Colonel may also be promoted to the rank of Colonel, and a Colonel to the rank of Surgeon-General, for distinguished service in the field. In any such case the Officer shall remain supernumerary in the higher rank until the vacancy to which, in the ordinary course, he would have been promoted, or in the case of an Officer promoted to the rank of Colonel, until selection for the rank of Surgeon-General.

10. On appointment as Our Honorary Physician or Surgeon under Article 13, an Officer below the rank of Colonel shall be promoted to that rank, remaining supernumerary of his rank until he would have attained the rank of Colonel in ordinary course. An Officer below the rank of Colonel, who may be appointed as Our Honorary Physician or Surgeon after retirement from the Service, shall be granted the honorary rank of Colonel.

11. Exchanges between Officers of Our Indian Medical Service and Officers of Our Royal Army Medical Corps below the rank of Major, and transfers of such Officers from either of the above Services to the other, shall be permitted subject to the approval of Our Secretary of State for War and of Our Secretary of State for India in Council, and on the following conditions:—

1. That the Officers shall have less than seven years' service.
2. That the senior Officer exchanging shall take the place of the junior on the Departmental List, and shall not be promoted under article 3, 4, or 5 until the Officer next above him shall have been so promoted.
3. That the junior Officer exchanging shall be placed for seniority next below all Medical Officers whose commissions have the same date as his own.
4. That the Officer transferred shall be placed for seniority below all Medical Officers holding the same rank at the time of his transfer, and shall not be promoted under article 3, 4, or 5 until the Officer next above him shall have been promoted.

12. With a view to maintain the efficiency of the Service, Medical Officers shall be placed on the Retired List when they attain the following ages:—

Rank	Age
Director-General	62
Surgeon-General	60
Colonel	60
Lieutenant-Colonel	55
Major	55

But a Lieutenant-Colonel who has been specially selected for increased pay, if he attains the age of 55 years before he becomes entitled to the pension for 30 years' service, may be retained until completion of such service; and in any special case where it would appear to be for the good of Our Service that an Officer should be continued in employment, he may be so continued, subject in each case to the sanction of Our Secretary of State for India in Council.

13. An Officer appointed on and after the 11th September 1890, who may retire on pension before completing 30 years' service, shall be liable, till he completes 55 years of age, to be recalled to duty in case of emergency.

14. Six of the most meritorious Medical Officers of the Service shall be named Our Honorary Physicians, and six Our Honorary Surgeons.

PROPOSED NOTIFICATION.

WHEREAS an application for the purpose of constructing an Electric Tramway on the Diamond Harbour Road within the South Suburban Municipality has been made to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal by the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited (hereinafter called "the promoters"), with the consent of the Commissioners of the South Suburban Municipality given at a special meeting convened for the purpose agreeably to the provisions of section 3 of the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883 (Bengal Act III of 1883), and whereas, in accordance with section 4 of the said Act, the plans and drawings of the proposed works, together with an estimate and the provisional agreement hereinafter published, made between the promoters and the local authority, have been submitted to the Government, and whereas no objections to such application have been filed within the time appointed, and whereas it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor, after due enquiry, to be expedient and proper to grant the said application, the Lieutenant-Governor, under the authority vested in him by section 5 of the said Act, is pleased to make the following order:—

PROPOSED ORDER.

1. This order may be cited as the Calcutta Tramways (Behala) Order, 1908.

2. The Tramway authorised under this order shall be subject to all the provisions of the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883, and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited (who and their assigns are hereinafter called "the promoters"), shall in addition to the powers and authorities herein contained have all the powers and authorities conferred by the said Act.

3. The promoters are hereby authorised to construct, maintain and work, subject to the provisions of this order, and in accordance with the plans and drawings deposited with the Government of Bengal, an Electric Tramway with double lines on the following route, viz:—

Along and upon the Diamond Harbour Road from the Calcutta Municipal Boundary at Shahpore Road to the village of Behala.

4. The promoters have entered into the agreement with the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of the South Suburban Municipality, which is set out in the Schedule hereto, and which is hereby confirmed. The Commissioners of the South Suburban Municipality shall have power to purchase the said tramway with the plant, machinery, land buildings, rolling stock, stores and all other things used in connection therewith belonging to the promoters within the South Suburban Municipality in the manner and upon and subject to the terms and conditions specified in clauses 4 and 5 of the said agreement.

5. The roadway along that portion of the said route which traverses the Behala Bazar shall be widened by the Government of Bengal up to a total width of 35 feet 7 inches, and such land as it may be necessary to take up for that purpose shall be acquired by the Government of Bengal under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. The expenses of and incidental to such widening and acquisition as aforesaid shall be borne and paid, as to Rs. 1,000 part thereof, by the Commissioners of the South Suburban Municipality, as to one moiety of the balance thereof by the promoters and as to the remainder thereof by the Government of Bengal.

6. The said Tramway shall be completed and opened for traffic within two years from the date of this order; or, if the construction thereof shall be necessarily delayed beyond that period in consequence of the non-completion of the widening of the roadway as hereinbefore mentioned, then within such further time as shall be commensurate with the period of such delay.

7. The said tramway shall be constructed on a gauge of 4 feet 8½ inches. The rails shall be of the grooved girder type, weighing not less than 101 pounds per yard, and in general shall be laid on a concrete stringer foundation and held to gauge by means of tie bars spaced according to the standard practice. The promoters may from time to time, with the approval of the Government of Bengal, adopt any such improvements in the rails, in the situation of the same and in the substructure upon which they rest as they may deem necessary for the proper working of the said tramway.

8. The promoters shall at their own cost metal the roadway between the rails and to the width of 18 inches beyond the outermost rail on each side and in addition thereto, metal a width of not less than 6 feet of the roadway in contiguity to and throughout the whole length of the track.

9. The promoters may stack excavated material, road metal and other materials necessary for the construction or maintenance of the tramway or the roadway on the side of the road, but the same shall be stacked in such manner as to obviate as far as possible any impediment of the traffic on the road; and the promoters may use when necessary, for the repair of the roadway, the materials excavated in the course of construction or maintenance of the said tramway. The promoters may, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, cut down or lop any tree standing on or alongside the road which is likely to interfere with the operation of the cars or which may be a source of danger to the tramway traffic.

10. Subject to the approval of the Government of Bengal, the promoters may from time to time make all such crossings, passing places, sidings, junctions or other works in addition to those particularly specified in or authorised by this order as may be necessary or convenient for the efficient working of the said tramway or for providing access to any building or works of the promoters.

11. The motive power of the said tramway shall be electrical energy conveyed by means of underground cables and overhead trolley wires, suspended either by bracket arms attached to steel poles, or by galvanised steel span wires strung between poles, as the case may require. The rails shall be used as return conductors, and for this purpose shall be adequately provided at the joints with copper bonds to ensure a complete circuit.

12. The promoters shall at all times, to the satisfaction of the Government of Bengal, maintain and keep in good repair and in such condition as not to afford danger to the ordinary traffic the rails and the substructure of the tramway and about 20 feet of roadway, that is up to 18 inches beyond the rails on each side of the road.

13. This order is made on the condition that the promoters do and shall in the construction, maintenance and working of the said tramway at all times conform to and govern themselves by all and every the rules for the time being in force, regulating the generation and use of electrical energy, under the Indian Electricity Act, 1903, or any statutory modification or re-enactment thereof for the time being in force, the provisions of which rules shall be deemed to be incorporated in and to form part of this order in like manner as if the same had been expressly recapitulated herein. The said tramway shall not be opened for public traffic until the same shall have been inspected by the Electrical Inspector to the Government of Bengal and certified by him to be fit for such traffic.

14. The rate of fare to be charged for each passenger upon the said tramway shall not exceed 2 annas per mile in the case of 1st class passengers, and 1 anna per mile in the case of 2nd class passengers.

BIHAR SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING.

PROSPECTUS FOR ADMISSION.

THIS school is under the management of the Principal of the Patna College, assisted by a Board of Visitors. It owes its origin to a fund raised by residents of Bihar to commemorate the visit to India of His Majesty the King when Prince of Wales. The object of the fund was the promotion of technical instruction in Bihar. The school was formally opened on the 11th July 1896 by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. The number of students admitted to the first-year class of each year will be limited to 60. Preference is to be given to Biharis. Failing, however, a sufficient number of Bihari applicants, students who are natives of other provinces may be admitted, preference being given to Bengalis domiciled in Bihar over non-domiciled Bengalis or other applicants.

As far as accommodation is available, students who have passed the final "B" class examination will be admitted to the second-year class, provided they are not over 21 years of age, preference again being given to Biharis and domiciled Bengalis.

3. The school, as at present constituted, is chiefly engaged in training students for appointment as Sub-Overseers and Overseers.

The curriculum includes—

(1) A sound study of elementary mathematics.
(2) Careful training in survey work.
(3) Drawing, both free-hand and engineering.
(4) Elements of road-making and the construction of simple buildings.
(5) Workshop practice, with hand tools and machinery.

Students are prepared for the Overseer certificate of the Public Works Department. The necessary additional buildings have now been completed; and Government has agreed to reserve one appointment annually for a qualified student from this school, who must be a Bihari by race.

4. The next session will commence on 6th July 1908.

5. In the Overseer Department, which corresponds to the Apprentice Department of the Sibpur College, the monthly fee is Re. 1-8, except for non-domiciled Bengalis, who shall pay Rs. 3. All scholarship-holders, however, receive free tuition. Government scholarships of the value of Rs. 7 a month, tenable one year, are awarded each year on the results of the annual examinations, eight being tenable in the second-year class, six in the third-year class, and six in the fourth-year class. Of the scholarships attached to the school, 75 per cent. are to be reserved for those students who are Biharis by race. The teaching is in English.

6. Candidates for admission to the Overseer Department must be under 20 years of age, and must have passed one of the tests mentioned below :—

(1) The Entrance Examination of an Indian University in English and mathematics.
(2) Standard VII of the Code of European schools.
(3) Students who have not passed either of these tests, and who are otherwise eligible, will have to pass an examination in English and Mathematics (of about the same standard as the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University in these subjects) to be held by the Principal of the Patna College on the 7th and 8th July, respectively (from 6 A.M. to 9 A.M each day).

7. Candidates for admission must apply to the Principal not later than the 30th June. Their application must give the following particulars :—

(a) Name, address, and occupation of father or guardian.
(b) Race and religion. (A domiciled Bengali must produce evidence to show that his father with his family has taken up his residence in Bihar.)
(c) A certificate of good moral character from last head-master.
(d) An attested certificate of age (showing that he is under 20 years of age).
(e) A medical certificate showing him to be fit for employment in the public service.
(f) A certificate of having passed either of the first two of the three tests mentioned above, failing which the application will be kept pending till a certificate showing that the candidate has passed the third test is given to the Principal.

8. There is also an Amin class, admission to which may be obtained by students who do not know English. In the Amin class the course of study is for one year, and the monthly fee is Re. 1. An Amin-student is taught elementary surveying with a corresponding amount of mathematics and of geometrical drawing. He will not be admitted to the workshop. A student in the first-year class of the Overseer Department, who fails to pass the examination for promotion to the second-year class, but who has shown an adequate knowledge of elementary surveying and the other subjects taught in the Amin class may, at his option, leave the school with an Amin certificate.

Candidates for Amin class, who have not passed the Middle English or Middle Vernacular examination, will be examined at the school on the 8th July; candidates failing at this examination will not be admitted.

9. Except in very special cases, a student will not be admitted to the Amin class for the session that commences from 6th July 1908, unless application for admission is made before 30th June 1908.

10. All candidates for admission to the school should present themselves personally at the school on 6th July.

11. There is a hostel in connection with the school. The fees are Re. 1-8 for room and Re. 1 for light. Students make their own mess arrangements. Students joining the Overseer classes must reside in the hostel unless they are residents with parents or with nearly related guardians whose homes are near enough to enable them to attend the school at the required times. The Principal of the College will decide whether a student should reside in the school hostel, or whether the guardian proposed can be accepted as such.
